the St. Andrews' Bananas, otherwise known as the girls volleyball team, are back this year with a good looking, young team. Coach Williams informs us that there are eighteen eager players this year.

Returning for the Bananas are Fran Newbold and Beth Cleveland, both important players. Also returning, are Kim Powell, Liz Black, Johanna Boxman, and Debbie Grant. Debbie played center or setter position in the past.

Coach Williams said even though the rest are either freshmen or new to varsity power volleyball, there is talent in the youth that are participating. Great expectations have been hoped for in Warra Foster, a new spiker on the team. She will be portraying a big role on the team this year.

Carol Wall and Linda

Morrow are also new additions. Both have proved to be natural athletes with quick smoothness that could profit the team. But when asked what was her biggest surprise to her new team, Coach Williams quickly answered, "Diana Pretz, a blessing to St. Andrews. Diana has great ability, quickness, and the ability to be there, in the right place at the right time. Coach Williams is looking forward to an exciting season with a bright, ambitious team.

Coach Libby Flowers will assist her this year. Libby played for S.A. for three years, but was not able to play this year, because of eligibility problems. When asked about the team, Libby replied that the team had problems in height and also setting abilities. Height is incurable, but hopefully the setting will improve.

Campbell Takes Monday Match 3-0; Offensive Skill The Decisive Factor

Campbell easily took Monday afternoon's soccer match from the Knights, 3-0. The Camels kept a constant pressure on the St. Andrews' defense and goalie Eric Loomis.

"We didn't play nearly as well as I thought we would," commented Coach Dean Betts. "I was disappointed that our offense never really challenged Campbell."

The Knights lack of offense was painfully apparent. Although, they threatened and missed goals simply due to bad luck, St. Andrews couldn't match the offensive pressure produced by Campbell.

That pressure paid off for the Camels with almost one-third of the first half played. Johnny Yu scored on a pass from teammate Craig Winchell. Winchell came up with another assist with 12 minutes remaining; this time it was to Mike Sanga, who headed the ball in the goal. The Camels final goal came with just three minutes gone in the second period. Sanaga passed to Webster, who booted the ball in from ten-yards out.

"We definitely need more offense if we expect to challenge in the conference race," explained Betts. "Our Virginia roadtrip this weekend could very well decide the Dixie title. And I guarantee that we'll be right in the middle of it all."

The Knights travel to Virginia on Friday and Saturday to meet Christopher-Nwport and Virginia Wesleyan.

College Director Resigns

Francis P. Hurley, director of development at St. Andrews Presbyterian College, has announced his resignation effective October 16. Hurley will assume the position of director of development of the Julius T. Wright School in Mobile, AL.

Hurley came to St. Andrews in 1974 as director of corporate relations and subsequently was appointed director of development.

"We will miss St. Andrews and Laurinburg," commented Hurley. He added, "Over the past three years I have had the privilege of working with a number of people both in the St. Andrews community and in the Laurinburg community. These associations will always mean a lot to me."

Baseball Off To Good Start

The St. Andrews baseball team has gotten off on a very positive note this fall with two scrimmage victories to it's credit. The Knights returned from Pembroke last Wednesday with an 8-7 victory. Two homeruns by John Ferrell and Rick Scott early in the game gave St. Andrews an advantage which the Knights maintained throughout the game.

Saturday night St. Andrews faced Methodist College in Fayetteville and was once again victorious despite an unfamiliarity with playing under lights and a thick ground fog. The Knights 9-6 victory was our first win over Methodist in the past several years.

The Knights are scheduled to play two home scrimmages with Pembroke Sept. 28 and with N.C. Wesleyan Saturday Oct. 1. The team extends its invitation for all St. Andrews students to come out for a preview of baseball '78.

well as some scholars and police spokesmen - will try to sell us on apparently simple solutions to the American crime problem, we should remain skeptical. In the past simple solutions have not worked.

Unless we understand why, the future will prove comparably unsuccessful. We have to know what doesn't work to find out what might. The reasons for past failure and possible remedies will be further explored in later articles in this 15-part series on institutional crime, street crime, the limits of the criminal law, the administration of criminal justice, and the organization of punishment.
