Representatives and their guests from Camden, Chowan, Currituck, Dare, Gates, Hyde, Pasquotank, Perquimans, Tyrrell and Washington Counties were welcomed by Dr. Walter N. Ridley, president of the College. Mr. J. M. Sprull of Perquimans County presided.

Mr. W. T. Ellis, the eastern district supervisor of Vocational Agriculture, from Greensboro, North Carolina, was the guest speaker. He was introduced by Mr. W. H. Harrell, a vocational agricultural teacher, Camden County.

The President of the Albemarle Association, Mr. Richard S. R. Coston, Chairman; and the Third Prize of $60 was won by the Newland Community, Perquimans County Association, Mr. W. McPherson, Chairman. In addition three other competing communities representing Camden, Chowan, and Currituck Counties were awarded $50 each.

The Agricultural Extension Agent at Elizabeth City, Mr. Percy Williams stated (in a television interview) "The generous contributions from the business men of the local communities (representing individual businesses, banks, and newspapers) made these awards possible. Prizes are awarded on the basis of progress made by community associations toward the goals of the Association where main objectives are to help people raise their standard of living through better home planning and management, encourage home improvement, promote group work projects, youth programs in the community, and teaching good citizenship."

Others who participated on the Awards Program were the Reverend P. B. Mackey of Pasquotank County; Mrs. L. B. Woodhouse, a Vocational Home Economics Teacher at Camden County; and Mrs. George Lewis, chairman of the Albemarle Area Development Association.

Music was provided by the Elizabeth City State College Choir, and by the Johnson Singers of Perquimans County.

You Have It, We Need It

In its May, 1962 issue, the COMPASS asked the student body for news of its doings and its organizations. The only change between then and now is in the name of the paper. Then it was the "Newsletter" now it is the "Compass." The news is still hard to come by.

How about not being "too busy" to tell your student newspaper about YOUR activities.

Sometime

Sometime, when you're feeling important,
Sometime, when your ego's in bloom,
Sometime, when you take it for granted,
You're the best qualified in the room.

Sometime, when you feel that your going,
Would leave an unfillable hole,
Just follow this simple instruction,
And see how it humbles your soul.

Take a bucket and fill it with water,
Put your hand in it, up to the wrist,
Pull it out; and the hole that's remaining,
Is a measure of how you'll be missed.

You may splash all you please when you enter,
You can stir up the water galore,
But stop, and you'll find in a minute,
That it looks quite the same as before.

The moral in this quaint example,
Is do just the best you can,
Be proud of yourself, but remember,
There's no indispensable man.

"When you can do the common things of life in an uncommon way you'll command the attention of the world."
—George Washington Carver

the Davis Funeral Home. He was a member of Golden Leaf Lodge #142, IBOPE of W, and a life long member of Olive Branch Baptist Church.

In 1959, Mr. Davis established the Hugh Cale Student Loan Fund at Elizabeth City State College through an original gift of $1,000. This fund was named for the Negro member of the North Carolina Legislature who introduced the Bill establishing our College. Mr. Cale was a personal friend and advisor to Mr. Davis. The fund furnishes loans for students in emergencies and has been used by hundreds of ECSC students in pursuit of their education.

By action of the Board of Trustees taken the day of his funeral, the Hugh Cale Student Loan Fund will henceforth be known as the Davis-Cale Loan Fund. This action was taken by the Board to do honor to the memory of John Thomas Davis.

We mourn his loss.

Frank G. Jennings Speaks

Faculty members and students were entertained by Frank G. Jennings, January 10, 1964, in the High Cale Hall Lounge. This followed his Lyceum lecture on the previous evening concerning "Community Commitment to Education."

A former teacher and editor of the Education Supplement of the Saturday Review of Literature, Mr. Jennings is now Educational Consultant of the New World Foundation of New York City.

Highlighting a question-answer period after a Coffee Hour in the Cale Lounge, Jennings provided answers to many points raised, these coming from his lecture the evening before. Some questions got clearer explanations than time allowed in the lecture period.

Mr. Jennings emphasized that students should do more outside reading and not just read the required books. He said, "The student should not just say that he is majoring in one particular field, but is majoring in college." This means that we as students should not restrict our reading to our major fields but should explore widely outside of our specializations.

The speaker's address and subsequent informal comments were beneficial to all who listened. A Lyceum attraction on January 9, he was the guest of the Modern Language Department on January 10.

The next Lyceum event will be Dr. Howard Thurman, Dean of the Chapel at Boston University, who will lecture here and be a seminar guest on March 21, at 8 p.m.
