Maryland Takes 3 (Overtimes) to Defeat E.C. 111-109

Trotman and Johnson went all out to defeat the Maryland State Hawks, but fell short in a triple overtime.

Maryland got the lead 2-0 from the first jump ball. But, Elizabeth City tied it up, and the ball started rolling at a rapid pace. Tipping, shooting and rebounding at the best as the game went. Jackson moved the ball for Maryland as Trotman piloted Elizabeth City. The half ended 40-38 with Maryland holding a 2 points edge.

Starting the second half, the determined Pirates worked as a well organized machine in their effort to capture Maryland, but Maryland had their ideas. Johnson and Mayfield started clicking for the Pirates. Jackson and Morris were leading Maryland as the final seconds drew near. Maryland was leading 90-88 when Trotman shot and missed; however, Carson tipped the ball ending the game in a 90-90 deadlock. The first overtime ended 97-97; the second, 102-102 and the third and final one 111-109.

Byes Outclassed Broncs Outclassed

The Pirates, bidding for a tournament berth, downed the Fayetteville State Broncs 85-49.

The victory continued Elizabeth City's chances to make the CIAA Tournament. Slow starting at the beginning, the Pirates couldn't seem to find that extra power to get going. But, as the game progressed, Fayetteville started looking for scoring punches. The half ended with Elizabeth City leading 36-23.

Elizabeth City was leading, yet having a hard time finding that workability as a team. Fayetteville's task was much more difficult as they couldn't find scoring punches or workability. It was apparent that the two teams were not at their best.

From a slow game to a slower game, Elizabeth City was again to walk off from Fayetteville in the latter part of the game to win 85-49.

Scoring Johnson 19, Trotman 15, Carson 14, Francis 8, Mackey 6, Neal 5, Davis 4, Cox 2 and Sutton 1. For Fayetteville, Bibby got 16 and Winters 14 points.

Pirates Nip Union

The Pirates rallied in the second half to defeat Virginia Union after losing a 19-point lead.

Union, with a young but fast growing team invaded the Pirates court for victory. Gibbs started a scoring attack for Union. Then Johnson and Trotman steered the Pirates with 12 points each. As a nip and tuck, first half ended with Elizabeth City holding a comfortable ten-point lead, 50-40.

Spencer Mayfield started the second half off with a jump shot from the key. Then, Union caught on fire as the Pirates froze up for five minutes and 20 seconds, and closed the gap. Their lead of 19 points had been sliced to three. Tension hit the crowd, as Willie Francis, a 6'6" sophomore from Franklin, Virginia, hit the basket with two and broke the cold streak. Trotman and Carson led the team. The Pirates began to play for the good and easy layup shot and nipped the Virginia Union Panthers 89-83.

Elizabeth City Runs Over Norfolk State "Trotman Scored 63"

Elizabeth City State Teachers College Pirates went on a scoring rampage against the Norfolk State Spartans and defeated the Spartans 121-82. Marvelous Marvin Trotman thrilled the crowd with his unusual display of basketball, and tallied 63 points to set a new C.I.A.A. record.

The Pirates led the game from the start, as they continually and consistently worked the ball into the center of the Spartans' defense. The Pirates had a 23 to 13 lead in the first five minutes of the game and posted a 53 to 44 lead at the end of the first two periods.

At the beginning of the second two periods the Spartans fought their way back into the game. Carson, Johnson, Francis, Mayfield and Trotman started another scoring attack as the score ticked away slowly. Johnson, a phenomenal rebounder, along with Francis, snatched rebounds which set up fast breaks as Norfolk's defense started collapsing.

The defensive strategy, being very effective for the Pirates all during the game, became stabilized at this point. This was the third victory of a three game winning streak for the Pirates. Scoring—Trotman 63, Johnson 21, Mayfield 12, Francis and Carson, each courting for most of the points. Hunter with 16 and Graham 13 led the Spartans.

E. C. Trips Shaw

After losing to Shaw earlier in the season, the E. C. Pirates won an impressive 83-66 victory on Shaw's home court.

The combination of Johnson and Trotman led the Pirates' victory battle. Shaw was out for its second victory over the Pirates, but the Pirates were seeking revenge. An exciting crowd of 600 at Shaw University were cheering in the corner of the Bears as the game began. After a tip-top game for the first 14 minutes in the first half, the Shaw Bears began to fall behind 42-34.

Francis and Johnson, cleaning the boards, began to give the team that needed power in the second half. Shaw rested her regulars with reserves, and so did Coach Bobby Vaughan, and the scoring continued. The Pirates were holding an 8 to 10 lead. Trotman, Mayfield, Carson and Sutton started finding the old form as the Pirates rolled to an 83-66 victory.

Trotman scored 24; Johnson, 21; Mayfield and Carson 10 each to account for most of the scoring. James joured in 37 points for the losers.

Call to My Brother

Come, fellow students, let us go forth into the field of knowledge.

Let us lodge there unafraid; Let us learn of the learned; Let us hear echoes of things they said.

Yet, let us not be lax in performance. Let us prepare a field or two, so that for future generations, They will serve as a lasting view.

Dancers Rehearsing For Festival

The members of the College Modern Dance Group under the direction of Mrs. Valeria Vaughan have been working very diligently, rehearsing for the Fine Arts Festival. Many of the dances are being taught by members of the Dance Group who have taken the course in Modern Dancing.

The members feel that dancing is a way of expressing the emotions. They know that every movement of the body — the sway of the hips, the kicking of the legs or the moving of the fingers — has a purpose in creating the mood of the dance.

Dancing is not only a way of expressing the emotions; it is an exercise; it is one of the best means to develop the muscles, and develop the physical beauty of the human body. It also helps the dancer to have poise and balance.

With these things in mind, the members of the Dance Group are hoping that the Dance Recital this year will surpass the performance of 1961.

To nearly all people there comes a time when the struggle seems hardly worthwhile. Yet history tells us that one of persistence, in times of discouragement comes success.

Sophomore sensation Willie Francis and Marvelous Marvin Trotman teamed up with 19 and 27 points respectively to upset the A&T "Aggies" of Greensboro, on "Marvin Trotman Night" 92-89.

The powerful "Aggies" invaded "Pirate Land", with a host of "tall trees" on their team, to better their record with a win over the "Pirates". The "Pirates" shooting for a possible first in the CIAA Tournament were prepared.

The game got underway as the "Aggies" took the opening rebound and scored 2 points. Marvin Trotman soon got the "Pirates" back into the game with his 2 points, and another brilliant sophomore, Brady Johnson, followed him with 2 more. The Pirates, fired up with the red-hot hand of Willie Francis, began to pull away from the strong "Aggies" team with 5 minutes and 4 seconds remaining in the first half, and led 43-32 at the half.

Marvin Trotman, all-CIAA, began to find his own in the second half. His variety of passes and exquisite ball-handling kept the spectators on the edges of their seats. The "Aggies" began to fight back with strategy and height to overcome Bobby Vaughan's well-disciplined team. Basketball at its best was being displayed. Sutton, Carson, Mackey, Mayfield, Neal and Davis were being shuffled in and out of the "Pirates" line-up to keep a well-rested team on the court with the fleet-footed "Aggies". While both teams were firing at the basket, the clock was ticking away at a rapid pace. One point separated the two teams in the last minute and 35 seconds as the lead exchanged hands 3 times. Trotman and Mayfield scored key free-throws to give the "Pirates" an exciting 92-89 victory as Trotman played in his last game.

Trotman was honored after the game by the President, Commissioner of CIAA Conference, Coach, teammates and friends in a warm and inviting ceremony in his behalf.

In a sense, nothing is simply done itself. Someone has to do everything that is done. Someone who has one has to make final decisions. The sincerest satisfactions in life come in doing and not in dodging duty, in meeting and solving problems, in facing facts, in being a dependable person. And one of the great discoveries in life is finding a dependable person.
