Senate Passes Late Permission For Girls

The St. Andrews Senate at its last meeting passed a resolution that had originally come from the Inter-Dormitory Council last year. The resolution entitled "A Resolution from the Inter-Dormitory Council Concerning Senior Privileges for Girls," was introduced on the Senate floor by Mike Long, Senior Rep., and in its original form read, "Resolved, that senior girls should have until 12:00 on Friday and Sunday nights and 1:00 on Saturday night to be in the dorm. Also be it resolved, that senior girls should have a certain number of late permissions during week nights in a semester." The debate that followed was primarily concerned with the need for such a resolution and its feasibility.

A motion was made calling for a question, which would have cut off debate and forced a vote on the resolution was defeated 9 to 4. Gill Rock, Senior Rep., moved to amend the resolution to read "Resolved, that senior girls should have until 1:00 on Saturday nights to be in the dorm. Also be it resolved, that senior girls should have five 12:00 permissions on Friday nights in a semester." After a short debate Bill Miller, Orange Dormitory Rep., called for a roll call vote. The amended bill was then passed with thirteen for and five against. The Senators who voted against the bill felt that it would set a limit on the number of Friday nights that the girls could stay out late. It was pointed out that as the bill read, the Friday nights would be free, and that the girls would not have to go to the Deans office for permission. This would have no bearing on the already existing policy where a girl may ask for late permission. The strongest support for the bill was the fact that St. Andrews is surrounded by wonderful places to go, the only trouble was that they were all any where from one to two hours drive from St. Andrews.

The Cabinet on the same night passed the resolution and forwarded it to the Student Life Committee which was to meet the next night. The resolution is now in a sub-committee in the Student Life waiting for action.

Tomorrow's Orange Grove To Be Elaborate, Fun

By LYNN TERRY

The glory that was Greece and the grandeur that was Rome can hardly compare with the "glitter" that will be Orange Grove. Following the tradition that was instigated last year, the Orange Grove, sponsored by the Orange Hall, will be held at the VFW in Laurinburg on Saturday, November 14. Procuring tremendous success, the Grove, one of the highlights of the social calendar, was held at the Laurinburg Motel last year. The fifty couples present enjoyed an entertaining evening of cocktails (a la grape juice), supper, dancing, and a floor show. Music was provided by a stereo system.

"I am determined to make this one of the biggest and best events on campus with hopes of establishing a tradition which will be upheld in years to come," said Glenn Arnette, social chairman of Orange Hall, as he described the plans for Orange Grove this year. Doubling in size this year, the capacity for the Grove will be 100 couples, special invited guests, and entertainers. The attire will be semi-formal or formal.

Under the direction of Mr. Pete McLaurin of Belk's Department Store, the decorations will feature a red, gold, and black motif. Elaborately draped fabric of blue and white rayon and satin and dazzling crystal chandeliers will hang suspended from the ceiling. Beautiful floral urns will contribute to the atmosphere of elegance. Tables, adorned with white linen cloths and gold engraved napkins, will bear candles and arrangements of real apples, bananas, oranges, and grapes. Matches of red foil covering with gold engraving and gold foil covering with black engraving will also be on each table. Formal programs have been printed. Forming the background for a white piano, the stage area will be draped in red with gold valances.

Beginning the program will be the service of cocktails from 7:30 until 8:15. Vickey Balou, Alice Spratt, Gay Carpenter, and Clara Harper, who will be wearing gowns of white satin will serve the guests. Music will be provided by a combo of Mary Field on the piano, Ted Foy on drums, and Adger Smyth on the guitar.

A seven course turkey dinner will be the next item on the agenda. Catering will be done by the Plantation Room of the Laurinburg Motel. The dinner has been so well planned that even the water will be tinted red as a continuation of the decorative motif. During dining, stereo music will be played.

Dancing to FUNNY GIRL, ten chorus girls will open the floor show. These girls are Kathryn Chestnut, Donna Southers, Minnie Smith, Eonnie Johnson, Patsy Pearce, Linda Purcell, Marsha Hill, Lynne Pou, and Kay Holland. Miss Holland will wear an orange crepe, slim-line, long formal which was designed especially for her by Champion Originals. The other dancers will wear ensembles of gold and red satin with a black bow and black hose.

Among the numerous forms of entertainment will be folk singing by Dave Porter, Nancy Hitt, and Dan Robinson, a former St. Andrews student. "Once Upon a Time," a comedy routine done by Richard McCord and Sara Alex Bradbury, will return from last year by special request. Other entertainers will be Diane Huff who will sing and Cheryl Monroe who will dance to "The Stripper." Glenn Arnette will sing the traditional "Everything's Coming Up Roses" and one of the themes from FUNNY GIRL. As a grand finale, all the cast will join in singing "Hey! Look Me Over" from the musical WILDCAT.

Following the floor show, coffee will be served. The last phase of the evening will be dancing until 12:15 with music furnished by stereo.

Mrs. Doris Gates, from Belk's Department Store, will be the hostess for the evening. She will be wearing a gold formal gown designed especially for her by Belk's Incorporated. Mr. Jemison Hoskins, head of the art department, will be master of ceremonies. Chaperones will be Dr. and Mrs. Aldridge, Mr. and Mrs. Gates, and Mr. Hoskins.

Special Orange Grove flowers, designed by Webb's Florist, will be available by call. These are red and white carnations entwined with gold ribbon and green foliage.

Mr. Arnette wishes to extend sincere thanks and special recognition to Belk's Department Store and especially to Mr. Pete McLaurin for furnishing all the decorations and materials for costumes. Belk's has also contributed to the Orange Grove in numerous other ways such as supplying the mannequin and chair for display, chandeliers, and gowns.

Special thanks also are expressed to Louise McLeod, who spent many long and hard hours in creating all the costumes; Lillian Phillips, who did all the wonderful choreography for the dancers; Ann Booker and Nancy Stroupe, who made posters advertising the Grove; the board members of the VFW; and the suite social chairman of Orange Hall.

Everyone is heartily encouraged to try to obtain a ticket for the Orange Grove of '64 which, through endless hours of work and planning, will prove to be nothing short of spectacular.

BAND FLOATED IN
LOUISVILLE (AP) - Louisville got some summer music - as did other cities - thanks to a hitchhiking bandstand.

It came in with a load of coal and went out with an oil carrier.

The floating stage of the American Wind Symphony is an 80-foot box-shape craft. It has no power of its own and must hitchhike behind commercial tows.

Robert Austin Boudreau of Pittsburgh always wanted to stage outdoor concerts and thought of rivers as highways.

Bloodmobile To Be Here Tuesday

The bloodmobile from the regional blood center in Charlotte will be on St. Andrews campus on November 17 from 11-5 p.m. Giving blood is an unselfish act which cannot be duplicated by the marvels of modern science. It is virtually painless and very humanitarian. Every care is taken in assuring the physical readiness of the donor to give blood by the attendant nurses and physicians.

In order to donate blood persons under 21 must have parents sign a waiver which was distributed by the sophomore class here. After giving the donor receives a card which entitles him and his immediate family to blood credit should they need a transfusion or blood derivative. It should be noted, however, that the Red Cross does not deny blood to anyone. The obligation to reciprocate is only a moral one.

The quota set for St. Andrews is 150 pints. If this goal is attained every student in the school will receive blood credit.

Last year St. Andrews was ranked third at 22% participation of students just below Davidson College at 52% and Johnson C. Smith at 23%.

Announcement

Capt. Mary Hall from the Army medical specialists corps will be in the main lounge of the student center from 6:30 until 7:30 on Monday, Nov. 18 to speak on career opportunities in this branch of service. Both men and women students are invited to attend.
