

Appellate Board Seniors

I would like to take this opportunity to introduce myself to the student body as a candidate for the Student-Faculty Appellate Board and to express my desire to represent the students. I am concerned with the veil of secrecy which seems to hide the decisions of the board and I support the idea that the students should be presented with a brief resume of the court cases and decisions. That the members of the board are elected necessitates that they represent and we can only know that the board reflects our opinions if we know its activities. I am convinced that, with the exception of a few cases in which the board deems secrecy wise, the activities of the board should be presented to the students in order that snowballing rumors, which are often detrimental to both the board members and the student involved, may be squelched, and in order that the students may be equipped with the knowledge to enable them to formulate constructive criticism rather than blind condemnation.

I would like to see the student body informed of most Appellate Board cases and decisions because I think such a procedure would increase the effectiveness of the board and enhance the student evaluation of the work being done.

I would very much like to serve you and to represent you.

Thank you,
Carolyn Ehardt

I would like to ask you to consider me as a candidate for the position of senior representative to the Student Faculty Appellate Board. Please remember to vote on Monday.

Kay McClanahan

Junior

I, Lee Accettullo, believe that I am qualified to serve as the Junior Representative to the Student-Faculty Appellate Board. Work on the Senate and especially on the Honor Code Committee has helped me realize what the responsibility of a member of the Appellate Board would be to this community, and I would willingly accept such a responsibility.

Lee Accettullo

The Student-Faculty Appellate Board maintains the most important connection among students, faculty, and administration in our judicial system. Here, student rights in regard to our constitution and policy are determined. I am most interested in our student government and in becoming an active member as Junior Representative on the Appellate Board. In this capacity, I would try to maintain the principles of our constitution with consideration of the rights of the individual students of our community. Your support will be appreciated.

Lynn Eller

Center Board President

I, Ted Foy, feel that I can bring to the Presidency of the Student Center Board both the experience and the ability which the office demands. Having served as Treasurer of the Board my Sophomore year, and as Vice-President this year, I have become familiar with all the facets of Student Center Board work. As Treasurer I was concerned with the financing of campus social activities. This year my major responsibility has been the contracting of bands and orchestras for Board sponsored dances. I feel that I have proved myself capable of both performance and perseverance in my responsibilities.

I realize that, if elected, I will be chief co-ordinator of campus social activities. It is my belief that the social expression of the "college experience" can be just as meaningful as the academic expression. The student should be given the possibilities of fellowship, activity, and relaxation, that is, a chance for expression outside of the classroom. As President of the Student Center Board I will direct my efforts toward a presentation of a varied and meaningful social program. My experience, insight, and what ability I possess will be used for you the student. My ears are forever open to your suggestions; together we will make next year another "very good year" for the Student Center Board. I will appreciate your vote very much.

Ted Foy

Secretary

Because the Student Center Board regulates many of our non-academic activities, it is a vital part of our system of government.

As secretary of this organization, I feel that I can contribute to the effectiveness of the Board while responsibly serving my fellow students.

With a sincere promise to serve you ably and conscientiously, I solicit your support.

Betty Baldwin

Christian Council President

One of the items in the platform of one of the candidates for President of the Student Association is a "re-evaluation and re-vitalization of the SCC." For those of us who are familiar enough with the Student Association to know what the SCC is, it is not surprising that this should be a part of a platform, not just for one candidate but for the entire Student Association next year. Many people have expressed a concern this year about the Christian Council, as well as about other organizations. Most of the complaints that I have heard have been only negative: "The Christian Council just hasn't done anything." There has been little or no recognition of things that have been accomplished and there have been no concrete suggestions as to what the Christian Council should be or should be doing. The Council is now working -- to top it off -- against a kind of "image" which has developed around the Council in recent years, and this image, while not necessarily right or wrong, has nevertheless discouraged others from wanting to or being willing to work with the Council. It is no wonder that members of the SCC eventually become tired and discouraged and are tempted to let their work slide.

The Christian Council is obviously in desperate need of RE-EVALUATION and RE-VITALIZATION. If my program can be called a platform at all at his point, these rather vague and general terms would be the basis.

The Christian Council on a campus such as ours, with C&C at the core of our curriculum, must obviously play a role different from that of a Christian Council on a campus where "religion" is not one of the major emphases in the life of the school. We must make a serious effort to discover what our purpose should be, and then go to work to bring this purpose into action. It will do no good to philosophize all year and never translate our philosophizing into concrete actions; nor would it do any good to dive headlong into action without some serious thought and re-evaluation of the Council's purpose on this campus. One solution would possibly be to concentrate for the remainder of this year on this re-evaluation and planning for the coming year and then--hopefully--and with a little more enthusiasm, we might then be ready to begin our work for next year, never actually moving away from this framework of self-evaluation.

There are several concrete ideas which I would like to see developed for next year, in order to extend our program to more students. The SCC has a budget which would include enough money for several strong programs, if it is used. For the past two years, the SCC has left large amounts of money unused in their treasury, and this money could be spent for speakers in political, scientific, religious, art, or other controversial fields. The SCC could sponsor one or two regular-length movies as well as one or two special films and programs. Special work will need to go into plans for the Thanksgiving and Christmas seasons, because of the difficulties involved with the new calendar for these seasons. Other programs which will need continued planning and work are the Peace Corps, the Deputation Team, the Faculty - Home Seminars, the Tutoring Program under the Peace Corps, and so forth.

The Christian Council has the potentiality to become one of the most vital forces on this campus.

In filing for President of this Council, I have affirmed my willingness to do what I can to see some of this potentiality actualized. Your help and support will be greatly appreciated.

Thank you.

Scottie Warren

I, Carolyn Thomasson, am very interested in the St. Andrews Student Christian Council and the potentiality which it has for becoming an integral part of the student government. Having served this year as an executive officer of the council, I feel that I have the necessary experience to carry out the duties which the office of president of that organization requires. Because of my part on the council this year, I know what has been done as well as that which has not been done by the council. I would like to see some of the things which are just now being started by the council continued in "full swing" next year. These things include the faculty-home seminars which will enable interested students to visit in the faculty members' homes to discuss certain topics which the students would like to know about such as interpretation of certain works of modern art for those who are not art majors, but who would like to have a better understanding of the works. Or, perhaps a seminar discussion on various church vocations for those students who have thought about such a career, but who are not aware of all the possibilities.

I realize, as I am sure you do, that the council has made mistakes this year, but also that the council this year has made much progress in the area of the peace corps especially. I would like to see even more progress made in this and other areas. I am confident that I am capable of leading an organization whose purpose is to co-ordinate all religious activities on campus, to make religion more vital to the students and to help students to formulate their own ideas and beliefs through general campus activities.

Your support and vote for Carolyn Thomasson as president of the St. Andrews Christian Council will be greatly appreciated.

Carolyn Thomasson

WRA President

I, Dottie Du Bose, am a candidate for President of the Women's Recreation Association. If elected, I will also serve as President of the Intramural Sports Council. During my three years at St. Andrews, I have had experience on both councils. My sophomore year I was elected to the WRA council as a unit manager from Concord Dorm and this year am serving as Vice-President of the organization and therefore a member of the Intramural Sports Council. Having received experience in this capacity, I feel that I know what will be expected of me if I am elected to the office that I am running for.

I personally feel that many girls on campus do not realize what fun they can have playing in intramurals. There are some who feel that they do not know enough about the sport or cannot play it well enough to participate. It is the responsibility of the WRA council to let these people know that intramurals are for fun and emotional relaxation and not for merely showing some skill. One of the things that I would like to do to help those who want to play a sport but do not know how is to set up an instruction period before each oncoming sport so that the girls may learn the rules and basic essentials involved in playing the game.

I promise that if I am elected President of the Women's Recreation Association and hence of the Intramural Sports Council, I will strive my very hardest to promote a good and effective women's intramural program and a successful co-recreational program and in all cases strive for a good, clean, and enthusiastic competitive spirit on campus.

Dottie DuBose

I, Jackie Stafford, have been actively involved in intramurals for three years. I have seen many problems arise because we do not have a gym. I believe that many of these problems can be avoided if the leaders make their plans early. I believe that the P.E. Department should know what the intramural leaders plan to do in order to have as few conflicts as possible.

Intramural activities are supposed to be fun and relaxing. This can only be possible when the activity has been planned early enough and well enough so that it will not be discovered at the last minute that the gym is not available.

I believe a greater effort should be made to involve interested day students in the intramural program. This could be done by better communication with them. Intramural sports give the students an opportunity to get exercise and to release tension. I feel that as president of Women's Recreation Association, by careful planning and being interested and excited myself about sports, I can help everyone to have a chance to participate in sports with enthusiasm.

Jackie Stafford

Vice-President

I, Betty Anne Ford, am a candidate for the office of Vice-President of the Women's Recreational Association. I have actively participated in intramural sports all three years that I have been at St. Andrews and am now serving as Secretary-Treasurer of the W.R.A. and as a member of the Intramural Sports Council. If I am elected Vice-President, I shall try to the best of my abilities to help promote the girl's intramural sports program on campus.

Betty Ann Ford

Secretary- Treasurer

This year I have served as Dorm Representative for Concord on the WRA, and therefore have an insight into the mechanics of the organization and the time involved. Having participated in every intramural activity for the past two years, I am interested in helping to form a broader, more successful program in the coming year. I feel I can best do this by serving as an executive officer on the WRA, and hence serving on the Intramural Sports Council.

Peggie Clements

Seniors To Hear Discussion

Dr. Ralph Hester, Dean of Students, has announced that plans are complete for graduating seniors, and others who may be interested, to hear a discussion on life insurance, both as a SECURITY and as a CAREER. Working with the Senior Class President, Jerry Hurst, and with various insurance company representatives, Dr. Hester has arranged the meeting for 6:30 p.m., Wednesday, March 16, 1966, in the Small Lounge of the Student Center. The meeting, to consume no more than one hour, will provide time for questions to some insurance representatives by interested students.

Mr. E.L. "Jim" Horton, Charlotte District Manager for a major insurance company, will be the primary discussion leader and he and one or two other representatives will be available for individual conferences following the open meeting. Mr. Horton and his associates have made available for students to read before the meeting two rather informative pamphlets. One, "What Most People Don't Know About Life Insurance," is a reprint from THE READER'S DIGEST. The other, "Your Life Insurance and How It Works" is a publication of the Institute of Life Insurance. Students may secure a copy of each without cost from the Office of the Dean of Students.

Pointing out that insurance represents more than a valuable form of property, Mr. Horton explains that many vocational opportunities exist in the insurance industry.

Due To Lack Of Space All The Candidate Pictures Except The S.G.A. Officers Were Left Out