

Brunnenburg

Making the Wine of '89

Inconography for the 1989 Brunnenburgers

- Saint Jocelyn: Patron of Noise
- Saint Pam: Patron of Speed
- Saint Christina: Patron of Worry
- Saint Eric: Patron of Gracefulness
- Saint Susan: Patron of Shagging
- Saint Gretchen: Patron of Gossip
- Saint Amy: Patron of Coasting
- Saint Alexis: Patron of Laborers
- Saint Chad: Patron of "I don't feel so good"
- Saint Laura: Patron of Patience
- Saint Matt: Patron of Mutella
- Saint Soichi: Patron of Luggage
- Saint Mary: Patron of Kulchur
- Saint Siegfried: Patron of Tour Guides
- Saint Brigitte: Patron of Fine Cuisine
- Saint Lois: Patron of Mail

This is not America
blue grapes, red wine

rough-hewn faces
and strange voices

I do not know how to reach these people

strange couplet we are, climbing mountains, descending slower finding our strength

in the short flat
stretches, sparse

shrub, lonely wandering goats we are like

them clanging our bells
so far from home

Pam Whitfield

Comfort

Is it uncomfortable, you ask
To awaken at 3 a.m.
Knowing your bedpartners are Cold mountain shadows?

It shouldn't be, I reply
If at 3:01 a.m. one rolls over Knowing the tallest shadow Is yours at the zenith.

Haiku

Painting by Painting
My patience waits for no one-Museums are not Waltes.

Alexis Kronenwetter

"Romeing in R me"

I.
Sitting on a side chair in second class with Germans from Munich
Good-bye Flounce
punctuated with a middle finger

IV.
Romeing in Rome
Walk, stop Unfold map
Look at map
Fold the damn thing!

VII.
Rome fires a parting shot Italian Railways surcharge
I'm 500 livre short
Thank You, English Professor Whoever you are.

EME

Haiku

Seafood and pasta
with tasty conversation
Just you are my feast

Matt Sutherland

Smashing grapes- the old fashioned way