Women's Soccer Finishes Successful Season

"I didn't think we'd do that well," commented Coach Lorenzo Canalis after looking at the statistics for the 1990 St. Andrews women's soccer team. Indeed, the statistics are impressive for a team that just barely broke even last year. Four All-District performers, including Hayley Ladell, a freshman who led the District in scoring, led this year's team to a 13-4-1 record and a second-place finish in the District.

The Lady Knights started off this season with seven straight wins. They went into their eighth game of the season against Elon College, a nationally-ranked program, with high hopes. However, Elon beat the Lady Knights 5-2. Then came two games in a row against teams that were ranked number one in the nation in their divisions, Methodist College and UNC-Greensboro. The Lady Knights were handed losses in each of these games by scores of 5-0 and 6-0.

The Lady Knights were determined to have a good season, and proved it by winning their next three games. First was Maryville College, which gave the Lady Knights a good game, but lost 2-1. Then the offense let loose in a 7-0 win over Catawba College. The next game only increased their momentum as they destroyed Limestone College 10-0. The Lady Knights were up for their next game, which was against District opponent Presbyterian College. After a hard-fought game, as well as overtime play, the game ended in a bitter 4-4 tie. The last two regular season games were both won by the Lady Knights by the score of 3-0 over the University of the South, and by a forfeit against Ferrum College.

It was now time for the District 26 playoffs, and the Lady Knights found themselves up against Presbyterian College once again. This time, however, the game ended 2-1 in the Knight's favor. This sent the Lady Knights on to the District 26 final to be played against Elon College. After falling behind late in the first half, the Lady Knights continued to play hard, refusing to give up. However, Elon College ended up the victor by a score of 4-0, which sent them on to the NAIA Subnationals in Berry, Ga.

After the game, four players from St. Andrews were recognized as members of the All-District team. Ladell, sophomore halfback Joy Feinberg, junior forward Cathy Feeley, and junior sweeper Kati Vines were all honored. These players led a very balanced team that outshot their opponents this season 412-203, and outscored their opponents 61-31. Ladell, Feinberg, and Feeley accounted for 44 of these goals, with the rest spread out among eight members of the team. The defense, led by Vines, allowed less than two goals a game throughout the season and also had a total of eight shutouts.

The team will be losing only two seniors this year, Susanne Lusk and Susan Yeaman. This looks hopeful in light of the youth and success of this year's team. In addition to the many returning players, Canalis looks forward to the return of Catherine Holsopple, a projected sophomore starter who did not play this season due to an ankle injury. Also unable to play this season was Joanne Rivera, another projected starter, who was declared ineligible in an academic mess-up by the NAIA.

Tamara Jung, a junior stopper, echoed the hopes of a good season next year when she said, "The only barrier we have as a team is psychological because we're so young. I didn't think we'd do as well as we did this year, and I'm hoping next year we'll be able to beat the teams we should have beat this year."

Knights Successful in Season Opener

The St. Andrews Men's Basketball team opened its season this past weekend at The Highland Cavalier Classic in Clinch Valley, Virginia. Their first match-up was against Shawnee State University. The Knights rolled to an impressive 91-73 victory having six players finish with points in the double figures. Senior John Davis led the offense scoring 23; senior Mark English was next with 17; sophomore Shawn Colquett had 16; junior Donald Galbreath added 14; freshman Brian Burton 11; and sophomore John Church contributed 10. Head Coach Mark Simons was pleased with the team's performance, "We played very well offensively and defensively against the Shawnee State team and I saw a lot of good things. Due to team injuries, I had approached the tournament as an event just to see where we were as a team and to see what adjustments we'd have to make. On Saturday night against the tournament host team, UVA-Clinch Valley, we struggled a bit offensively but did what we had to do to win. Overall, I was very pleased."

In Saturday night's game against UVA-Clinch Valley the Knights won in overtime 83-75. The game was highlighted by senior John Davis who scored 28 points. Donald Galbreath scored 11, Mark English 15, and Shawn Colquett dropped in 13 points and 11 rebounds. The overtime victory was a lift for the team. John Davis was honorably named the tournament's Most Valuable Player while Mark English and Brian Burton were named to the All-Tournament team.

The Knights are on the road again this weekend as they travel to Birmingham, Alabama to play in a tournament hosted by Birmingham Southern University. The defending NAIA champions, the Knights are scheduled to play both Birmingham Southern and Clark University of Atlanta. St. Andrews will hold their home opener on Tuesday November 20th "live" on the Harris Courts against Coker College...Be there!

Women's Basketball Rebuilding Successfully

By Louie Wemett

The 1990-91 St. Andrews Women's Basketball team swings into action Saturday November 17 versus Methodist. One thing is certain; they will be improved from last year. Very improved.

After a rebuilding season last year, the Lady Knights appear to have a good shot at a winning season. Second year coach Nancy Swain has the team's goal set at 500, but there are quite a few people who believe they will achieve even more.

This year's squad will be stronger and the Lady Knights will have more depth, something that last year's team lacked immensely. Returning from last

Newcomers to this year's squad include Shannon Rivers, a freshman forward from Seagrove, NC; Beth King, a freshman guard from Radford, VA; Riki Point, a sophomore forward from Rogersville, TN; Cheryl McNair a freshman guard from Fayetteville, NC; and Christine Nowak, a junior forward out of Schenectady, NY.

In addition to more depth, the Lady Knights will add quickness to this year's squad as well as some players who can "clean the glass". The first home game will be November 20th versus Coker, beginning at 5:30, Harris Courts. Come out and support the Lady Knights this season and you will see a vastly improved Women's basketball program.
