

PIE HIT! for Muscular Dystrophy

As the strains of "Speak softly, love" float in the background, grim-faced hit men (smiling just slightly as the moment approached) strode up to their unsuspecting victims and left fly. Godfathers in their lairs counted the take greedily, ordered up more hits, and generally did all the sinister things (like speak of "reasonable men") that Godfather's do.

Another hit for Muscular Dystrophy.

There has rarely been a good cause which provide St. Andrews with such good fun. "Pie Hit for MD" and the approaching M.D. Carnival seem to have caught the fancy of all concerned in a way that only a few might have suspected. Naturally the photography staff of THE LANCE was out there trying to capture some of the excitement and the mess of it all . . .

Remember, only one day left to get your enemies as well as your friends.

photo by Clay Hamilton

The Indian Museum Of The Carolinas
Presents:

A FILM FESTIVAL

Saturday, November 11, 9 a.m.

At the museum building, Turnpike Road,
Laurinburg

Films on Native American history,
arts and crafts, religion, medicine,
and foods.

Colorful, educational, entertaining for adults and children alike!

Further information: Michael R. Sellon, Director

276-5880

ANATOMY OF A PIE HIT: caught by surprise by hit man (person?) Lynn May, Jerome Johnson struggled valiantly, albeit to no avail to avoid ending up with whipped cream on his face. Fortunately, a LANCE photographer was on hand for a play-by-play of poor Jerome's demise. (Photo by Kim Leland.)