Upcoming SGA

Kerry Nuti
Columnist

Eddie and I are looking forward to a packed year. It began at the Board of Trustees meetings on April 23rd and 24th. These meetings were basically information gathering sessions for the Board. After the meeting, Eddie and I were invigorated and began to set up some goals for next year.

Next year 1992-1993, is the year of the Environment. St. Andrews is developing an environmental studies program with the possibility of a major and a minor. The recently instituted Energy Conservation program will strengthen this common theme. The key word for next year is to conserve! Shut off lights, TV, radio and other appliances when you leave the room! We also have a logo developed by a team of students headed by Jennifer Thompson for the year of the environment. You'll see these logo's all over the campus next year!

A large fresh class will be pouring into St. Andrews for 1992-1993. This class is estimated to be between 240-260

Talk, Talk, Talk

The Great Debate went on and on and on until 3:45 AM Sunday morning, breaking the record that Dublin University had held for twelve years. In the final count, the debaters spoke for 518 hours and 45 minutes. Congratulations! Get off! And way to go Debaters!

Senior Campaign

Senior Campaign has once again shown the commitment of SA students. The original goal was $7,500 with three year pledges. The class of '92, approximately 170 people strong have committed more than 15,000 and decided to fund a scholarship. Once the base amount of $10,000 has been raised, SA will begin to award scholarships to juniors/seniors to help them defray rising college costs and stay at St. Andrews. The award amount will be 5% of the endowment. Congratulations and thank you to the class of 1992.

new students. The freshpeople will be coming one week early for orientation. They are coming early to promote a feeling of community among the new students. The students will immediately be integrated into the St. Andrews community. The officers of Student Government will also come back early to help with orientation.

The main goal for next year is to get the whole student body involved in student affairs. We are also trying to unite the St. Andrews community by joining Dorm forces.

Eddie and I wish for everyone to have a good summer. We look forward to seeing you next year. For all the graduating seniors, we sadly say good-bye and send our best wishes for a bright future. We look forward to your return as alumni over Ganza weekend or any other party!

OutFront and ...St.Andrews?

It could happen. Back in late March, a columnist with the Charlotte Observer, made a plea to colleges everywhere. Doug Robarchek writes the OutFront Column in the Entertainment section of the Observer. He started on March 9th, bargaining for a honorary degree from any accredited college. On the table was "almost 78 bucks, a Chicago transit Authority token, a bottle of Andre's Cold Duck and a lamp shaped like a woman in a hoop skirt." What a deal! In the next day's paper the Ole' OutFront Guy upped the ante. "We'll donate $87.52 and an eight-pack of returnable Coke bottles to any accredited college that comes through." Evidently there has been a little tension in the OutFront family. Robarchek's final plea is this; "So send us that degree, somebody. You'll be helping an American family. And you'll be making more than 88 bucks."

Now, why am I mentioning this at such a late date? St. Andrews cannot help Doug Robarchek this year but there is next year. Every year three, sometimes four people are awarded honorary degrees. This is a chance for students to get involved, rally behind a fun and worthwhile cause. Consider it please Class of 1993, and read the OutFront column. You may agree, he sounds a lot like we used to*.

Senior people, right about now if you are checking your mail box regularly there are a million memos from every office on campus trying to remind you of the twenty-thousand things a senior must do before graduating. Here (I hope) is a helpful checklist:

Thursday (yesterday) was the return date for senior superlatives, Maybe Lennie will accept the form if you have taken the time to fill out the survey.

Friday May 1st:

4 p.m. in LA B14

GSL exit conference

*Last Chance* You must have your student loans processed to graduate.

F.Y.I.

Next Week is the week to make sure your account is cleared with the Business Office. This is the only way to get your cap and gown. Caps and Gowns will be available from Debbie Chavis (next door to the cashier) at the following times:

9:00 to 12:00
and 2:00 to 5:00
Wednesday,
May 6th thru
Friday, May 8th

Make sure you have paid all your parking fines, library fines, lab fines and "resolve any outstanding balance on your student account." It doesn't get much simpler, (unless some wealthy relative shows up).

Paula has also sent a memo out asking seniors to set up a time to check out. Dorms close for seniors at 10 p.m. on May 9th, 1992.

These may seem like more endless details but think of it this way, the last of the endless details! Just a few more days (8), so congratulations and good luck!
