

THE LANCE

RECEIVED
SEP 22 2003

LIBRARY
ST ANDREWS COLLEGE

VOLUME 1, ISSUE 1

WEEK OF SEPTEMBER 22, 2003

Sport Schedules

Baseball
Golf
Soccer
Volleyball
Cross Country

PAGE 3

Submissions

Submit your artwork, poems and your stories...see back page for more information on how to submit to the Lance.

PAGE 4

What's In Store

Find out what the year holds for students and faculty here at ST. Andrews.....

PAGE 2

Social Problems

Problematic social life
Evil Girlfriend
Evil Boyfriend
Evil Roommate

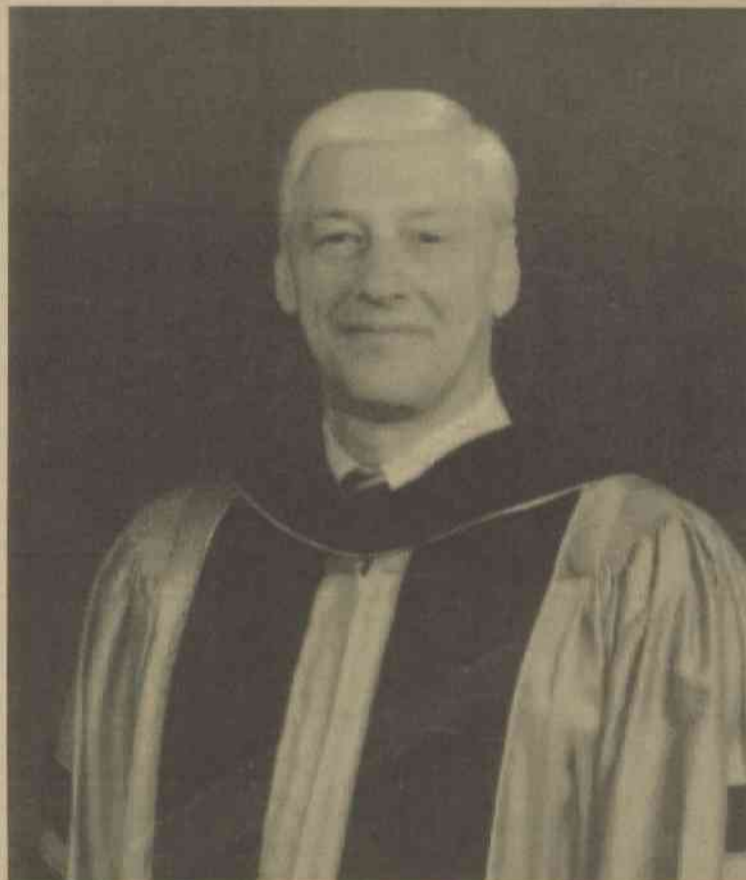

PAGE 2

A Message From the President

Dr. John Deegan, Jr.
President, St. Andrews
Presbyterian College

I am delighted to welcome back all returning St. Andrews students and extend a special greeting to our newest members, the Class of 2007. I am glad that you are here, for your presence enriches the vitality of this institution. And, it is my steadfast belief that the time you spend with us will in turn enrich your vitality, expand your intellectual capacity, and enhance your determination to help make the world a better place.

This is an exciting time to be at St. Andrews and I am exceedingly pleased to be here. As I reflected on this opportunity to share some thoughts with you, my mind quickly wandered back to those factors that motivated me to accept the invitation of our Board of Trustees to become the seventh president of this special place called St. Andrews. I wanted to be a part of a college that pursues academic excellence with determination and vigor; one that emphasizes the development of the whole person – intellectually, socially, and spiritually – and places a premium on the transformation of lives; one where a sense of community and compassion prevails; one where nurturing is a common feature of the educational process; and one where all members contribute legitimately to the maintenance of a true teaching and learning community. I am persuaded that St. Andrews is all of these things and I trust that among your reasons for being here is that you want to participate in the life of this extraordinary institution.

President John Deegan Jr.

When asked, I am inclined to assert that the mission of St. Andrews Presbyterian College is to liberally educate its

SEE PRESIDENT PAGE 2

The Comeback Kid...

Emily Boomgarten
Lance Editor and Chief

A newspaper is a vital channel of communications for any thriving college campus. The Lance has been sorely missed for quite a few years, but now I am pleased to reintroduce it to the entire St. Andrews community.

I guess I should take a moment to introduce myself. My name is Emily Boomgarten. I am the Editor-In-Chief of the St. Andrews Lance for the 2003-2004 school year.

But that's enough about me. The most important people you need to meet are my staff. I, and The Lance, have been blessed with a wonderful group of people who have helped me resurrect and make it better than ever.

Let me start from the top: my assistant editors, Jesse Grayton who will be writing about the Equestrian Events and Activities; Jennifer Heinbockel, who will also be running the Advice Column with her sister Laura Heinbockel, the Dean's Notepad, and the Faculty Column; and Peter Galan, who will also be the Sports Editor and will be the contact for the Letters Home column.

Nikki Voliotes is our Design Editor. Jamie Link and Kristina Anthes will be running our Therapeutic Riding Column, the Dean's Notepad and the Faculty Column.

Luke Sweeney will be helping to run The Wall student submissions section with Mike Genest. Student Activities Union President Ryan Campbell will be keeping the campus up to date on Student Activities.

Student Government Association President Bill Batz will also be writing a monthly column. Alex MacLennan will be writing a Spotlight Column, highlighting exemplary students, staff and organizations and helping Chuck Bond run the Message Board, a place for students and staff to post things they have for sale, are looking to buy or would just like to announce.

Michael Legg is Assistant Sports Writer who will be covering, among other things Men's and Women's Soccer. Brandon Kosoko will be adding a male voice to the Advice Column.

Gilbert Abraham will find time in his busy schedule to write about Politics and whatever else tickles his fancy. Nick Crow will keep us amused and interested by sharing

SEE LANCE PAGE 2

SPECIAL INTEREST	PAGE 2
SPORT SCHEDULES	PAGE 3
CLASSIFIEDS	PAGE 4
THERAPEUTIC RIDING	PAGE 3
UPCOMING EVENTS	PAGE 4