

For God's sake Joe, Hurry up!

Eight Students Attend SNEA Annual Meeting

Eight members of the St. Andrews chapter of the SNEA and two chapter sponsors attended the annual SNEA convention in Raleigh, on Saturday, November 4. The convention was held at the North Carolina Education Association Center. The program included talks by prominent officers of the NCEA and the State Department of Public Instruction, Raleigh.

Richard M. Carrigan, Director Student NEA, Washington, D. C., delivered an address titled "Blueprint for Action." Mr. Carrigan's talk pointed out the critical point at which education on levels now stands in relation to our country's future development. He stressed that we must build for the future in education the same as in other aspects of national life. "It behooves the Education Association to grow not by addition of personnel, or to have conferences and meetings, but to formulate growth that represents addition of form and substance to educational programs."

Goals of the "Blueprint for Action" were outlined by Mr. Carrigan. He proposed maximum learning for all, allow teachers time to teach, develop professional standards, and secure proper and adequate financial support for educational institutions. He added that now is a fruitful time for associations such as the NEA to become better organized and to make their influence worthwhile. This can be done by striving to make education take on the form of an organization identified with the whole of society, not with any single part. Along with this, Mr. Carrigan talked of the importance of strong associations which are effective at local levels.

An address by Dr. J. P. Freeman, Chief Certification Officer, State Department of Education, Raleigh, previewed the changes in teacher education and certification that have developed in recent months. Dr. Freeman pointed out the fact that new guidelines have been established for certification of teachers and for renewal of certificates.

Under the present plan for teachers, colleges in North Carolina require certain hours and courses, while under the new plan a program will be spelled out in guidelines and state standards for resources and faculty.

Donald H. Morrow, Field Consultant and Staff Contact to the Ethics Committee, NCEA, Raleigh, described a new, standard code of ethics for teachers which is now being studied by educators and educational administrators. Later this month the code will be studied by a group in Washington, and from March to July will be studied at the National Convention in Denver, Colorado.

The major goal involved in the new code of ethics is to achieve a standard and uniform code of behavior for all levels of educators and for all geographical areas. This code is to protect the teacher as well as the student.

A reaction panel composed of students from the University of North Carolina, Salem College, Woman's College, and High Point College brought out specific questions and ideas raised by the speeches given.

(Continued from Page 1)

Memorandum

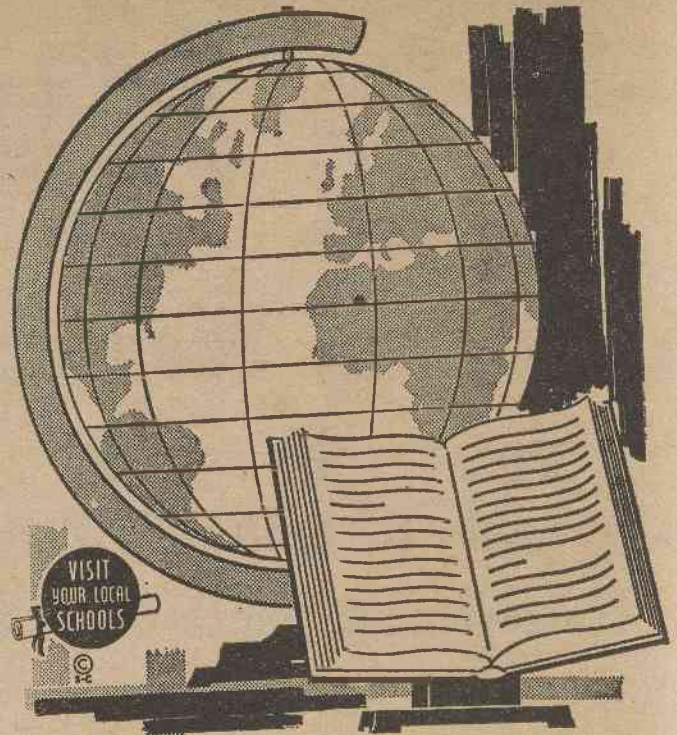

the days and hours listed for the purpose of additional study space. We trust that those using these facilities will do so in the spirit for which each is being made available. Your cooperation in keeping noise disturbances at a minimum, in adherence to the "No Smoking" rules, and in helping keep the rooms and furnishings in an orderly state is necessary and will be appreciated.

Sundays, until further notice 2:00 - 5:00 p.m., Music Conservatory

Mondays through Fridays: 7:30 - 10:00 p.m., Rooms 111 and 113, Liberal Arts Building

In addition, Dean Hester reports that Mr. Fisher of the Prophet Food Company will make available the main dining hall of the Student Center for study from 7:30 - 10:00 p.m. during the evenings of the mid-semester testing period. Mr. Fisher states also that his company will provide free coffee for those who wish to come there to study.

Dean Hester and I request

EDUCATION ... Doorway to Progress

American Education Week, No. 11-17

that members of the Student Cabinet and the Student Life Committee assist in making these experimental moves successful, particularly in overall use of the facilities and the state of orderliness maintained in each.

Thank you,
Rodger W. Decker
Acting Dean of the College

Assistant Deans Of Students Active In Student Affairs

The students of St. Andrews have by now become acquainted with two persons who are very much involved in the student affairs: Miss Gloria Blanton and Mr. John Hiott. It is important to go even further and to become familiar with the duties of these two people in relation to what they mean to the students of St. Andrews.

Both Miss Blanton and Mr. Hiott share the title of Assistant Dean of Students. They maintain the Office of Student Affairs which serves the students more effectively by concentrating student affairs in one location: the Student Center. Their new offices are located on the main floor in the Student Center. This location has been provided in an effort to serve the students more efficiently.

Miss Blanton and Mr. Hiott co-ordinate their work, but each is in charge of a parti-

(Continued On Page 3)

The Lance

Editor-in-chief Bill Patterson
Managing Editor Paul Boylin

EDITORIAL STAFF

Assistant Editor Shelia Welch
News Editor Charles Quick
Feature Editor Joyce Hellekson
Sports Editor Bill Campbell
Fine Arts Editor Tom Farinholt
Co-Art Editors Lee Settlemyer
Staff Writers Rebecca Carter, Norwood Maddry
Dianne McDonald, Ann Straddley
Sue Shannon

BUSINESS STAFF

Business Manager Angus A. McQueen
Circulation Manager Wanda Graham
Assistant Circulation Manager Martha Lineberry
General Staff Edwin Carter, Jean Anderson,
Bobby Benton
Sue Stephenson

Typists Mary Ellen McLean, Phyllis Nivens
Faculty Advisor Mr. William J. Thomas

Opinions expressed in Letters to the Editor and in signed columns appearing on this page are not necessarily those of The Lance. Only the editorials are the official opinion of the newspaper.
The Lance is published every other Tuesday except during holidays and vacation periods. Offices in the Student Union. Subscription $2.00 for the remainder of the year.

Dance to the Lester Lanin "TRAVELERS" ORCHESTRA

RECORDING EXCLUSIVELY FOR EPIC RECORDS

PLAYING AMERICA'S FOREMOST DANCE MUSIC

MISS GLORIA BLANTON

MR. JOHN HIOTT