from TIMELINE page 1

- Dixon strikes Faulkner on the back of the head with a black-jack. Faulkner is strangled, raped, and bound to Dixon's bed. Dixon sleeps in his ex-roommate's bed.
- May 5, 10:00AM Dixon awakes to find Faulkner dead.
- Dixon joins friends for breakfast. He tells them that Faulkner could not join them, as she was "still packing."
- Early afternoon – Dixon calls a friend and calls Faulkner's father, confessing to the crime.
- Dixon is arrested at Cornerstone Hall. He meets authorities in front of the dormitory, saying, "I'm the one you are looking for."
- Faulkner's body is found in Dixon's Cornerstone Hall room.
- May 10 – Dixon is indicted. He is charged with first-degree murder, kidnapping, sexual assault and rape.
- June 22 – A judge tells Dixon that, if convicted, he will face the death penalty.
- December 7 – Dixon escapes from deputies at Polk Youth Institute and throws himself down three flights of stairs in an apparent suicide attempt. He is sent to Duke Medical Center in critical condition.
- December 9 – Dixon is disconnected from life support, ending his life.

Memorial Ceremony

A memorial ceremony will be held at the Shinn Plaza beside the Honors Resident Hall for Scott Robertson and Victor Collins. Benches at the plaza will be dedicated to the memory of the students on January 11 at 4:30PM. The event is open to whoever wishes to attend.
