

Marty's biggest fear:

That his wife, who was nine months pregnant and due at any moment, would go into labor while he was busy at work feeding us, and he would miss the birth of his second child.

Q: So, do you think this snow had anything to do with Y2K?:

A: Well, maybe.

Q: Aliens?

A: Definitely not aliens but you know who I think did all this?

Q: WHO?

A: Those dang twins from New York. I think they brought this snow with them.

Q:Ooookay. So who won the contest?

A: Well they all won really. I think they all did such a great job I just said "Hey how about lobster and steak for everyone who entered? Or you could make me decide" So they decided to leave it at that. They should have the dinner on Valentine's Day.

We sure are glad to have: -Marlon Carey
