

Beautiful Campus By 2012?

By JOYCE HELLEKSON

From cotton fields to grassy carpets and finally the landscape is attaining some semblance of a college campus. After looking something like a home for gophers or giant ants for weeks, the long-awaited trees have been arriving by the truck load to fill those hundreds of holes and beautify the scenery.

Mr. Herbert Hanna has been in charge of carrying out the landscape plans by architect Lewis Clarke. Under the direction of our college gardener Dexter Garner, tree crews have already planted over a thousand of the dogwood species, particularly along the someday to be famous Dogwood Mile so conspicuously advertised at the northern campus entrance. At the moment, all along the causeway, walks, and drives there has sprung up a variety of leafless but promising clumps of birch, beech, crepe myrtle, and numerous other trees. Magnolias have appeared in a duet in the circle facing the Student Center. The grove of flowering cherry trees between the Conservatory and the Academic Building has been the blooming, blossoming, and scene of activity during this last week and soon St. Andrews is to take on a Washington hue perhaps? Such shrubbery as Azalea and honeysuckle has been set out on the southern side of the lake, accenting the natural beauty of that wooded area.

Although the scene looks little more than bare now, there are great expectations of a "beautiful" campus in the spring of 2012 perhaps?

Attention! Who Will Be Miss America?

St. Andrews girls are especially invited by the Laurinburg Jaycees to participate in the colorful Miss Laurinburg pageant to be held on Saturday, April 28, 1962. Affiliated with the national Miss America Pageant, the contest features talent, bathing suit, and evening dress competition. All girls interested, contact Miss Brown, Student Center, or the Lamp and Shield office.

SAC Honor Society Tapped

Six seniors and two juniors were inducted into the St. Andrews Honor Society in chapel services Thursday, March 29.

The list of students taken into the Honor Society included Mrs. Geneva Farmer of Raeford, Miss Elizabeth Ann Jones of Laurinburg, Mrs. Nancy Laney McPhaul of Red Springs, Miss Sylvia Lucille McRae of Maxton, Mr. Walter McIver Flournoy of Elizabethtown, and Miss Margaret Ann Martin of Pineville, Ky. All are seniors.

Also tapped for Honor Society membership were Miss Elizabeth Dianne Kearns of Myrtle Beach, S. C., and Miss Martha Dale Smith of Galax, Va., members of the junior class.

The induction of the students into the Honor Society highlighted the Thursday chapel program. Speaker for the occasion was Dr. Clyde Milner, president of Guilford College.

Membership in the St. Andrews Honor Society is limited to not more than 10 per cent of the Junior class and not more than 15 per cent of the Senior class. To be eligible for membership, students who have completed five semesters of college work must have an average of 93.5 or better, and students who have completed six, seven, or eight semesters must have an average of 92.5 or better.

Campus Comedy

The football coach of a local high school called our newspaper office to give me an exclusive story concerning a big-league college that was offering his quarterback an unusual athletic scholarship. The star player would receive the usual tuition, room and board. In addition, he would be given $111 a month spending money and a month's vacation with pay. Also included in the deal were off-season plane trips about the country. Upon graduation he would be sent to Europe with the promise of a lifetime job.

Astounded at the proposal, I asked the coach to identify the school so that we might promptly expose it to the NCAA officials who govern football recruiting. "Well," he answered unable to hold back muffled laughter, "it was the Air Force Academy."

"I'm a bit nervous about being introduced," said Clarence Faust, vice president of the

Student Gov't Convention Revises SAC Constitution

As the student body of St. Andrews progressed through this its first year as an academic community, there were found certain provisions in our constitution and by-laws that did not fit into the community's way of life. It was then decided that a new constitution and handbook or a revised constitution and handbook were needed to meet the needs of the community of students. For some five or six days and nights, a Constitutional Committee met to look at this need.

Pate Lodge, located between Laurel Hill and Hamlet, N. C., has been the scene of the efforts of this Constitutional Committee for two weekends during the first two weeks in March. Members of this committee invited were the members of the Student Council, Honor Council, Senate, Student Life Committee, President of the Freshman Class, and Representatives from each of the freshman dorms. Representing the faculty were members of the faculty executive committee and sponsors of the various student clubs.

The committee was divided into five sub-committees to work on various parts of student government and activities. An Academic committee was set up to study academic matters such as cuts, the grading system, academic probation, etc. The Executive committee studied the constitution as a whole and its relevance to St. Andrews today. The judicial committee considered the Honor Council, Student-Faculty Committee, and the lower courts. A legislative committee studied regulations concerning all students on and off the St. Andrews campus. The last committee was known as the Auxiliary committee and dealt with The Student Christian Association, Intramural Sports Council, and other unassigned material.

The important factor of this committee as a whole was the atmosphere in which students were able to work with faculty on certain basic problems that face the student at St. Andrews. The faculty was able also to sit down with the student and listen to suggestions and criticisms as to what could make St. Andrews a better school in which to study and live. The faculty and students worked as one body with one goal in mind; that being better Student Government through a better student-faculty understanding.

This committee has completed a document that has been presented to the Senate for consideration. There will be a date for all students to look at this new document and express their opinion in an election or vote.

Schedule of Events

- Wednesday, April 11, 1962
- 10:00 a.m. Alumni Meeting, Conservatory
- 12:15 p.m. Alumni Luncheon, Student Center
- 1:30 p.m. Registration of Delegates and Guests to 5:00 p.m. Liberal Arts and Science Building
- 2:00 p.m. Symposium Christianity, Culture, and the Twenty-first Century-Liberal Arts and Science Building
- 8:30 p.m. Concert, National Guard Armory
- Thursday, April 12
- 8:30 a.m. Registration of Delegates and Guests
- 11:00 a.m. Inaugural Ceremonies
- President's Inaugural Address
- 12:30 p.m. Informal Luncheon by Laurinburg Chamber of Commerce.

Honor Society: Martha Dale Smith, Dianne Kearns, Margaret Ann Martin and Elizabeth Ann Jones. Mrs. Geneva Farmer, Mrs. Nancy McPhaul, Sylvia McRae and Walter Flournoy not pictured.

Ford Foundation, at a conference at New York University. "Back in my native Iowa recently a toastmaster recited each step of my academic career, then added, 'A few years ago Dr. Faust took off his academic robes to don a foundation garment'."

Recipe For The Week

- 4 cups Intelligence
- 1½ cups Responsibility
- 2 cups Open-Mindedness
- 1 qt. Understanding
- 2½ t. Attitude
- 1¾ cups Sifted Initiative
- 2 cups Unbeaten Patience
- 1 cup Tactfulness
- 4 cups Ability
- 3 cups Ambition
- Dash of Judgment

Have all ingredients at body temperature, sift Intelligence, Ambition and Understanding together. Mix Cooperation, attitude and Responsibility. Stir Initiative and Judgment thoroughly, beat Patience until smooth. Blend all ingredients well; sprinkle liberally with Cheerfulness, and bake in an oven of Determination. When thoroughly Cool and Absorbed, spread with Common Sense.

Restlessness is discontent — and discontent is the first necessity of progress. —Edison

Taking a new step, uttering a new word, is what people fear most. —Dostoevski

The world hates change, yet it is the only thing that has brought progress. —Charles F. Kettering

(Continued from Page 1)
First SAC President
change minister to Europe in 1939; president for three terms of the Council of Churches in the Greater Pittsburgh Area; former member of the General Board, and the National Council of Churches; former member of the Commission on Ecumenical Mission and Relations of the United Presbyterian Church USA. He attended the organizational meeting of the World Council of Churches in Amsterdam and the World Alliance of Reformed Churches in Geneva.

Subscribe Now at Half Price*

You can read this world-famous daily newspaper for the next six months for $5.50, just half the regular subscription rate.

Get top news coverage. Enjoy special features. Clip for reference work.

Send your order today. Enclose check or money order. Use coupon below.

The Christian Science Monitor P-CN
One Norway St., Boston 15, Mass.

Send your newspaper for the time checked.

6 months $5.50 1 year $11

College Student Faculty Member

Name _____
Address _____
City _____ Zone _____ State _____

*This special offer available ONLY to college students, faculty members, and college libraries.