beahawk

"Excellence Through Truth and Dedication" Since 1948

MEGAN O'BRIEN - Editor-In-Chief HEATHER GRADY - News Editor

KATIE BLANCHARD -Special Sections Editor WES MELVILLE - Sports Editor BILL DINOME - Student Media Coordinator

'What do we want?" We want a voice 'Why do we want it?" We want a choice 'When do we want it?" Now.

pus that sent a message about our needs, lem stems from the NC legislature's de-it doesn't and our university leaders again-

Editorial Viewpoint

Student fee increase understandable, but unfairly decided is a lot of money . . . especially when price of a college education under the guise of student fees. It's enough to

The Board of Trustees voted last and Chancellor James Leutze hints at an increase in parking fees as well. The money is set to go-to several Hall and the dorms. These may be to come up with reasons why the fee increase is excessive-the main one being that most students simply can't

The protest group that met outside Madeline Suite last Thursday was not. however, arguing about the hike in stu-

Most students will agree that $316 dent fees, but rather how they were passed. The group, led by SGA president Adrien Lopez and Senior Class President Les Stewart argued a good point. The students had virtually no voice in the amount of money they'd be dishing up next year or in how it

> The students are clearly left out of the decision process where money is deciding body anyway. Shouldn't we tag gets or even how that money is > Leutze's appearance at the protest with a sign reading "I oppose the tuition increase too, But . . ." was cutewell-taken, but that wasn't really the point we were trying to make. It's more along the lines of one of the protester's chants: "we want a say in what we pay."

Why is it that UNCW police are that borrd? Tuition increases (and) parking fines totaling hundreds of thousands of dollars a year go to pay the UNCW officer has nothing better to do than to cars waiting for a space before class? I know this may seem petty, but it's just one to ticket a student for simply space? How else are you supfull? Drive around repeatedly? Cause more of a hazard than sitting still patiently? UNCW wonders why our retention rate is not that of other schools. I think it's time to reevaluate the little things, and think WHY the university exists in the first place.

