

Dire Diathermy

At ECSC for the past months, operations of numerous types have been carried on successfully. The interns are students in the Electronic-Surgical Laboratory under the direct supervision of (Dr.) Waverly T. Jones. Visitors to the Lab have included Dr. Watt, Dr. Ohm, Dr. Volt and Dr. Resistance.

All the doctory gentlemen are major performers in the operations. Many campus patients have been brought to the Lab for successful surgical transplants.

Veins (wires) of all types have been removed and replaced with blood pressure (alternating and direct current), essential to the life of the patient, was supplied free by the Lab with pulse (center) being checked by Mr. Volt Meter.

Miss Television, of Bias Hall, a recent patient, was stricken with deteriorated arteries (tubes) but she has completely recovered because of the fine work done by our interns.

Skin grafting (electroplating) has been of especial value in preventing the death of various patients (machines) and it is hoped that usage of the technique will lead to new discoveries.

If you know sick patients, urge their being brought in for recuperation. Join our waiting list (Mr. Phonograph, Miss Radio, Mrs. Portable, etc.).

Don't worry about your loved one. Our Motto stands: "Don't shiver; we deliver!"

"Kaleidoscope" Presented

Kaleidoscope, the new musical group presented by Elizabeth City State College Lyceum Series at Moore Hall Auditorium on Friday, November 22 at 8:00 P.M., took a novel approach to the song recital. In a striking departure from the conventional, Kaleidoscope drew upon the resources of modern stage craft to create a tapestry of sight and sound.

The members of the group are Irving Barnes, Martha Flowers, Doris Gallier and Garrett Morris. They have starred in "Porgy and Bess," as well as having appeared in such Broadway shows as "The King and I," "Free and Easy," "Finnian's Rainbow," "Jamaica," "Carmen Jones," "Show Boat," and "Around the World in Eighty Days."

Along with these appearances, they have sung in recitals at Carnegie and Town Halls and have been featured as soloists with the "Harry Belafonte Folk Singers."

Kaleidoscope was the third presentation of the Lyceum Series. It is one of eight concerts and lectures, scheduled for the school year by the Lyceum Committee of which Mrs. Mary Ann W. Franklin, assistant professor of Science, is chairman.

Students at SNEA Meet

Melvin Riddick, Colbert and Colin Mingo, along with Mrs. Hazel G. Spellman, advisor, attended the state meeting of the Student National Education Association (SNEA) held at Winston-Salem (North Carolina) State College on October 6.

A report via a panel on the Columbus, Ohio Conference of SNEA (June 20-22) served to highlight the occasion. This panel included in its presentations a report on the National Convention of SNEA, held in Detroit this past summer.

Panelists: Regina Patterson (Winston-Salem State College), president of the State SNEA; Dorothy Vann (Clafin College, Orangeburg, S. C.), national secretary of SNEA; Dr. Brown of North Carolina College (Durham).

The state conference developed as its theme for the year, "social re-

Artist and Wrestler

BILL COX

Hail to William Cox, a senior here who has made excellent contributions in the field of art and of whom much is expected during the forthcoming wrestling season. This, however, is about his artistry.

Cox represented the College's Art Department at the 5th Annual Meeting of the National Conference of Artists at Atlanta University (Atlanta, Georgia) April 12-14, 1963. In the same month he won two money awards in art during the College Awards Program. Later, for a drawing sent to the State Fair held in Elizabeth City (October 13-18), Mr. Cox won first prize.

Cox, whose home is Warsaw, Va., entered ECSC in the Fall of '62 as a transfer student from Saint Paul's College (Lawrenceville, Va.). He is an Art major, captain of the Wrestling Team, a musician in his own right and an Honor Roll student.

Much success to Bill, who hopes to get his master's degree at N.Y.U. and then go into the field of Commercial Art.

Choir Reorganized

The Elizabeth City State College Choir has already begun preparing for another year of hard work.

Different from previous years, the Choir is divided into two sections. The title given to one is the "General Choir," composed of new and former members. Under the direction of Mr. Wendell Wilson and accompanied by Mr. L. R. Ballou, the General Choir will perform for various programs during the school year.

The "Concert Choir" is directed by Miss Evelyn A. Johnson and accompanied by Miss Edna L. Davis. It consists of former Choir members also, as well as selected new members. This particular division engages in more difficult music and will be the official representative of the College (special programs, tours, etc.). We welcome new members to the College Choir and hope that they will enjoy the organization and benefit from the many things it offers.

sponsibility above self." Business matters from local chapters and the matter of accreditation of colleges in SNEA formed other items on the agenda.

State and national notables were present to give the benefit of their knowledge and experience including Dr. Charles A. Lyons, Jr., executive secretary of the North Carolina Teachers Association (NCTA) and a former ECSC dean; Dr. Lafayette Packer, president of NCTA; and Mrs. Elizabeth D. Keontz of Salisbury, State SNEA consultant and head of the NCTA Division of Classroom Teachers.

Members of the P. W. Moore Chapter of SNEA ask all ECSC students, regardless of classification or area of study, to join this organization. "Know tomorrow's educational trends today!"

Lighthouse Lookout

The Lighthouse of Elizabeth City State College is our College Center. It is affiliated with the National Association of College Unions.

In the Lighthouse we have a program which is designed to meet the needs of our college family. In order that the program of the Lighthouse may be carried out, there are six planning committees. These committees are Fine Arts, Forum, Social Dance, Recreation, Hospitality, and Student Activities.

The Lighthouse is not just a "campus hang-out," rather, it is an organization and a program. It attempts to promote moral, social, cultural, and educational development. Through all of the various aspects of development the Lighthouse seeks to help prepare each student for life in order that each may be a worthy and capable citizen of our democracy.

Here, many students may wonder just what can I do to make our program an even greater success? Well, you may come into the Lighthouse and join committees. For it is here that the planning of our social, cultural, moral, and educational programming begins.

You must remember that it is up to you to come in and help develop the programs that you would like to see developed on this campus.

Let us remember that it is through social, cultural, and moral training that we become educated for life in our modern world. The great philosopher John Dewey stated that: "Education is not a preparation for life but education is life itself."

Come help the Lighthouse help you!

—Jean Rowlett

Combat

Complacent and calm rests the glowing tide, Wider than the heart is wide, Far deeper than the sea is deep on either side.

Suddenly an attack of this dream— Smoothers the serene, complacent thing from every side.

Forcibly I battle this destiny, Yet with this enemy I sense the cruel agony. I dread this enmity!

Striking each part and seeking to conquer the whole with a poisonous dart, I do not fear; I am bold!

Triumphantly I gaze at the once-eroded tide, I watch the crescent color reside to a corner of defeat. I spy sunset

Across the golden plains. I watch it etch the purple sky into flames— flames galore!

Now peace reigns forever and evermore.

—Thelma Howard

Talented

JUDY MOORE

Judith Moore is a senior art major pressed more than one adjudicator when her art works have been on display.

Judy won 1st prize in the Atlantic District Fair (Ahoskie) back in October 1958 for a pencil sketch (a landscape) of her's. Two years later she won 3rd prize for a ceramic piece and in 1962 she won 1st prize for a self-portrait.

During the Fair in Elizabeth City (October, 1963), Miss Moore won 2nd prize for a fashion sketch which she submitted. Prize-winning is getting to be a habit for this talented lass.

Judy transferred here from North Carolina College at Durham which she entered after finishing the W. S. Creech High School in Rich Square, N. C. She has not announced plans for her career, after she finishes ECSC, but one may be reasonably certain that the design includes art. We wish her every success. She is a gifted person and a hard worker. Meanwhile, congratulations to Judith Moore for her accomplishments!
