UNC-W Shocks Knights

After rallying twice to tie the game in the second half, St. Andrews' soccer Knights succumbed to the UNC-Wilmington Seahawks here yesterday, UNC-W scored on a long, curving shot with just 7:55 remaining in the game to destroy the Knights' chances for a tie or win, and in the process may have knocked the SA team from its traditional berth in the district playoffs.

UNC-W got on the scoreboard first with 14:50 left in the first half when Kevin Ritlinger took a pass from Dave Wychel and booted a high centering pass from the right sideline, about 35 yards from the goal. Knights' goalkeeper John Bush misjudged the ball, and it sailed over his head into the goal.

SA threatened several times in the early minutes of the second half, but couldn't put the ball into the net. With less than 20 minutes remaining in the game, Richard Rhoderick, the Blue's right wing, placed a perfect corner kick in front of the Seahawk goal. Bob Latshaw headed it in from about ten feet.

The Knights had several more opportunities right after the goal, as they pressed hard toward the UNC-W net. The Seahawk defense met the challenge, however, and two long passes brought the ball quickly upfield. Bush went to one side of the goal to make a save and was knocked down. The SA defense failed to clear the loose ball and Dave Wychel drilled it into the open net.

Again SA came back, with the Rhoderick-Latshaw combo accounting for another score. Only nine minutes remained when Rhoderick centered and indirect free kick. Latshaw adeptly used his head to knock the ball into the net.

Only a minute after Latshaw's second goal, the Hawks put the clinching goal in the net. Solomon Bitton bore in on Bush in a one-on-one situation. Bush came out about 15 yards, and Bitton hooked the ball around him beautifully for the score.

The loss leaves SA with the distressing prospect of having to beat Campbell to assure themselves a place in the district playoffs.

Last weekend the Knights took a two day road trip to N.C. Wesleyan and Virginia Wesleyan, and returned with a pair of shutout wins. They won at Rocky Mount Friday by a 2-0 count, scoring two quick goals midway through the first half and completely dominating the game thereafter.

In women's volleyball, the Faculty beat Wilmington and Granville-Orange II beat Granville-Orange I last Thursday night. Tuesday night's action included only one game, in which Albemarle upended G-O II.

Men's ping-pong intramurals continue at players' convenience.

Wesleyan Saturday in achieving a 3-0 victory. Catmur scored the opening goal with only nine minutes gone. Thoonkabaln took the ball downfield, where it ooned off a fullback's leg, then off Catmur's leg into the goal. With 12 minutes left in the half, Noorani lofted a centering pass slightly over Latshaw's head. Latshaw leapt and headed the ball in.

The third Knight goal came with 19:00 remaining in the game. Mike Dunn drew the goalie out, then passed low to Catmur. John dove at the ball, and caught it squarely on the head to register his seventh goal of the season.

Runners Win

In Greensboro last Saturday, Knight harrriers broke into the win column, crushing Greensboro College 17-40. This, coupled with a 15-48 loss to Campbell's powerful Camels, left SA at 1-3 for the campaign.

Jacob Houge again paced the charge of the Knight brigade, crossing the finish line in 31:00. He finished sixth overall. Banning Ingram in 9th place clocked 31:43. Joe Roberts ran 32:44, while Jeff Ward did 34:11 as SA put these four men ahead of Greensboro's first finisher. Bill Fragaszy and Al Leath also completed the trek. However, Campbell proved too strong for the Knights, garnering the first five places aided by Danny Merritt's winning time of 27:57.

SA cancelled participation at Methodist Monday as only four runners showed up to make the trip. The next scheduled meet is Thursday at Newport News with conference rivals Christopher Newport and Virginia Wesleyan.

Women Improving

St. Andrews' women's volleyball team won one and lost one in a triangular meet at Chapel Hill Wednesday. The Knights won their opener against Atlantic Christian, 4-15, 15-7, 15-13 in a well-played match. Sue Kascher and Glenn Kennedy served well for the Knights in the second game, and Susan Andrews was the serving star of the deciding game. SA lost to the University of North Carolina in a superb match, 10-15, 12-10, 15-6. The eight minute time limit ran out in the second game with the Knights ahead by a 10-9 score. However, a team must win by at least two points, and the Tar Heels were able to rattle off three straight points and take command of the match.

Coach Jo Ann Williams was very pleased with her team's performance. "We played beautiful volleyball," she commented. "The matches were very exciting and we played well." The team will take a 6-4 record into its next match, with Coker College here Oct. 25.

The Knights had gotten back on the winning track last Thursday in Raleigh with convincing victories over Meredith College and Chowan College. Glenn Kennedy served eleven straight points in the first game to lead the Knights to a 15-2, 15-5 victory over Meredith, and Carolyn Dennison was the star of the 15-7, 15-2 win against Chowan in the second match of the evening. She served well in each game. Other leading scores for the Knights against Chowan were Susan Andrews and Wanda Patterson.
