

RABBI SCHWARTZMAN
VISITS CAMPUS

Guest speaker for Assembly on February 6 was Rabbi Alan H. Schwartzman who gave an interesting lecture on "Jewish People in the Modern World."

Beginning by emphasizing the Jewish population of the world at large, he spoke of five and one-half million of the total eleven million Jews as being in the United States. He continued by saying that the Jews, having been rejected in the western world, seek education to its fullest extent. They remember Europe, their emancipation and the new birth made possible through education.

Rabbi Schwartzman told of changes in living which had greatly influenced Jewish thought. He referred to new religious concepts and explained how Jews had been classified on the basis of the acceptance or non-acceptance of these concepts.

In conclusion the Rabbi called attention to the fact that the Jews, although they realize they are a minority race, are still fighting liberally for human rights.

FRESHMEN IN PANEL DISCUSSION

On Wednesday, January 16, a section of the class in Freshman Composition under the direction of Dr. E. B. Winston sponsored an Assembly program.

Scripture and prayer were given by Ramon Rhinehart and a solo, "I Believe" was sung by Carlton Jones who was accompanied by Tran Barclift.

Curtis Bryan, Barbara White, Shirley Whitaker, and Thomas Hawkins were speakers for an inspiring panel discussion on world affairs which included: "World Issues", "Issues Before the Congress of the U. S. A.", "Issues Confronting Children and Youth", "Sports and Cultural Interest", respectively.

After the discussion, the audience joined the panel in a question and answer period.

ALPHA

Evelyn A. Johnson and special tributes by representatives of the several Greek Letter organizations on the college campus — Miss Peggy White for the Zeta Phi Beta Sorority, Mr. James Leathers for the Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, Miss Allene Jeffers for the Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, and Mr. Willie Gist for the Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity. Special instrumental music was furnished by Mr. Winston A. Bell of the College Department of Music.

Participants from the Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority included Miss Marva Thomas, Miss Marie Sharpless, Dr. E. B. Winston, as well as Miss Evelyn A. Johnson.

This year marks the forty-ninth anniversary of the internationally known Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, the first scholastic Greek Letter organization for Negro women in the United States of America. The organization was founded on the campus of Howard University, Washington, D. C. in 1908. For several years it has maintained a Foreign Fellowship Program which has made possible exchange of experiences in study and other significant contacts with various cultural groups throughout the world. Its present program includes several areas of human welfare with local as well as national and international projects and activities.

The Founders Day program was sponsored by Zeta Kappa Omega and Delta Theta chapters of the Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority at the Elizabeth City State Teachers College.

ALPHA KAPPA MU

Alpha Kappa Mu, the leading scholarship organization, sponsored Vespers in the College Auditorium on January 21 with President S. D. Williams as speaker. The choir under the direction of Tran E. Barclift rendered music.

Marie Riddick introduced the president who talked on the subject, "The Quitter," emphasizing the fact that many people make mistakes by failing to continue their work. As examples, he pointed out such characters as Columbus, Edison and Booker T. Washington who achieved their goals because they refused to quit.

Seniors Tour Campus

Following the Assembly, guides took high school seniors assigned to them for a tour of several buildings on the campus including dormitories, Science Hall, Laundry, Infirmary, Library and Dining Hall. Students touring were from: Marian Anderson High, Brawley High, C. S. Brown, Buckland, Conetoe, S. S. Cooper, W. S. Creecy, Currituck, Davis High, Duers Beauty School, East End, East Suffolk, Edenton, Gumberry, Willis Hare, Inborden, P. W. Moore, Oak City, Perquimans, Pitt County, R. L. Vann, Washington County, C. G. White and Winterville.

At Dinner

After touring the campus, seniors, accompanied by their high school teachers and guides, were ushered into the college Dining Hall. Here an appetizing meal awaited them. The courtesies shown by dining hall workers was most gratifying to the visitors.

Activities in Gymnasium

In the afternoon visiting high school seniors enjoyed activities held in the College Gymnasium.

The main feature was a game played between State Teachers College and the St. Paul Polytechnic Institute of Lawrenceville, Virginia.

It was a thrilling game in which St. Paul was whipped 69-56.

High scorers for S.T.C. were Randolph Tootle with 23 points and Henry Fields with 21.

Having enjoyed a day at the Elizabeth City State Teachers College, high school seniors and teachers expressed gratitude as they set out for their several communities.

College students who served as guides for High School Senior Day were: Clyde Arrington, Ivola Banks, Daisy Barclift, Mary Coffield, Janice Drew, Josephine Gray, Dorothy Hammonds, Frances Hawkins, Elizabeth Hunter, Vonnice Johnson, Alelia Koonce, Vivian Manley, Mary Marbley, Shirley Moody, Essie Mutts, Mary Pailin, Maude Ricks, Cleo Roberson, Marie Riddick, Janice Rogers, Vivian Sharpe, Marie Sharpless, Wilhelmina Smith, Joyce Spellman, Mary Spruill, Marva Thomas, Queen Wilson, Shirley Wright, and Shirley Uzzell.

SCIENCE IS FUN

Science is fun for those students who are enrolled in Science Methods 411 under the instruction of Mrs. D. E. Thomas. The students find working with projects so interesting that they willingly remain over after the class hour.

The first experiences began with the making of Slides on which various pictures on different grade levels were drawn, then colored and mounted. Other activities consisted of making Riker mounts in which insects, flowers, and leaves on cotton were put into a box covered with cellophane. Setting up an aquarium in which snails, fish, and tadpoles were placed, and a terrarium in which were lizards, green grass, and turtles was interesting also. Another unusual experience was to watch plants reproduce from seeds, spores, stems and roots.

Yes, science is fun, and you can have fun, too, if you enroll in Science Methods 411 next quarter.

WITH THE GREEKS

DELTA FOUNDERS HONORED

In observance of Founders Day, Epsilon Beta Chapter and Delta Chi Chapter of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Incorporated, assembled in Doles Hall at ten o'clock on the morning of February 3 and held an hour of meditation. The service, which was led by Soror Mary L. Wise, was very inspiring.

At the end of the meditation period, the Sorors went in a group to the Olive Branch Baptist Church, where they heard the Reverend M. L. Williams deliver an impressive sermon. They also joined with the members of the church in Holy Communion.

ZETA PHI BETA NEWS

A group of girls who desire to be affiliated with the Zeta Phi Beta Sorority are still trying to reach their goal. They have decided that they want to be representatives of finer womanhood and all that it stands for in the greatest human society. To maintain this goal, they must exhibit ladylike traits at all times.

The Archonian Club has elected officers as follows: president, Carolyn Jones; vice-president, Margaret Davis; secretary, Lillian Hollowell; assistant secretary, Beverly Howard; and treasurer, Adeline Price.

February is a month of important days. For us it is exceedingly important, for it is during this period that we celebrate our Finer Womanhood Week. Finer Womanhood will be observed on this campus Sunday, February 17, at 3 o'clock and will be continued throughout the following week.

DELTAS EXPAND
LOCAL PROJECT

Delta Chi Chapter of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Incorporated, has expanded its local project, the Story Hour, held each Saturday morning from ten to eleven o'clock. Included in the program hereafter will be activities with the Brownies, an auxiliary of the Girl Scouts of America. This change is in support of the Regional program, Delta Volunteers for Community Service.

Children of the local Brownie Troop No. 7, under the direction of Mrs. E. M. Spellman, were invited to the campus on February 2 for an introduction to the program. The group was organized by Sorors Daisy Barclift and Marie Riddick. Plans were made for carrying out the project which will provide for varied activities for the entertainment of the Brownies.

ASPIRING "FUTURE ZETAS"

Six aspiring young ladies who were not satisfied with their mere mediocrity, but who desired to press forward to new heights, new achievements and successes, became pledgees to the Archonian Club of the Zeta Phi Beta Sorority.

The pledgees were Carolyn Jones, Adeline Price, Margaret Davis, Beverly Howard, Lillian Hollowell and Annie R. Riddick.

As Zetas, we are happy to have these young ladies become a part of us and hope that they will climb toward the perfection of "Finer Womanhood," which is one of our objectives.
