BY DOCTOR SPANN,

Tuesday, the Knights again demonstrated a strong showing by placing second in a four way meet against Campbell, ACC, and conference rival Methodist College. The Knights could not overcome the talent and good depth of the Campbell College team.

Starting with the pole vault, Jay Mitchell and John Doney placed third and fourth with vaults of 10'6" and 10'0". Bob Carter managed fourth in the high jump with a 6'0" effort. Patrick Bernard who missed Saturday's meet made an impressive long jump (19'8") and captured third in that event. He also placed fourth in the triple jump. Butch Keller placed fourth in the discus while Tim Griggs captured third in the javelin. Mike Cestrono hurled the Knights to a second place with a javelin throw of (159'1") and a first place for that event. Cestrono also placed third in the shot put.

Turning to the running events "Fayssoux" Owens attained a third in the 100 yrd. dash with a time of 10.2. Jake Jacobs was headed for a near record time but stumbled five yds. from the finish line. He however came back to take second in the 220 yd. dash (22:89) with "Iceman" Wall tying for third with a time of 23:00. The "Iceman" also posted a third place against stiff competition with a time of 52:00.

Jim "Ryun" Sommerville posted a fourth in the mile and a very impressive second in the three mile (16:17). Bob "The Lon" Pelon managed a third in the 3 mile. In the hurdles Preston Richardson attained third in both the intermediate and high hurdles. In the 440 yd. relay (Owens, Herculson, Jacobs, Wall) captured second place and demolished the school record with a time of 44:20. The mile relay team also saw the Knights take second with a sub par time of 3:39. (Jacobs, Jagne, Herculson, Wall).

This Saturday the Knights face Elon here for a dual meet. Come out and support your team in final preparations for the Conference Meet to be held on Saturday April 30 at Newport News, Virginia.

Knights Drop Two

The St. Andrews' Knights are now 4-10 after meeting up with powerhouses Campbell and Pfeiffer this week.

The Campbell Camels crowned the Knights, 27-3. The Knights scoring were Jim Worley, John Ferrell and Tom Stoecker. Stoecker hit his first home run of the year, also riving in Ferrell with the shot. Homerving for the Camels were Mas Mann and John Lippett, each with three run hits.

The Knights gave Pfeiffer a good scare Thursday. St. Andrews took a 3-1 lead in the fourth inning. Arthur Bowman lead off the rally with a walk and a steal. Ferrell doubled to score Bowman and Bo Pittman did the same for Ferrell. Chris East, pinch-running for Pittman, scored from third on Rick Gamble's sacrifice bunt.

Pfeiffer recovered the lead for good in the sixth with a four run rally. The Knights threatened again in the seventh when Butch Keller scored on Bowman's single, but the drive stalled there. Pfeiffer beat the Knights with eight runs on twelve hits compared to St. Andrews four runs on seven hits.

Crossley on Changes

placed in national journals or education papers, and applications are received usually for several months. The applications are narrowed down to a few who are invited to the campus for interviews. (Crossley insists that students be involved in the process).

Within the next five years, it is hoped that several additions can be made to the faculty. Whether or not these additions occur will depend on student enrollment. The proposed additions include two people in business and economics, two in science and mathematics, one in education whose specialty is the gifted and talented student, one part-time in education whose specialty is the handicapped student, and one person in psychology. Crossley expressed the desire to bring the total number of faculty in the arts to nine. This would provide three faculty members in art, three in theater, and three in music, for an integrated arts major and program.

At the conclusion of the talk, students were allowed to ask Dean Crossley questions. One question concerned the number of faculty members who will be on sabbatical next year. Dr. Fouke and Dr. Barnes will be on sabbatical for the year, and Dr. White and Dr. McDonald will be on sabbatical during the spring term. (Tom Jones will take over the co-ordination of the Environmental Studies program in Fouke's absence.) Dr. Miller will still be on a two-year leave of absence, which, by the way, is funded by his publisher and not St. Andrews. Other topics included the faculty teaching requirements for SAS and the Science Building dedication which is scheduled for April 29. Crossley explained that when he meets with prospective faculty, he makes it clear they might be required at some time, to teach in SAS. The dean was very concerned that students should take an active part in the dedication of the Morgan-Jones Science Center and the John Blue productivity, morale, service longevity and general psychological well-being of those involved.

As director, Decker describes the project as "an opportunity for local health care organizations to improve the quality of their services."

"The goal is to provide employment, provide a skill and promote them in employment," Decker continues.

The project, a specific training program meant to compliment the existing CETA program in Scotland County, is one of six programs approved in Region N of the Lumber River Council of Governments.

The new project will begin as soon as people can be located with the help of the local Employment Security Commission.
