Alumni Day
Saturday

St. Andrews College will host Alumni Day on its campus on Saturday, April 24, the day immediately after the inauguration of the college's newest president, Alvin Page Perkinson, Jr.

In integrating the inauguration of President Perkinson and Alumni Day, college administration officials hope that alumni will take this opportunity to expand their Alumni Day Weekend. Festivities will be held on campus on Friday through Sunday, further integrating alumni, administration, students and friends of the college community.

Inauguration ceremonies will take place at 11 a.m. on the terrace of the DeTamble Library and will be followed by an informal luncheon in the Student Union.

Saturday morning will be highlighted by the dedication of the Flora Macdonald College and Presbyterian Junior College Heritage Room at 11:30 a.m. Formed as a conjunction of these two colleges, St. Andrews alumni proposed the museum-type room in the fall of 1975, and since that time the idea has met with enthusiasm and a great deal of active support. Art Professor Mark Smith and several students who are studying art with a pre-museum emphasis have designed the interior decor; College Archivist Harry Harvin has catalogued all pieces for the museum; and Leslie Bullock has drawn up an historical progression. The dedication will be followed by a picnic lunch by the lake.

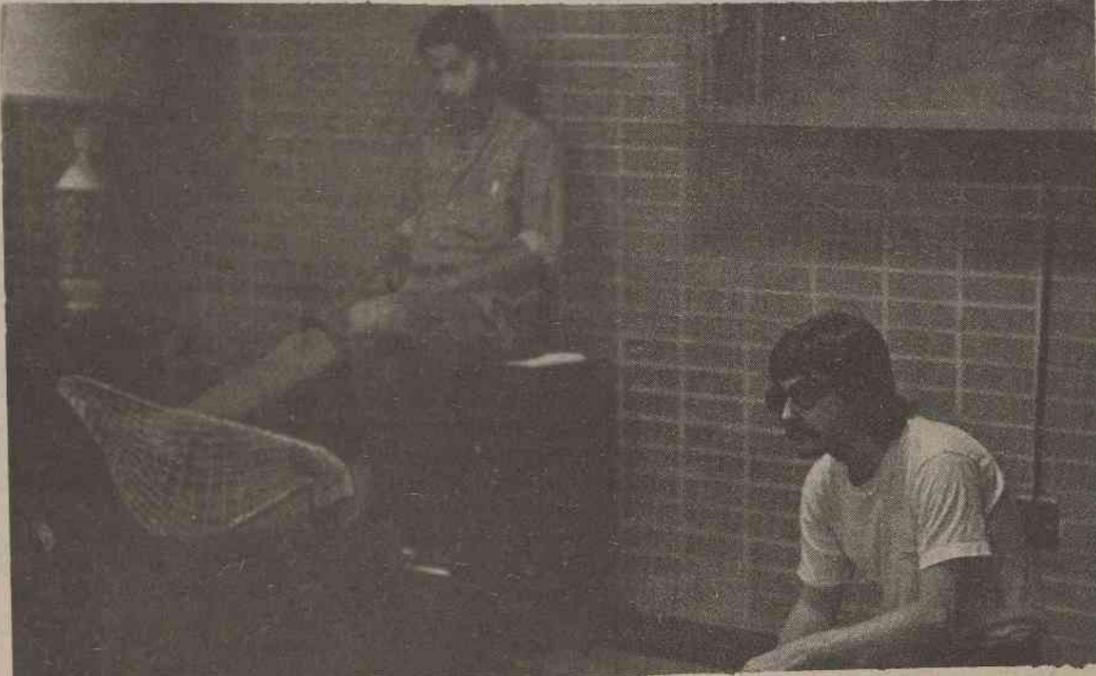

During the afternoon alumni will participate in class reunions and will be able to enjoy the campus fishing, swimming and meeting the current Knights in both tennis and soccer. The St. Andrews Period Dance Ensemble, un-

Exhibit By Los Angeles Women

Presently on display in the Vardell Art Gallery is an exhibit of the work of women artist who are working or have worked in the Los Angeles, California area. The exhibit was arranged and organized Deanne Belinoff, artist-in-residence at Sandhills Community College who also presented a Common Experience program here in February about Women in Art.

The artists represented in this exhibit were all involved in the innovative Womanspace Gallery in Los Angeles, and were responsible for providing much-needed public exhibition space for women often subtly, sometimes overtly, denied such opportunities through conventional channels.

Some of the women, whose art is on display in the gallery, were also instrumental in the success of the Feminist Art Program at the California Institute of the Arts which intended to explore the common experience of women and the personal development of the women student often overlooked by traditional male-oriented teaching methods.

Art Professor Mark Smith pointed out that the recognition of feminist intent ought not lead one to conclude that the art works are narrow and/or political. Especially in (continued on Page 4)

Soccer

Champions Here

Soccer is making a spring appearance on the St. Andrews campus. Throughout the afternoons of the 24th and 25th, Alumni Weekend, six teams will compete for the Eastern Regional Championship. The following teams are divisional 1st and 2nd place winners and will arrive Saturday:

- Central Division - Chapel Hill, Duke.
- Southern Division - Fayetteville, UNC-Wilmington.
- Eastern Division - Raleigh, Greenville.

St. Andrews, a member of the Southern Division, was selected to host the tournament due to our excellent soccer facilities. Varsity Coach and Tournament Director Dean Betts stated, "We are very fortunate to have been selected by the North Carolina Soccer League to host the Tournament. Our returning alumni will be impressed with our enthusiasm toward the advancement of soccer. The caliber of competition is outstanding. The participants are present intercollegiate team members or past All-Americans and All-South recipients."

Game time for Saturday and Sunday's matches is 2:00 and 4:00 p.m. On Saturday, a preliminary match is expected between the the alumni's Over-the-Hill-Gang and the St. Andrews Varsity.

Inauguration Boycott Scheduled; Lakeside Vigil Planned

An ad hoc students' group has finalized plans for a boycott of President Perkinson's inauguration tomorrow morning.

Students interested in participating in the boycott should gather on the shore of Lake Moore tomorrow morning around 10:45. The ceremonies begin at 11:00.

The intent of the boycott leaders is that the affair be quiet and non-disruptive.

The purpose of the boycott is to protest the recent decision to deny art professor Mark Smith in a concrete, visible manner. The idea was originated in the Senate established Nuisance Committee, so called because it was set up to look for avenues of protest outside channels when action by the Senate in channels proved ineffective.

The plans for the boycott, which has been under discussion for two weeks, were finalized at a meeting held in Orange Hall Tuesday night at which over 125 students attended and expressed their views. The meeting itself was a consequence of the Senate's refusal to sponsor the boycott at its Monday night meeting after numerous senators reported insufficient support for the boycott in their dorms to allow them to vote for it in good conscience as representatives of their dorms. An additional consideration was the fear that for the Senate to sponsor a poorly attended boycott would be for it to sacrifice its hard-won authority and prestige. Debate on the matter was lengthy and at times heated, but in the end the Senate voted not to sponsor the boycott by a margin of four to one. (See 'How They Voted', this page).

Dance Ensemble To Perform "Orpheus"

The Afro-American Dance Ensemble will perform "Orpheus," on the campus of St. Andrews College on Saturday, April 24, at 8 p. m. at Harris Courts. The event will be sponsored by the St. Andrews Black Student Union and is open to alumni and the general public. A reception following the dance in the College Union.

"Orpheus" is an original Ensemble work which is unique in a number of ways. Created by Arthur Hall, "Orpheus" is the first, full length ballet designed for a black dance company. Inspired by the Greek legend of Orpheus, Hall has set his production in the frenzied atmosphere of Rio de Janeiro during a carnival. The choreography is a unique blend of ethnic dance, modern (continued on page 4)
