

"THE SPORTS ANGLE"

By Yvonne D. Bland

Your sports editor, Mazor Slade Jackson, bids farewell, and wishes you good luck athletically.

Sports have improved around our campus as everyone can see. We have new games for indoor and outdoor play. On the inside, we find in the Gym aerial darts, badminton, table tennis, paddle tennis and shuffleboard. On the outside we have archery and golf.

You asked for these games; now you have them. Your editor begs you to play and play hard. As the saying goes, "An all-around student makes the best teacher."

We can not forget our major outdoor game, which is softball. It has really been a success with the students and faculty members.

From the Sport Angle, comes a wish that seniors may have the best of luck, and much success in whatever they do.

Happy vacation to the student! See you next fall!!

WHIZ KIDS AND TROTTERS HOLD DEADLOCK

With the intramurals softball coming to a climax we find the Whiz Kids and Trotters at a deadlock for the finals at one game won each, out of a three-game series.

The first of the series was copped by the Trotters as they rallied early in the innings to win by a score of 10 - 3.

The next day the Kids came back strong to set the pace on an even level again to upset the Trotters by a score of 16 - 2. The winning pitcher of the first game was Landon Miales of the Trotters who has done a tremendous job with the Trotters as its skipper. The losing pitcher was John Miller who also pitched the Kids to the top brackets.

Paul "Kit" Martin was the winning pitcher of the second game. He limited the Trotters to only three hits. This time Miales was on the receiving end. His team went down under a past but alert Whiz Kid nine.

The final game will be held Monday evening at 5:45.

This final game will determine who will be champions for the '53 - '54 year.

We, the sports editors, appreciate the participation of the student body in the intramurals. Your presence was a great help in carrying out the program. We hope that in the near future you (more of you) will be part of the program.

—Godfrey

AN OUTLOOK FOR THE FUTURE

The recent historical decision of the Supreme Court to bar racial segregation in schools brings to all people a brighter and more prosperous outlook for the future.

What can we, as a race, do to prove worthy of this decision? Surely we can be intelligent citizens, strive to attain the highest goals, take advantage of the educational opportunities, and work cooperatively for the welfare of humanity.

Often it is said that no one knows what the future will bring, but now we know that it will bring equal educational opportunities for all.

Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority on State Teachers College Campus

Delta Theta Chapter of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority was established at Elizabeth City State Teachers College by Dr. Rose Butler Browne, Director of the Middle Atlantic Region. Graduate sorors assisting Dr. Browne were Mesdames M. B. Williams, I. G. Jackson, E. A. Johnson, Louise Harris, Audrey M. Prather, Marguerite A. White, Alma M. Newby and Yvonne Wilson.

The members of Delta Theta are eager for work, and they have already started a Sunday School for the young children on the campus. Children attending the Sunday School are Gail Smith, Michelle Vaughan, Marsha White, William and Lorenzo Muldrow, Zondra Robinson and Deborah Jones.

When the college celebrated its annual Founder's Day, members of Delta Theta Chapter had a display of flowers on the front campus welcoming all visitors to the institution. They also offered their assistance as guides.

On April 2, the Ivy Leaf Club of Alpha Kappa Alpha gave a party for the sorors. Guest of honor was Soror Repsie Warren who was celebrating her birthday.

Recently three senior young ladies who are members of Delta Theta attended the regional conference held in Newport News, Virginia. They were: Soror Repsie Warren, Soror Ella Jones and Soror Mazor Slade Jackson. One outstanding member present at the conference was Soror Arnetta G. Wallace, Supreme Basileus of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority.

As members of Delta Theta Chapter we would like to encourage you to strive wholeheartedly and unitedly to inspire children, youth, and adults to take advantage of all the educational opportunities to them.

—Shirley Harrison, Reporter

Deltas Observe May Week

Members of Delta Chi and Epsilon Beta Sigma chapters of Delta Sigma Theta Sigma observed their annual "May Week" on May 10-16.

The week began with the Deltas sponsoring the religious services on the campus. On Wednesday a cultural program was presented in the auditorium during chapel hour. On Friday, Soror Yolanda Chambers, Attorney, of Norfolk, Virginia, was guest speaker in the auditorium during chapel hour. She chose as a topic "What Do You Want Out of Life?" This inspiring message was a challenge to all students to choose a vocation wisely and to their best advantage.

Continuing the observance, the sorors of Delta Chi and Epsilon Beta Sigma chapters attended church services at Mt. Lebanon A.M.E. Zion Church on Sunday, May 16, and later in the afternoon gave a tea honoring the high school seniors in this area. During the tea a donation was given Mrs. E. M. Spellman, Librarian of the Cale Street Memorial Library, to purchase additional books as a local project of the Sorority.

"May Week" observance was inspiring, and it is hoped that in coming years it will be equally as successful. We must prepare leaders for tomorrow.

The day when a little education was sufficient is long passed. But how can we have required education if we have no one to perform the duties of aiding children into getting a learning? I am sure that it is the wish of no one to have our American society wrecked, torn, or even destroyed by the evil forces of ignorance. I am afraid, however, that it will happen if we do not influence our young people to become teachers and leaders. Let us begin today by forming committees of one to see that we have our future quota of good teachers for our youth of tomorrow.

WITH THE FACULTY

Rev. James F. Banks, Director of Religious Activities at State Teachers College, will deliver the annual baccalaureate sermon at P. W. Moore High School Sunday, May 31, at 8:00 p.m. Rev. Banks holds an A.B. degree in Sociology, and a B.A. degree from the School of Religion, Virginia Union University, Richmond, Virginia.

Zeta Phi Beta Sorority Presents Variety Show

The Alpha Gamma Chapter of the Zeta Phi Beta Sorority presented a Variety Show in Moore Auditorium on the evening of May 6 for the benefit of the Athletic Fund.

The show opened with the cast singing "That's the Glory of Love." Agnes Canada and Cecelia Dowd then danced to the tune of "Walking My Baby Back Home." Barbara Copeland delighted the audience with the rendering of solos, "Summer Time" and "Luck Ole Sun." From the Training School were Helen Johnson, Jean Respass, and Geraldine Dance who gave their interpretation of a modern dance.

Helen Johnson also sang "I Believe" which was so greatly applauded by the audience that she gave as an encore "Changing Partners." "Late Date" was a pantomime by Mattie Seward; and "What a Life" a monologue by Katherine Torrence.

"The Wife Knows Best"

A one-act play, was the highlight of the show. The cast included: Edward Camen, Employer, and Naomi Powell, his wife; Thelma Waters, receptionist; Marylean Bingham as Miss Fabulous; Carrie Fuller, Miss Fabulous; Cherrie Fuller, Miss Inexpensive; Barbara Copeland, Miss Curiosity; and Gloria Gause, Miss Intelligence.

Other musical numbers were a piano and organ duet by Ramona Ausby and Chestina Fosque, "Sunny Side of the Street"; "Madam Butterfly" by Marylean Bingham who was accompanied by Mary Bynum.

The entire show was under the direction of Leona Chasten. Romona Ausby directed the music.

ZETAS AT WORK

The Alpha Gamma Chapter of the Zeta Phi Beta Sorority Incorporated are at work, portraying the finer womanhood which they represent.

A tea was given in their honor on our campus in the Recreation Hall by Chapters of Scotland Neck, Washington, Windsor and Rocky Mount. This was all planned under the leadership of the Basileus of the Scotland Neck Chapter, Mrs. Bessye Shields Wilder.

Another inspiring activity carried out by this chapter on our campus was the visitations to St. Phillips Episcopal Church recently to sing during the morning services.

The Zetas of this campus are trying to prove the finer womanhood which will make State Teachers College the campus of the year.

A GEM

Here stands S. T. C. her lovely halls surrounded by a beautiful campus. She is a Gem which challenges youth of today. With a broad curriculum and competent administration and faculty she prepares leaders for tomorrow—the greatest gift which can be offered college youth.

Democracy radiates from her; security is taken for granted; affection and friendship flourish within her walls.
