

The New Editor of The Lance Speaks

By: Melody Kirkpatrick

It has been a great honor to be accepted into the St. Andrews Community but even a greater joy to be named the next Editor and Chief of The Lance. I plan to make The Lance entertaining, fun and a proud representation of St. Andrews Presbyterian College. The tradition of The Lance will continue with writers from different backgrounds and textures. I want a little something for everyone and the ideal goal is to include student and faculty writers that will hopefully capture the readers attention.

All thoughts, concerns, ideas and questions are welcomed from everyone because I want The Lance to be our place where all of us (St. Andrews) can share stories that might cause tear drops or stories of laughter. Most important it will be the source that will keep us all connected through the visions of our writers.

Last Words from the Soon to be Former Editor

By: Alicia Toke

It has been a wonderful year as your Editor-in-Chief of The Lance. I feel that it was a long but productive year for everyone and I hope you all enjoyed the issues that have been put out this year. Next year the tradition will continue and I am very happy that Melody is taking over.

I want to thank Melissa Hopkins, Gary Greene, and Edna Ann Loftus for always believing in me and keeping me on task with what needed to be done. I also want to thank all of my writers even though we are a small group without you there would not be a newspaper. Lastly I want to thank you, the reader for being there and reading this wonderful newspaper.

Thank you all from the bottom of my heart, without any of you there will be no Lance for people to enjoy. Thank you again, and please give Melody your support in the coming school year.
