

CLARK TO SPEAK AT GRADUATION

Dr. Charles W. "Skip" Clark III, history professor, and graduating senior Brian C. Doles have been selected by the St. Andrews College class of 1995 as commencement speakers.

Dr. Clark has been a member of the St. Andrews faculty since 1983. His academic specialties include medieval European history, history of science, and the history of women. Clark currently serves as the chair of St. Andrews Social and Behavioral Sciences division.

Brian Doles is a history and politics major. As a prominent face in the St. Andrews community, he serves as a Highlander and chairs the Student-Faculty Appellate Court. Doles is also a member of the Alpha Chi Honor Society and the St. Andrews Honor Society. He recently received a Presidential Leadership Award to Princeton Theological Seminary—the equivalent of a full scholarship.

Three honorary degrees will be awarded during the commencement ceremony: Laurinburg native Raymond Baddour, professor emeritus at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, will receive the Doctor of Science, John Sylvester, Director of the North Carolina Japan Center, will receive the Doctor of Humane Letters. Dr. Joan Salmon Campbell, pastor of St. Mark's Presbyterian Church in Cleveland, Ohio and a past moderator of the Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.), will also receive a Doctor of Humane Letters.

Cecelia Smith Warren, from St. Andrews at Sandhills, will join Dr. Clark and Doles at the podium.

NCCAA INDUCTEES

Seven St. Andrews students have been nominated as National Collegiate Communication Arts Award winners. As outstanding communications arts students, their biographies will appear in the U.S. Achievement Academy National Collegiate Awards Yearbook. They are: Jonathan Ellis, Bonnie Cambron, Jennifer Thompson, Tristy McKenney, Kim Ribaud, Shelby McCrary, and John Hess.

Ruiz to Scotland

Once again, Vida Ruiz will be leaving the St. Andrews campus. This time she's off for a year at Sterling University in Scotland. She was chosen as the St. Andrews representative to Scotland as part of the ongoing exchange program between St. Andrews and Sterling.

Vida spent fall semester in Brunnenberg with other St. Andrews students.

Rape Crisis Center of Scotland County

The Rape Crisis Center is seeking caring men and women who want to help make Scotland County a better place for all through Volunteer Counseling.

Call the RCCSC Director at 277-0444 by May 10 to sign up for training.

Next Training Sessions: May 13 & May 20

ELECTIONS (Cont.)

Charity Boyles, Becky Hogan; Student-Faculty Appellate Court-Teri Beasley, Joe Bowers, Allison Corley, Rebecca Stacy.

Dorm Elections were also held, the results are:

Albemarle President-Matt Lewis; Vice President-Monika Herrman; Social Chair-Sandi Turpin.

Concord President-Sarah Woodard; Vice President-Michelle Melton; Social Chair-Kelly Goodwin.

Highland President-Ronnie Isler and John Roberts (runoff); Vice President-Thomas Valentine; Social Chair-Damian Martin.

Mecklenburg President-David Rearden; Vice President-Jeremy Culbreath; Social Chair-Mike Daly.

Orange President-Jen Miller; Vice President-Blake Masters; Social Chair-Shelby Melvin.

Wilmington President-Rachel Gray; Vice President-Kathleen Kelly; Social Chair-Maggie Brewinski.

Who's Who (continued)

Jill Elliot is a senior with a major in English and a minor in Asian studies. She is president of the St. Andrews College Student Government association, a member of the Highlander society and a dean's list student.

Kathy L. Hewitt is a senior mathematics major with a minor in computer science. Hewitt's honors include a National Collegiate Mathematics Award, Junior/Senior Mathematics Award, St. Andrews Honor Society, Alpha Chi, Sophomore Honors, and Chemistry Achievement Award. She is president of the Math and Computer Science Club; a tutor for math, computer science and physics; and a physics lab assistant.

Jim Ingram completed his coursework in January for a double major in philosophy and communications, with a minor in religious studies, and plans to attend seminary. Ingram's honors and activities at St. Andrews included Alpha Chi, Christian Service Organization, theatre and video projects. He was among the student leaders for a debate on campus that is listed in "The Guinness Book of World Records" and an organizer for the Film Club.

Jed Koball is a senior politics major. Koball spent January 1995 studying in India and served his junior year as Student Government Association treasurer. Other honors and activities have included Alpha Chi, Christian Service Organization treasurer, Math and Computer Science Club president and residence hall treasurer.

Stephanie Ladell is a senior majoring in biology and chemistry. Ladell is a member of Alpha Chi and the women's soccer and tennis teams. She was an All American in soccer in 1994, an Academic All American for two years, All South for three years, and All Conference in both Soccer and Tennis. Ladell received an IBM Scholarship and the Joann Williams Scholarship.

Susan Pell is a senior majoring in biology with a minor in religious studies. Pell is a member of Tri-Beta, St. Andrews Honor Society, PATHWAYS Wellness Program and Highlander Society. She played basketball for two years, receiving the Teammate Award both seasons for her positive attitude.

Pell also received an Abbot Laboratories summer science research grant and Sophomore Honors.

Junior mathematics major Kimberly F. Ribaud is the yearbook editor, Student Government Association treasurer, a Math and Computer Sciences Club member, a math tutor and a member of the college's Educational Policy Committee. Other honors and activities have included a National Collegiate Mathematics Award, Sophomore Honors, volleyball and softball.

Lisa Richardson, a senior elementary education major, is a member of Student Senate, Alpha Chi Honor Society, Student Life Committee, General Honors Program, Student North Carolina Association of Educators, PATHWAYS and Christian Service Organization. She has received Academic Merit and Achievement scholarships, is president of her residence hall and chairs the Red Cross College Bloodmobile.

Business and economics major, Paul Sink, completed his coursework at St. Andrews in December 1994 and is now employed as a landscapes consultant with TruGreen ChemLawn in Raleigh, N.C. While at St. Andrews, he was president of the Christian Service Organization, volunteer with Habitat for Humanity and a student representative to a summer consultation of the Presbyterian Church's Synod of the Mid-Atlantic. He was a dean's list student, member of the Business Club, tutor for SAGE and a representative at the Business Ethics Conference in Hilton Head Island, S.C.

Senior mathematics and chemistry major, Jennifer Strachan, has been involved in the General Honors program, St. Andrews Choral, St. Andrews Madrigals, Student Activities Union, and Math and Computer Science Club. She spent January 1994 studying at the Ecumenical Institute near Geneva, Switzerland.

Denise Thomas is a junior majoring in business and economics, with a minor in computer information systems. Thomas is social chair and vice president of the Black Student Union, vice president of her residence hall and a 1994 All American Scholar.

"Make a remark," said the Red Queen: "it's ridiculous to leave all the conversation to the pudding."

-Lewis Carroll-