

12/14/94

Donated by Melvin Lutz
1298

Student/Athletes of the Month see page 6

Gardner-Webb University THE PILOT

NCATE visits GWU
see page 5

No. 4 December 14, 1994

The Official Campus Newspaper

Boiling Springs, NC

SGA investigation raises many questions and concerns

by Jason Farr
editor

Due to recent allegations, the Student Government Association has voted to begin the impeachment procedures of their current President, John Miller.

The motion was made to begin the procedure by Crystal Higgins. She asserts that Miller has not lived up to all the expectations of the Office of the President.

For instance, members of the Senate allege that one of the first duties of the new President is to appoint both a judicial council and an elections committee and that this was not done by Miller. They also claim that Miller could not give no reasonable explanation for this omission.

An investigating committee has been formed to look into these allegations. This committee,

"I have no desire to run for another office while here at Gardner-Webb University. You can quote me on that."

Jeff Price

appointed by Kevin Bess, SGA Vice-President, is made up of Heather Barnes, Amanda Williams, and Darlene Broadhurst.

Because of this investigation, there have also been many accusations against former Vice-President and President Pro-Temp of the Senate, Jeff Price. These accusations against Price state that he supports Miller's impeachment because he wants the position he lost to Miller in last spring's election.

"This is not true," says Price. "I have no desire to run for another office while here at Gardner-Webb University. You can quote me on that."

In any case, should Miller be impeached, the current Vice-President, Kevin Bess, would assume the position of President and a new election would be held to determine a new Vice-President.

Since the motion to impeach Miller was made, both Price and Bess have seen an improvement in Miller's job performance.

"John has picked up his pace a lot," says Price. "I have a lot more respect for him now than ever before."

"Also, just because the motion was made to begin the impeachment procedure, it doesn't mean that Miller will automatically be impeached," says Price. "Once the investigation committee reports on its findings, it will be up to them to call for a vote of impeachment. It will then take a 2/3 majority vote."

Price encourages all students to voice their opinions to any member of the Senate.

Week of final exams brings out the best in everyone One writer's quest to find the weirdest and funniest habits

by Michelle Hill
staff writer

"I actually study," said Destinee Jones when asked what kind of weird things she does to prepare for exam week. "But seriously, I do notice that I call home more that week than any other week, because I guess I'm under a lot of stress."

"We get together and have a spades marathon down on the ground floor of Lutz," said Jason Farr. "It's a great way of relieving stress the night before finals, and we welcome any challenges."

Students do some pretty unusual things anyway, but the week of finals can make them just a little weirder. Jenny Prince said, "I eat slices of raw cookie dough." Apparently something good on the tummy can make studying go a bit easier.

"I just drop studying--everything--and get a bunch of friends together and we all go to the Waffle House around 2 a.m.," said Heidi Gardner. Talk about weird. That's crazy--it's almost suicide. Why would you subject yourself to indigestion? I don't think that would be a valid excuse for not taking the exam.

When asked what he does, E.J. Dolce replied, "I sleep." That makes sense. I guess. Shouldn't you be STUDYING E.J.?

"Well, I don't do anything weird while I'm studying, but I do take my Winnie the Pooh bear to class for finals," said Petra Orloff. What's her reason? "I just like having a friend with me. That's all."

And that's all for this writer and her search for the weird and unexpected study habits of students during exam weeks.

Good Luck to everyone on your finals.

TIME SCHEDULE	MON.	TUES.	WED.	THURS.	FRI.	SAT.
8:00-11:00	TTH 11:50- 1:05	MWF 10:00- 10:50	MWF 1:00- 1:50	MWF 11:00- 11:50	TTH 2:40- 3:55	MWF 9:00- 9:50
1:00-4:00	TTH 10:25- 11:40	MWF 8:00- 8:50	TTH 8:00- 9:15	TTH 1:15- 2:30	MWF 12:00- 12:50	MW 2:00- 3:15

Inside Stuff

Forum.....page 2
Faculty Spotlight.....page 3

New & Improved Nutty.....page 3
Astronomy News.....page 4

Sports.....page 6
Have a Happy Holiday Season!