

Tis The Season To Be Thankful

"Me. I wish more people cared like I do." -Tom Williams, SAPC Head of Security

"My family." -Meredith Fish

"I guess I would be thankful for my health and how it's been treating me okay so far. Um, my family and friends and the fact that I'm alive each day and able to wake up in the morning." -Ariele Burgess

"Life in general and being able to make my own decisions." -Kristina Goodspeed

"I am thankful for my education at St. Andrews and the hard work of all professors and faculty to make St. Andrews a great college." -George Gilliam

"For being able to go to the Okeefenokee Swamp, my favorite place in the entire world, and being able to share its beauty and peace with people I have known all my life." -Bonnie Riehl

"I'm thankful for Rutgers football doing so well." -Alicia Toke

"My friends and family, the help I've received from the people around me in finding the Lord, for the common things in life like nature and its beauty, for the support I receive from everybody in anything I choose to do, for the way people tell me when I'm wrong to help me to learn, for food and shelter, for my life in general; I'm blessed with everything I need to survive and be content." -Ashley Nelson

"My family and friends." -Bet Smith

"I'm thankful for my family, friends, and my wonderful boyfriend." -Erin Schuster

"I'm thankful for frozen peas." -Corey Krutsch

"Family, friends, my pets, soccer, music." -Katie Miller

"I am thankful for Jesus Christ" - Maeghan Swann