

SENIOR CLASS VISITS HAMMOCKS BEACH

On Saturday, May 3, at 7:30 A.M., the Senior Class left for Hammocks Beach, accompanied by Miss E. Doris Meredith.

On the way to the Beach, the Class sang various community songs which were led by Annie Ruth Martin and Peggy White. The singing and observing the many interesting sights along the way made the trip a very pleasant one.

At the Beach the students enjoyed participating in the various games and dances, which included: tennis, volley ball, shuffle board, corquet, badminton, softball, fishing, crabbing, boat riding, "strolling" and "birdland".

A very delicious lunch consisting of potato salad, ham sandwiches, cookies, sodas and apples was enjoyed by all around a large picnic table.

At four o'clock, as the Class reluctantly prepared to leave, President Williams introduced President Rudolph Jones of the Fayetteville State Teachers College, who gave some very inspiring remarks.

WASHINGTON

a chance to see a library. It looked as though there were millions of books. I was interested in the arts, so that is where I spent most of my time.

After leaving the library, we rode to the Smithsonian Institute. This was where we saw gowns that were worn by wives of Presidents to Inaugural Balls. It was fascinating to see the laces and materials each woman wore. It would take several days to see the many things on display.

The next building was the Washington Monument, a very tall structure 555 ft. in height. One can reach the top by taking the elevator or the stairs. The choice is with the individual. On reaching the top we could see all over Washington and much of Virginia.

I am sorry to say because of traffic we did not get inside Lincoln Memorial, but we shall go next time.

We left there and ended our day at the Jefferson Memorial. As the wind blew, and the day drew near its close, we read the inscription which caused us to realize more fully our great American heritage.

Please explore these places at your first opportunity. You will never forget the experience.

ular song, "My Heart Reminds Me," especially arranged with modern chord structures by the director; and "Copa Cabana," a samba, completed this section.

Kern's "Ol' Man River," from Showboat, opened the third and final section. This was followed by two outstanding instrumental solos that featured Martha Purvis playing "Capricious Aloysius" and James Majette playing "Blue Bells of Scotland," a trombone solo with variations. The highlight of this section was the Overture from "The King and I" from the stage and screen production of the same name. The program concluded with the famous "Klaxon March" by Fillmore.

B. R. H. NEWS

The residents of B. R. H. have sponsored a series of activities during the school year of 1957-58 which were designed to acquaint young men and women with social graces and other qualities needed to develop a well-rounded individual. These activities have attracted the attention of young men and women on campus, faculty members, as well as residents of Elizabeth City. For each program there was a large number attending, which was an indication that the type of activities sponsored were enjoyed.

The activities for the year included: decoration of the dormitory for "Homecoming"; the "Annual Christmas Tea"; panels on 'Sororities and Fraternities', "Boy-Girl Relationships" and "Manners", sponsored by the Junior Counselors. There have been a social hour each Tuesday and Thursday evening from 6:00 until 7:30 p.m. and a dating hour each Sunday evening from 7:00 until 9:00 p.m.

On Awards Day, Bias Hall residents are giving two $5.00 awards to girls in B. R. H., one to an outstanding freshman and another to a sophomore. Also the young ladies are anticipating their "Annual Spring Dance" which will be held in the College Gymnasium.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE WOMEN'S GLEE CLUB

The Women's Glee Club under the direction of Miss E. L. Davis has had a very successful year. They performed for many occasions, both on and off the campus, including: the Annual Christmas Breakfast, an Operetta "The Castaways", the Coronation Ball, Vesper and Chapel services, a Martha Washington Tea at Mount Lebanon Church and morning services at the Antioch Presbyterian Church.

The officers for the year were: President, Evelyn Harris of Courtland, Va., a member of the Junior Class and the Thalys Sorosis Club.

Secretary, Evelyn Byrd of Rocky Mount, North Carolina, an honor roll student of the Sophomore class, a member of the Delta Sigma Theta Sorority and the Women's Government.

Treasurer, Yvonne Hare of Winton, North Carolina, a member of the Sophomore Class, the F. T. A., and the Women's Government.

Librarian, Shirley Whitaker of Enfield, North Carolina, a member of the Sophomore Class, Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, and the Women's Government.

Assistant Librarian and Reporter, Louise Hoffer of Elizabeth City, North Carolina, a member of the Sophomore Class and the Newsletter Staff.

The Glee Club was composed of eighteen members. The first sopranos were Evelyn Harris, Vivian Eason, Myrtle Hall, Ellen Simms, and Yvonne Hare; the second sopranos, Evelyn Byrd, Barbara Ransome, Shirley Whitaker, Jaquoline Parker, Lois Parker, Barbara White, Annie Riddick and Louise Hoffer; the altos, Ethel Yelity, Marie Elliot, Florence Mace, Rose Cherry and Mary Lewis.

On Awards Day an emblem will be presented to Louise Hoffer, a faithful, loyal and co-operative member of the Women's Glee Club.

MRS. VIVIAN CARTER MASON

AKA SORORITY PRESENTS PUBLIC RELATIONS CONSULTANT

Dr. Vivian Mason, who is Public Relations Consultant in Norfolk, Virginia, spoke to the college family and friends during the assembly, April 16, on "We The People".

"The phrase 'We The People' refers to all people in all walks of life," declared the speaker. Each person has a responsibility, and a teacher has the greatest responsibility of all. A teacher is the most important person in the world. We must be concerned about the quality of education and must strive to be good teachers. The world needs good teachers who will be able to develop the minds of children and enable them to compete with children of other races.

She further stated that the launching of the Russian satellite turned a microscopic light on American education. In contrasting American and Russian schools, she stated that American schools have many extra-curricular activities in which students spend a great deal of their time that should be spent academically. On the other hand, the Russian children attend school mainly to learn the material between the covers of books. In her opinion extra curricular activities in American schools should be cut down where they will be subordinate to academic work.

She further stated that we must make learning the most important thing in our lives.

A NEW DELTA IN THE NEWS

Shirley J. Wiggins, a senior, was recently initiated into Delta Chi Chapter of Delta Sigma Theta, Inc. She is a native of Nashville, North Carolina, and an active member of several campus organizations. She was "Miss S.T.C." for the school year 1957-58.

Following the initiation, Delta Chi entertained at a breakfast in her honor at the home of the adviser, Soror E. H. Mitchell.

DELTAS AND OMEGAS HONORED

The Pyramid Club of Delta Chi Chapter of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority and the Lampodas Club of Lambda Gamma Chapter of Omega Psi Phi Fraternity entertained their Big Sisters, the Deltas, and their Big Brothers, the Omegas, at a party on May 14 in the City Students Lounge.

As the guests entered, there was an enjoyable atmosphere, for "Jammin With Gene" by Gene Ammons was playing, and the Lounge was decorated beautifully with red and white crepe paper.

After all the guests had arrived, Hezekiah Cooper gave a welcome address. Then all participated in games and dances as they chatted on various subjects.

During intermission, remarks were made by the sponsors, Mrs. Mitchell & Mr. Bagley; also chapter presidents, Vivian Sharpe and Sannie Chamblee. Following this, the Pyramids, the Lampodas, the Deltas and the Omegas sang some of their favorite songs. Then the Pyramids served refreshments which consisted of punch, mints, peanuts, cookies and potato chips.

Following intermission, everyone enjoyed playing games, dancing and chatting until the clock said. It's time to say, Good-night.

BAND

The band was under the direction of H. Leon Prather, who initiated the training of the present organization ten years ago. According to many band followers, this performance topped all previous concerts by the College Band.
