THE FABULOUS FRIBBLE FACT!!!!

What is "Anacreon in Heaven" and how is it important to US?

CONTEST RULES:

Entries in the Fabulous Fribble contest can be dropped off at The Lance office

LA 176 c/o Stuart Joseph. Contest deadline is Nov. 6.

Entry with the most correct answers will win a fabulous fribble! In the event of a tie, a winner will be drawn from all winning entries. Answers and winners (if any) will be published next issue. Judge's decision is final (what power!) Standard Disclaimer: Of course, Lance staffers, their family members, significant others, room-mates, house mates, pets (illegal dorm or otherwise) are ineligible to enter.

STUMP STUART: Submit questions to me and if you stump me you could win a prize. Limit 10 questions per person, otherwise I'd never have time to do any homework as I would be filling my mind with irrelevancies instead of good stuff like Social Darwinism or algebra.

Loans

affected approximately one-third of Metropolitan State's loan recipients.

Many students inconvenienced by the new system don't know who to blame.

During the Reagan administration the Gramm-Rudman-Hollings Deficit Reduction Act was established to eliminate the deficit. The act laid out specifications on where to cut the budget across the board for all government agencies, including financial aid.

In December 1990, after Congress overspent the budget, the Consolidated Omnibus Reconciliation Act was enacted as an attempt to save the financial aid budget by making changes before Gramm-Rudman went into effect.

Ken McInerney, assistant director of Governmental Affairs for the National Association of Financial Aid Administrators in Washington D.C., a non-profit group working on pro-student legislation, says the new legislation is a burden on those schools with a low loan default rate.

"We have advisors in Congress working to help legislators review how the system is affecting schools," McInerney says.

Benson

Benson returned from the Far East by way of Seoul, Korea and Tokyo, where he met with officials to discuss the possibilities of international exchange relationships with St. Andrews. Benson noted that the College has a strong history of such exchanges. Through funding from the United Board, St. Andrews has had three visiting professors from Asia.

Benson said he felt a special pride in the work the St. Andrews faculty has done in building the College's Asian Studies Program. "It is arguably the best Asian Studies Program to be found among American liberal arts colleges," he said.

Dean

a long-term replacement was chosen from inside the St. Andrews community, Reuschling would check with the Student Life Committee. If a long-term replacement was picked from outside St. Andrews, the search committee, containing at least two or more students, would approve the decision, pending the approval from SGA.

Based on the conclusions reached in a student Senate discussion on this matter two weeks ago, Lenni Jones, president of Student Government, shares Reuschling's preference that the new dean be a former student or current employee of St. Andrews. "Familiarity with St. Andrews is more important than having a degree in college administration." Jones said that she desired a dean who would "work with students instead of trying to force new rules upon them."

Neal Bushoven, resident director of Mecklenburg residence hall and professor of politics, said that he also desires someone with a St. Andrews background to fill the position. Bushoven called St. Andrews an "unlikely college" which called for someone familiar with its unique atmosphere and diversity. Bushoven believes that the dean should be "deeply concerned about the welfare, growth and development of students," and someone who values dialogue, and is not afraid to argue or disagree with students.

Hold a piece of tape up to your eyes, dim the lights and try to fill out your taxes.

Now you're seeing things from her point of view.

For this woman it's poor eyesight, for someone else it might be arthritis or maybe they just can't cope. The fact is, last year 4 million Americans got the help they needed from IRS Volunteer Assistance Programs.

If you have the desire to help and a basic aptitude for math, you could become a part of the IRS Volunteer Assistance Programs. So volunteer and please call 1 800 829-1040.

Volunteer and make someone's taxes less taxing.
