BASEBALL, from page 19:

"I felt good, especially after the last performance I had," said Weatherby, "We're pretty strong, we didn't play to the best of our ability and we still won, so all we have to do is keep up with our good pitching and keep swinging the bat."

Another key point that will allow the Seahawks to continue to win, and possibly stay on top, is to learn how to combine the mental and physical aspects of their games.

"We just need to induce runs when we have guys on base and there are no outs, we have to follow through and focus," infielder David Ange said.

"Good teams find a way to win. We have made mental mistakes in at least three of the last five games we've won. Those games should have been easy for us to win, but because of our mistakes they have been complete battles. We have to do a lot of work to make up for it, and we work hard, we're giving 110 percent," outfielder Justin Wishon said.

And hard work seems to have been successful thus far for the UNCW baseball team. The rest of the season will demand that same 110 percent from the team. They meet George Mason on April 21 for their next home game against George Mason University.
