Film, 'The Kitchen,' Here In Series, March 11-12

A socialist shocker, "The Kitchen", is the foreign film to be presented at the Center Theater March 11-12. Adapted from a play by the socialist Arnold Wesher, the movie describes the help's half of a big London restaurant, while attacking the remains of the profit system in Britain.

The entire scene of the film is the kitchen. The characters are the workers in the restaurant. The fish cook loves the waitress, the vegetable cook loves the salad chef, the butcher is an alcoholic, and the jokes and insults fly fast and heavy.

The excitement and commotion in the kitchen reaches a climax when the butcher chops the gas line with the meat cleaver. All work stops in the restaurant, and TIME magazine interprets this action as, "...symbolic of stopping the social order which prisons mankind."

TIME also says in its review of the film, "If Leftist Wesher expects movie-goers, at the end of the film, to rise and shake off their chains, he is going to be disappointed. They will hardly have the strength to rise and put on their coats."

Gulf Oil Gives SA Cash Grant

St. Andrews has received a cash grant for unrestricted use from Gulf Oil Corporation as part of their Aid-to-Education Program.

The check was presented to President Ansley C. Moore by W. A. Collier of Fayetteville, area sales manager for the petroleum firm.

This was one of 692 awards totaling half a million dollars. All are given to colleges and universities which are privately operated and controlled, obtaining a major portion of their financial support from non-tax sources.

Guest Speaker

Miss Lois Edinger, president-elect of the National Education Association, will be guest speaker at the March 10 installation of the 1964-65 officers of the St. Andrews Student North Carolina Education Association.

Miss Edinger will be introduced by Mrs. Phebe Emmons, state consultant to the SNCEA.

Officers for next year are Harriett McCutchen, president; Carol Johnson, vice president; Melissa McCoy, secretary; Trudy Dawkins, treasurer; and Wanda Graham, historian.

Some of these officers will represent St. Andrews at the SNCEA Spring Convention in Raleigh, March 20-21.

Sybil Thomas and Charles Quick have been chosen to represent St. Andrews as Mr. and Miss Future Teacher at the convention.

DR. GWYNN HONORED

Dr. Price H. Gwynn has been made honorary member of the St. Andrews SNCEA. Dr. Gwynn was formerly dean of faculty at Flora Macdonald College, and was dean of the college during St. Andrew's first year.

Now with the St. Andrews Guidance Center, Dr. Gwynn is noted for his work in establishing a Center at Flora MacDonald in 1952.
