The Society Column_{Miss Tina Carter}

This is the first article of a new Lance series about the social life at St. Andrews - parties, sporting events, special actitivities, etc. Most of you know what is happening in your own circle so we will attempt to give a broad overview of campus social life. Be merciful, this a feeble first attempt.

Here's a glimpse of what some of us did over fall break:

Abe VanWingerden, SGA vicepresident, took the LSAT and went deep-sea fishing at Snead's Ferry. A highlight of his trip was when he caught an alleged eight pound snapper, which he credits to his brother's sea-sickness. His roommate, Lewis W. Hoggard, also took the LSAT. Both hope to attend law school, Abe at Duke and Lewis at UNC-Chapel Hill. Lewis decided to stray from the ordinary and get "gussied up" to take his girlfriend, Cassie Petrovic, to the Hope Ball. Abe and Lewis' birthdays were the eighth and ninth of October. They celebrated with an all-guy party in their suite. Christopher Edwards and Anton Wiley were in attendance. No comment would be made as to the prescence or absence of alcoholic beverages at the gathering.

Jacy Childs, a freshman Concord resident, stayed on campus for fall break. She reported spending many fun-filled evenings watching movies with Mike Bell and Todd Rice, hanging out with Chris and Eddie, and doing homework. We pushed for more details but she refused to comment on the record.

Oliver Wilson of Winston-Salem Dorm went home to Greensboro for the weekend. He attended City-Stage, an annual festival in downtown Greensboro. He ate a lot of homecooked meals and shot some hoops.

Miss Sarah Cooper Miss Jane Karepenske

On a more adventurous note, Marsha Hansen and Jason Rich spotted two bears and six deer while backpacking in the Smokies. They were disappointed that the Appalachian Trail was closed due to the budget crisis. Frequent rainfall dampened their clothes but not their spirits.

On the way to Montreat to visit his grandparents, freshman David Allen Smith dropped sophomore Anne Wiesner off in Durham. When questioned on the status of their relationship he replied, "Well, we're kind of dating." David also went hang gliding at Blowing Rock and ate a lot of home-cooked food, which he declared was a "feast" compared to SAGA.

Clearly, the social event of the weekend was the wedding of former St. Andrews student Molly Warman to her boyfriend of three years, Ray Ruskin. Many St. Andrews students made the long journey to Maryland to attend the nuptials. Among those present were Jill Vamos, Sharon Frain, Partice Barrentine, Chad Esposito, and Chris Walker. St. Andrews alums Judy Folmar and Linda Butler also made an appearance. Sharon, Judy, and Chad appreciated the warm hospitality of S.A. alum Lee Huber who provided living accomodations for the weekend. The bridesmaids wore red and the bride wore a simple white McClintock dress. The wedding cake was topped by a princess kissing a big green frog with a top hat.

Well, that's what a few St. Androids did for fall break. Thanks for your patience with our first effort. If you have any suggestions or find out about any exciting, obscure campus

National Service

"The president has a position that opposes compensation" for volunteer work," explained Sherraden, who has studied national service programs in nine countries and thinks compensation is vital to the success of a U.S. program.

"The president has a somewhat elitist view of volunteerism," Sherraden said.

Salisbury State student Hughes, for one, thinks "an incentive helps. A lot of students don't have the time to volunteer just for the sake of volunteering."

Adds Houston's Belicove, "I think any opportunity to attend college at reduced cost is good, but I would not be supportive of the federal side of college aid changing."

Here is a more detailed explanation of the two bills going to conference:

"KINEXUS gives our students access that they would never have otherwise," Matheson explains."It is also cost-efficient for a company. They can put the criteria in the computer and have an immediate printout without having to screen 2,000 resumes." As Matheson stated, not only do the students save time and effort but, so do the companies. Money and time is saved on traveling or even mailing expenses that may be used for recruiting purposes or job hunting - with this new system it's right at a person's fingertips. "People like IBM and Johnson and Johnson would never come to Laurinburg for interviews."

Unlike many other computerized job recruiters that are out to make a

The Senate Version (S. 1430 passed in March) - Volunteer participants would receive vouchers worth $5,000 for each year of service. Vouchers could be used toward college, a first home or purchase of a small business. A "Thousand Points of Light Initiative Foundation" would be set up to coordinate and encourage local service programs.

The House Version (H.R. 4330 passed in September) - Bill would authorize $100 million next year to set up school and college programs that promote national service. The Education Dept. would grant $35 million to states and $25 million to individual campuses.

Students performing full-time volunteer service after college would not have to pay back some of their student loans.

Trustees Meeting

The Board of Trustees' Annual Meeting will be October 25-26. The meetings will be highlighted by a dinner honoring retiring Chairman of the Board of Trusteees Jimmy Morgan. At the dinner, Jimmy Morgan will be granted the Honorary Doctor of Humane Letters. Friday, Oct. 26 at 10:30 AM there will be a campuswide refreshment break with the Trustees so come out and exchange views on pertinent SA issues.

Parents Weekend

Start straightening those rooms for your parents will possibly visit next week!! Parents Weekend will be October 26-27. Highlights of the weekend will be the faculty/parent mini-sessions on Saturday morning and the Highland Players' production of "Dracula" on Friday and Saturday nights. You are encouraged to attend the special activities with your parents and don't be embarrassed by them for one day you'll be just like them!

SAU Honored

St. Andrews was recently honored at the National Association for Campus Activities Southeastern Regional Conference. The t-shirt design for Extravaganza 1990 received an Honorable Mention in the non-poster Tate.

is not designed to make money," notes Matheson. She feels that it is a useful tool especially for the college student who could be running low on money.

Not only do seniors take advantage of the system, but so can many other students looking for a summer job. KINEXUS is even available to the many alumnaae of St. Andrews.

Matheson hopes to see more students get involved with the computerized system. Two computers are available on campus - one in the Career Planning and Placement Center and category. The winning t-shirt was the other in the micro-computer lab of designed by Paul Dinkins and Betsy the library.

is your friend we won't indict, unless you want to press charges."

Register your bike and make sure it is kept locked up. As Young explains, it makes a thief stop and think. He adds that the chain locks aren't always secure, because they can easily be broken. He advises that a more secure lock, such as the horse-shoe type, is much better, "If a person wanted the bike they would have to use a hacksaw, or pick up and carry it away." This takes more time and is more obvious that the bike is in the process of being stolen.

Young admits that the stealing of bikes is not going to stop occurring. However, he believes that these surefire tips will prove helpful, at least "It will make it an inconvenience for the thief.'

Shelters

Another family crisis center which serves Scotland County is the Rainbow House whose director is Amy Daisey, a graduate of St. Andrews. She states that the main goal of the shelter is "to help women and their children to choose a lifestyle that is free from violence."

There is help for victims of domestic violence. There are shelters and support groups but we cannot just leave the problem on the doorsteps of these organizations. Domestic violence is everyone's problem says Crumpler, "If we can do some prevention, it will help stop the violence." We should all realize that we can take part in that prevention.
