

"I do not agree with what you have to say, but I'll defend to the death your right to say it." - Voltaire

CSU Students Attend the Montreat Collegiate Conference

Lyndsey McCall

Just before classes started back on January 4th-7th some of our students attended the Montreat Collegiate Conference. The theme was "Searching for God Knows What," which was named after the speaker, Donald Miller's book. The Montreat staff was extremely impressed with the attendance of over 600 college students. Samuel Hemingway III, Lydia Bravard and I spent the beautiful weekend up in the mountains of Montreat, North Carolina with a group from the Coastal Carolina Presbytery.

During the conference we praised God through music and worship services, we took part in several different workshops, listened to the concert artist of Jonathan Kingham, participated in Q&A discussion of acceptance and education of world religions and heard from the well known author Donald Miller. The overall weekend was fantastic! Personally, I enjoyed spending quality time with Sam, Lydia and 6 other Presbytery collegiates. Most the conference presented heavy topics of discussion and it encouraged our group to have these conversations in and out of the Assembly. St. Andrews was represented well. Samuel Hemingway took a role in the morning skit of Confession and Lydia served Communion Sunday morning as an elder.

A well known music performer

Samuel Hemingway III, Lyndsey McCall and Lydia Bravard at the Montreat Collegiate Conference in Montreat North Carolina. Picture courtesy of Lyndsey McCall.

and native to Montreat, David Lamotte led a workshop on mission in the world. Not even noticing that St. Andrews students were in attendance; David spoke very highly of our small private college that changes lives because of its program that supports students with disabilities. Those that were in his workshop, made sure to pass along the message that David Lamotte mentioned our school and that we should be very proud. This conference was even better than I had expected and I hope that the Christian Student Union will continue to participate in this life changing event.

For more information about CSU or upcoming conferences contact Lyndsey McCall at McCallm@sapc.edu or extension # 5028**

Getting Involved

Jacob Nelson and Kristina Goodspeed

Getting involved and being active on campus is a great way to lower stress levels and to experience what St. Andrews has to offer. While classes can keep us busy, it is important to become involved with other activities on campus and to meet other students and individuals within the Laurinburg community.

So, what is new on campus? Dean Batten can answer this question, "Jen Bruner has put together some great new events for this semester. One that I am particularly excited about is called the Traveler's Series. She has weekend trips planned to see the Monet exhibit at the North Carolina Museum of Art in Raleigh, outlet shopping and dinner at Hard Rock in Myrtle Beach, hiking at Morrow Mountain and a trip to the Imax Theatre in the Triangle." Students will also be able to attend Speaker Series at the University of North Carolina at Pembroke.

"No spring semester is complete at St. Andrews without Ganza. The Office show," states Dean Batten. Overall, there are some exciting events that are occurring this semester; so if you are looking to see what St. Andrews truly has to offer, get involved!

"I want to see students take advantage of every moment and every opportunity they have on this campus. It may sound trite, but if you throw yourself into your classes, get involved within the community, play hard and work harder, make friends with people who are a little different, visit your advisor's office, get to know someone in Laurinburg, take a

New to St. Andrews?

St. Andrews offers a variety of clubs and organizations for Students, Faculty, and Staff serving a wide range of interests. Listed below are Active clubs and the contacts of the individuals that oversee the daily operations. If you have any questions or concerns, feel free to contact the provided individuals.

Club Listings

Lions Club: For more information contact Andy Maginn at Maginnaw@sapc.edu.

Black Student Union- For more information contact Samuel Hemingway at Hemingways@sapc.edu

Psi Chi- For more information contact Deihlia Nye at Nyedm@sapc.edu

EcoAction- For more information contact Deihlia Nye at Nyedm@sapc.edu

Therapeutic Horesmanship Club: For more information contact Pebbles Turbeville at Turbeville@sapc.edu.

Highland Players: For more information contact Sara Dunaway at Dunawaysl@sapc.edu

Christian Student Union: For more information contact Lyndsey McCall at McCallm@sapc.edu.

Lamp and Shield: For more information contact Lyndsey McCall at McCallm@sapc.edu.

Campaign for a Cause: For more information contact Lyndsey McCall at McCallm@sapc.edu

Ganza Core: For more information contact Jen Bruner at Brunerja@sapc.edu.

History Club: For more information contact Dan Dupree at Dupreedh@sapc.edu.

Riding Council: For more information contact Christina Kalinski at Kalinskice@sapc.edu.

Paintball Club: For more information contact Patrick Sheegog at sheegogpj@sapc.edu.

Anime Club: For more information contact Sara Messina at Messinasl@sapc.edu

Women's Issues Club: For more information contact Betsy Dendy at Dendybet@sapc.edu

The Traveler Series Schedule

Sunday February 11- Myrtle Beach, SC

Broadway on the Beach

Hard Rock Cafe

Thursday, February 15- University of North

Carolina at Pembroke

Speaker: Nikki Giovanni

Saturday, March 17- Raleigh, NC

IMAX Theatre-Feature film to be announced at a later date.

Thursday, March 20- University of North Carolina at Pembroke

Speaker: Pat Buchanan

Thursday, April 19- University of North Carolina at Pembroke

Speaker: James Brown

Saturday, April 22- Morrow Mountain State Park

Hiking

Boating

Upcoming Metrolina Career Fair

Renee Jones

Career Services Director

A great way to find out about employers and what they are looking for is to attend a Career Fair. Career Fairs provide students with the opportunity to meet employers and set up interviews, etc. While St. Andrews does not currently have a Career Fair scheduled, we are actively involved in the Metrolina Career Consortium. Therefore, St. Andrews students are invited and encouraged to attend the upcoming Metrolina Career Fair on Thursday, February 22nd from 9am-4pm. The morning will be filled with information sessions and the afternoon with interviews which students need to sign up for. St. Andrews will provide transportation for students or they may go on their own. Students may plan to go for the day or stay at a rate of $50.00 per room. There is a sign up sheet in the Career Services Office; students need to sign up as well as indicate whether they will drive or ride, stay overnight or go for the day. More information is available at www.metrolinacolleges.com. This webpage provides a list of employers/recruiters, advice on preparation, and things to take with you. Hurry up and sign up!