Grab, Grab, Grab! Scramble System Explained

A number of students have expressed concern over the system of operation used in the college cafeteria. The "scramble system," as the system is more or less fondly known, has been proved to be the best combination of speed and efficiency for use in a cafeteria system.

Mr. David Castro, manager of the cafeteria pointed out that some of the few conflicts which have arisen in the cafeteria, especially the confusion of the "traffic jams," could be measurably reduced if the students would make use of several basic principles of procedure. He further suggests that if the students would simply regulate themselves as they enter the cafeteria, the vast amount of confusion could easily be relieved. In a "test day" the mid-day meal was served to 619 students in 35 minutes when the students were regulated with groups of about 25 students entering the cafeteria at short intervals. At the dinner meal the same number of students were served in one hour, 10 minutes when the regulation system was not utilized. All students are urged to take note of the number of people in the cafeteria area when they reach the turnstiles and regulate themselves accordingly.

Students are further asked to refrain from sharing meal tickets with other students or visitors who are not residents and who do not possess tickets of their own.

Another request put forward by Castro is that students remember their obligation to inform him of the number of guests they plan to entertain in the dining hall on any week end.

For the benefit of all students and visitors, here again are the daily times of operation of the cafeteria:

Mornings — 7 to 8 a.m.
Lunch — 11:20 a.m. to 1:15 p.m.

Dinner — 5:15 to 6:30 p.m.

It is hoped that all students will take note of these times and that all will cooperate in the effort to improve service in the college cafeteria.

Club Organization Outlined

Approval of student organizations at St. Andrews Presbyterian College will be handled through the Student Life Committee, a joint coordinating body made up of students and faculty appointed by the President of the College. The mem-

Publication Progress

Most of us are not familiar with or even conscious of the numerous committees which have been working behind the scenes here on campus. One such committee is the Publications Board. This group is responsible for the policy of and seeing to the publication of the school newspaper and annual. The Publications Board is in turn responsible to the Administrative Staff.

The members of the Board are: Student Association member Annie Duke; Mike Pegram, chairman of the Board; Honor Council Chairman (not yet elected); and Carol Brooks, Recording Secretary. College Staff members are: Mr. Sommer, Director of Development; Mr. Vaughn, Business Manager; Dr. Hester, Dean of Students; and Mr. Johnson, who has been appointed to represent Dr. Gwynn, Dean of the Faculty. Ex-officio members are: Magie Fishburne, Editor of the Annual; Elaine Ward, Editor of the Newspaper; James Beardsley, Business Manager of the Annual; Vivian Dutton, Business Manager of the Newspaper; and the Staff Sponsors: Dr. Powell, Mr. Veal, sponsor of the newspaper; Dr. Bullock, sponsor of the annual.

The Board has met several times, and has decided upon policies and procedures concerning the annual and the newspaper. The newspaper staff, which published its first issue of the paper at the end of orientation week, plans to publish the newspaper twice a month. The annual staff has begun work on the annual, a job requiring much effort and planning. All students at St. Andrews are subscribers to the annual and newspaper.

Enrollment Exceeds Expectations

The Office of the Registrar has officially announced that the total enrollment for the fall semester has passed the number expected by college officials. Eight hundred and eight full time equivalent students have enrolled for this, the first semester of actual functioning of the college. This number can be broken down into the enrollment of each individual class. The largest of these classes is the freshmen, totaling 279.

This figure includes those groups called Advanced Freshmen — people who have attended another college and are not participating in the Christianity and Culture Program but are academically classified as freshmen. Next largest is the sophomore class with two hundred and forty-four members. The junior class has one hundred and seventy-two on its roll. The smallest of the four classes is the senior class numbering only seventy-seven. There are ten students classified as Special students because they are not carrying a full load of classes. Seventy people are participating in the adult night classes. Together we form the first student body of St. Andrews.

Annual Pictures Being Taken

Portraits of each individual student are now being made for the college yearbook. This picture-taking will continue throughout the remainder of this week and next week, October 9-20. If you failed to sign-up for an appointment check by the Student Center bulletin board and set the time. A reminder to those who have made their appointments: be certain to be on time because the schedule is closely worked out. The cost will be $1.25 per person for four poses. The correct attire for the girls will be provided, and the boys are to wear dark suits. Remember the dates, October 9-20, and remember to make your appointment.

C. A. News

The day of October 24-26, are set aside on the college calendar for the observance of services for Christian Growth. The Rev. Lane G. Adams, of Key Biscayne, Florida, will be the chapel speaker on those days, and will meet students informally at times to be arranged.

A hymn sing will be held every Sunday night at 10:00 (Continued on Page 4)

Annual To Be Named —

"The Lamp and Shield"

The winner of the contest to name the annual is Rita Almond. Rita won with her entry of "The Lamp and Shield." Rita interprets her entry in this way: the lamp represents a light toward higher education and the shield signifies Christian citizenship and dedication.

Rita's only remark was, "I'm embarrassed". Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Almond of Ridgecrest and Stanfield, North Carolina.

An interesting note is the contrast between the number of people that were in Rita's graduating class and the number of students in the freshman class. Her graduating class consisted of eleven students and the freshman class numbers well over two hundred.

Miss Almond likes both to listen to and play classical music. She also enjoys reading
