

Dear Eddie...

I have read your column this semester and have decided it's my turn to speak. I'm tired of all these babies, whining about your response to "Concerned in Spangler." As a recent female guest to this dorm (Spangler), I was treated less than respectable. I'm not sure these guys know how to act in the presence of a member of the opposite sex. I shiver to imagine this dorm with 24-hour visitation. Personally, I enjoy reading your column. You speak the truth. I look forward to your next column. Keep up the good work.

Dear Fan in Stroup,

One quick thing...I never meant to slam the entire group of guys living in Spangler--I happen to have some friends over there (well, they pay me to say I'm their friend). Anyway, thanks for the letter--you're wise beyond your years.

Eddie

Top Ten Exam Week Activities

To break up the monotony that is exam week at GWU, here is a list of Top Ten exam week activities:

10. Playing every video game you can find
9. Making 3 a.m. Pantry runs
8. Getting thrown out of Wal-Mart for playing with every toy in the toy department
7. Playing your entire CD collection
6. Renting at least 5 of your favorite movies
5. Having water balloon target practice out your dorm window
4. Defrosting the fridge with your hairdryer
3. Going on "study" dates
2. Making prank phone calls
1. Running across the quad naked while screaming "Two more laps and I'll pass P. E.!"

Good Luck and Happy Studying! HA.

What was hot... and what was not

The Pilot staff worked diligently to develop a list of what was hot and what was not Fall semester '96 at Gardner-Webb...here's what we came up with:

What's not...that $40 parking permit (which, by the way, RAs didn't have to pay for).

What's hot... students and professors got e-mail and more internet access

What's hot...Top Ten Captions for the cover of the The Web:

10. Hey, I bet I could ring the bells in the bell tower from here!
9. Where's the beanstalk?
8. If only we had this height on our basketball team....we could go to the NBA and achieve our capital campaign goal...
7. Won't you be my neighbor?
6. Honey, I shrunk the campus!
5. No, no, not the enlargement button.....
4. Hey, look everybody...we have PhotoShop!
3. The quad is my living room...Lake Hollifield is my bathtub.
2. Not only am I the President, I'm also a giant.
1. We also have a wide variety of aluminum shingles for mobile homes as well.

What's not... BTI's annoying computer secretary who tells you "you have no new messages"

What's hot... new acquisitions in nearly every department-- students, faculty, programs, equipment and more emphasis on scholarship

...and the hottest thing on campus Fall '96 was--you guessed it...The Pilot!
