

Walking in Wonder

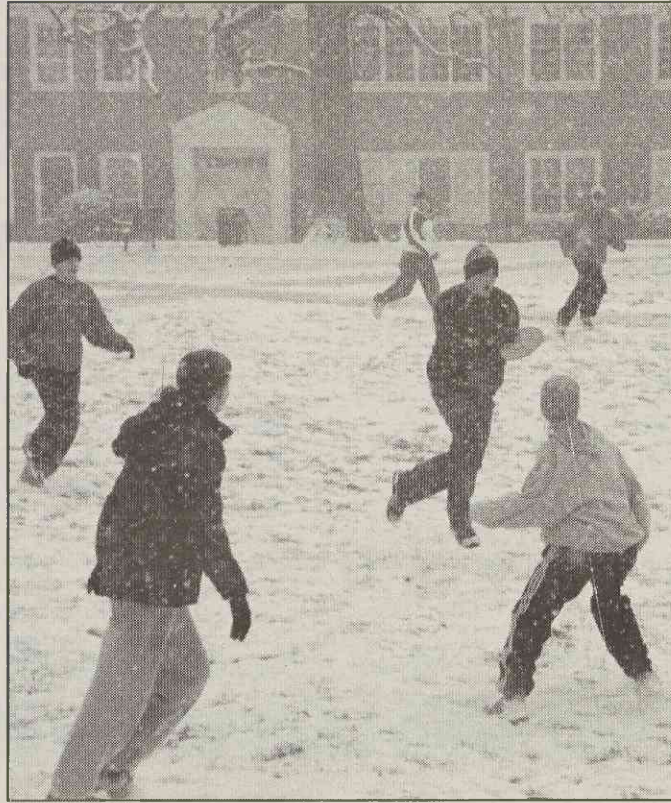

photo by Jessica Webb

Die-hard frisbee players didn't let snow interfere with the daily game on the quad.

GWU students found a variety of ways to enjoy the snow. Above, Chris Shively sleds down the hill near the carrillon by the lake as friends look on. Using make-shift sleds from cardboard boxes and cafeteria trays, students flew down the hills around Lake Hollifield and the football stadium.

(left) Jacqueline Bowen designed a sled from a cookie sheet.

(right) Cynthia Elliott joined with friends to build a snowman, complete with scarf and hat, in front of the apartments..

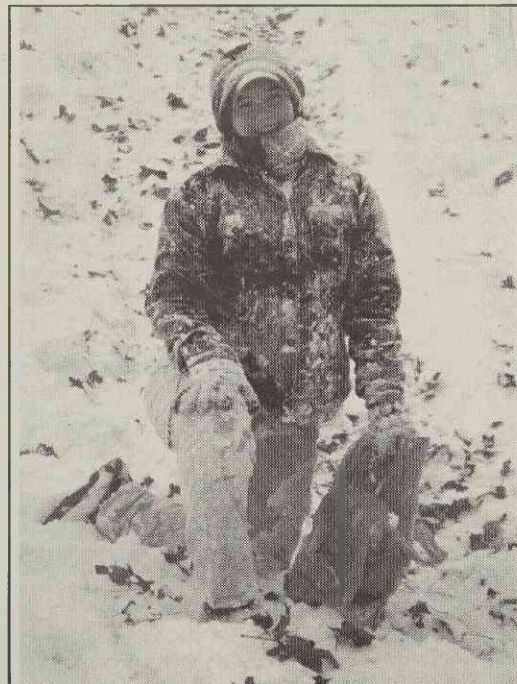

photo by Carla Catoe