EDITORIALS

From The Old Editor To The New Editor

It was with a great sense of fright that I undertook this job of editor of the college newspaper, and it is now with a great sense of relief that I write my last editorial. It seems hard to believe there will be no more deadlines, no more layouts to do, and no more copy to proof. It is now time for another person to try his hand at this journalism game.

Congratulations, new editor. The Lance and you are a team now and as such you will play a vital role in our college community for the tenure of your editorship.

During the past year we have watched our paper develop from a hope and plan to the reality that you see today. We have worked to make a newspaper that looks reads like a newspaper -- a real college newspaper. You know because you have been a part of the staff this year.

Being a young college with few traditions to guide us made us more susceptible to unchecked mistakes and faulty judgments, but our efforts have been sincere. Through all our fumbling we did progress. Now you take our efforts and sometimes painfully-gained knowledge on to make The Lance an outstanding newspaper.

It is an honor to be the executive editor, a position of pride that you will feel. However, soon the criticism will come because you will be expected to be above reproach, incapable of making mistakes while all the time you are only human - no different from any other student,

You will be faced with controversial issues - what to do? If you take a stand you will be labeled as prejudiced or even termed as radical. If you don't you will be called a coward, afraid of public opinion. You might even get to the place you are afraid to trust your own opinion.

You will begin to look on your editorial privileges with mixed emotions. Just when you have patted yourself on the back for writing a good editorial, the sting of unexpected reprimand penetrates.

Foresight comes slow and hard and the lack of it is no small thing. You can drop a bomb shell and not even realize it. Too late you realize you shouldn't have printed a particular story. You can't explain it away, and "I'm sorry" just doesn't help. Even though you are called down by your fellow students and administration you must not lose faith. Never resort to the position that all criticism is petty, malicious and of no consequence. You are in a predicament commonly referred to as "learning the hard way. There will always be the pressure of the next deadline and along with it the realization that you have got to get the next paper out on time. Stories have to be written. It doesn't matter that little has happened in the last twoweek period that is not stale news and you are piled high with one-line announcements. It doesn't matter that the sports program is still in its first phase and the game you were depending on was cancelled. It doesn't matter that there are no fraternities or sororities to depend on and there hasn't been a social activity in months. Stories have to be written and the deadline met.

Yours is the final responsibility. When a reporter comes to you with "I can't" you will have to. No tangible rewards, it is just part of your position.

However, knowing all this, you wouldn't trade places with cost at this time is $2060. anyone else on the campus because you are doing something that no other student can quite do in the same way. YOU are the editor of The Lance.

So I end my editorship with a sense of accomplishment but also with a kind of melancholy feeling, a reluctance to give up the paper.

The Lance Editor-in-chief Elaine Ward

Managing Editor

M. Preston Stone

managing Dartor	tri, i i coton biono
EDITORIA	L STAFF
Assistant Editor	Charles Quick
News Editor	C. R. Graham
Feature Editor	Joyce Hellekson
Co-Sports Editor	Lib Baxley, Jim Bunnell
Fine Arts Editor	Tom Farinholt
Art Editor	Harriet Otten
Staff Writers	Bill Campbell, Rebecca Carter
Di	anne McDonald, Bill Patterson
	Sue Shannon, Martha Walsh
	Norwood Maddry

	BUSINESS STAFF
	Business Manager Vivian Dutton
	Circulation Manager Mellie Nelson
	Assistant Circulation Manager Ann Stradley
	Typists Jean Pigott
	Mary Louise Robertson
ı	Bea Smith
	General Staff Jean Anderson
	Audrey Hartsell, Sue Stephenson

Jean Wasson, Bob Zeh Faculty Advisor Mr. Ramon Veal

Opinions expressed in Letters to the Editor and in signed columns appearing on this page are not necessarily those of The Lance. Only the editorials are the official opinion of the newspaper.

The Lance is published every other Tuesday except during holidays and vacation periods. Offices in the Student Union. Subscription $2.00 for the remainder of the year.

SGA Activities

Council Discusses Election.Handbook

The student council, with the officers presiding, met May 4 and 11.

An Orientation Committee was set up to begin work immediately on plans for orientation next year.

Plans and suggestions for the new student handbook were liscussed.

Elections, procedures and requirements for dormitory presdents were discussed. It was moved and passed that juniors and seniors with a "c" average be eligible. Nominations for this are to be Monday night, May 14, with elections the following Monday, May 21. Representatives from the dorms to the student center board will be elected at this time.

Reports from the delegates to the Northstate Student Government Associaion were heard.

It was moved and passed that service awards be printed for officers and leaders at the end of next year.

The publicity Committee will be asked for an evaluation of their semesters work.

Annie Duke Given

Award From NSGA

Ted Williams, on behalf of the council, presented Annie Duke, past president of the SGA, with an award for past work in student government from the Northstate Student Government Association.

A report from the dance committee was heard. It was decided that the profit from the talent show would go to the spring week end. A report from the concert committee was also heard, with a report from the carnival committee. It was decided that the spring week end be named the "Spring Fling." Its estimated school program, under the di- went from St. Andrews to the has been announced and appli- First Presbyterian; Charlotte cations are being accepted. The Sugaw Creek Presbyterian; first term will cover 5 weeks Rockingham First Presbyterifrom June 11 to July 14, the an; Pollocksville Presbyterian; secod term to begin July 23 Cameron First Presbyterian. and run through August 25.

Summer School Schedule And Classes Listed

8:00 to 9:00, 9:40 to 11:10, 11:30 an Dutton, Joe Chandler, Sylto 1:00, and 2:00 to 3:50. A via Smith, Jerrie Johnson, Jimchapel and activity period is all my King, Claude Andrews, Barso scheduled from 11:10 to ry Greever, and Harriet John-11:30. Features of the program ston. this year are to be a music camp, from June 11 to July 1, man, a visiting professor in the the Baptist Student Union. Bible department.

ers. The program also includes ice. workshops in various subjects and courses for teachers.

Sylvia McRae and Becky Brooks, newly elected representatives of the graduating class to the alumni association.

Senior Class Elects Alumni Representatives, President

By C. R. GRAHAM

In a class meeting May 8 the senior class took action on various matters of important business. Sylvia McRae, class president, presided.

In accord with a request from the alumni association 2 representatives were elected to serve on the board for the coming term. Elected were Becky Brooks and Sylvia Mc-Rae. Sylvia McRae was also elected permanent president of the senior class in a vote by acclamation.

Plans for a senior banquet to be held May 23 were announced, this to be at the Shady Rest restaurant in Laurinburg.

A report from the gift committee was heard, in which it was announced that plans for paving the gravel walk that leads off the causeway toward the womens' dormitories were under discussion. This remains to be decided.

Margaret Ann Martin was then voted class poet, this also by acclamation.

Christian Council, Fellowships Select Officers For 62-63 Term By MARTHA WALSH

the Student Christian Council have chosen dormitory representatives to the council for the year 1962-63. The following students have accepted appointments: Mike Long, Orange; Barry Greever, Mecklenburg; Margaret Nadal, Albemarle; Melinda Webster, Granville; Jewel Deane Love, Wilmington; Elinda Turner, day students. The representative from Concord will be chosen in the

Deputation Teams

On the Sundays of April 29 The St. Andrews summer and May 6, deputation teams rection of Dr. Louis C. LaMotte, following churches.: Durham The students who formed the Classes are scheduled from teams were: Roy Phelps, Vivi-

WF. BSU Elections

Elections within campus deand a workshop in the under- nomination groups have named standing and teaching of alco- Brenda Overman, junior, presihol problems, during the sec-dent of the Westminster Felond term. The program also lowship for next year and Mary highlights Dr. Kenneth Fore Tarrant, sophomore, head of Presbyterian leaders spent The summer school program last week end at Myrtle Beach will offer a range of subjects making plans for the coming including courses in Business, year. Sunday night's program English, Science, Foreign lang- included the installation of ofuage, Education, and many oth- ficers and a communion serv-

> Other WF officers include Beverly McClure and Melinda

Recently elected officers of | Webster, co vice presidents; Mary Wallace, secretary; and Mike Long, treasurer.

> BSU officers were elected at a hamburger supper Sunday, May 6, at the home of Miss Gloria Blanton, advisor. The Baptist students evaluated their work of the past year and began plans for the new year's program.

> Elinor Harris, vice president, and Dorothy Cook, secretarytreasurer complete the slate of BSU officers.

SCHEDULE OF EVENTS Tues., May 15, Departmental Clubs. Debate: Public Speaking Class and St. Andrews Debate Club, 7:00 p.m., L.A. Auditorium.

Wed, May 16, Vespers, 6:30, L.A. And.

Thurs., May 17, Great Books Discussion Group, 7:30, L. A. 121; Classical Club, 4:00, L.A. 117.

Fri., May 18, Carnival, 6:00-10:30 p.m., Causewalk. Individual booths sponsored by campus clubs.

Dance, B. S. Plairs, 7:30 p.m., main lounge student center.

Sat., May 19, Afternoon concert and formal dance in evening.

Sun., May 20, Campus Coffee sponsored by student center board. Special guest Mr. Burke, pianist, 3:30-4.30 p.m., Student Center. Wed., May 23, Vespers, 6:30,

L.A. Aud. Thurs., May 24, Reading day Fri., May 25, Final examinations through

Fri., June 1