

Business Department on The Move

By Earnestine Golsberry and Eugene Thompson

The Business Education Department has as its primary objective the training of students in basic business, technical, and education subjects in the secondary school. These students will also be prepared to render secretarial and accounting service in business, industry and government. The Department further seeks to provide instruction which will serve as a foundation for those students who aspire to pursue professional training.

These statements may be found in the College catalogue.

Dr. Carl M. Franklin, chairman of the department, stated that the enrollment has increased by 198 students since 1960 with 81 graduates in the class of 1965.

Among the Class of 1965 from the Business Department was the "bearer of the mace," Otha Synnor, who is now working on his Master's Degree at New York University.

There has been a rapid growth of equipment. It has increased approximately from $2,000.00 to $20,000.00. They have access to approximately $75,000.00 worth of Data Processing equipment from the Data Processing Center.

The students of the department may be found in various places on the campus, such as interns in offices, on athletic teams and in other leading organizations on Campus. The professional organization of the Department is Phi Beta Lambda. Mr. Elbert Moore is the current president.

"Grunters" Look For Good Season

Coach Roy "Bulldog" Knight is not sure yet sure what the wrestling season will have in store for him. He has lost his heavyweight champ and is having trouble replacing him. Due to illness, Horace Griffin was unable to return to school the first semester. This has also put a big hole in the team.

With the return of five veterans, Coach Knight hopes to come up with a fair season. Those veterans returning are Julius Webb, Bill Kirkpatrick, Willie Gafney, O'Neal Stephenson, and Wayne Holmes. Much of the weight will rest on the shoulders of these men. Griffin is expected to return the second semester.

All matches are open to the public.

Todd Off to Good Start

Basketball Gets Underway

The lanky hoopsters of "Vikingland" are once more on the hardwood. The first three games have been played on the road. The Vikings now stand 2-1 in the CIAA standings.

The first game was a losing effort as the Maryland State Hawks defeated the Vikings December 3, by a score of 88-79. Despite the loss, Richard Todd was able to come up with a big night, scoring 25 points. He was followed by Douglas Brown, who hit for 24 points and Gary Stubbins, 15.

The following night, the Vikings journeyed to Dover, Delaware to take on Delaware State. There the showing was much better. After a hard fought game, the Vikings found themselves the victors by a score of 97-93. Oscar Smith was the big gun in this game as he poured in 22 points. Todd hit for 21 points and Frederick Lewis, 20.

On December 11, the Vikings invaded the home of the Hampton Pirates. As always the Pirates proved to be tough, but the Vikings were a bit tougher. Stubbins and Todd tied for high point man with 22 points a piece. Douglas Brown was next with 20 points on the record book.

Although the 1965-66 season is just underway, the Vikings and their "Header", Coach "Bobby" Vaughan are sure of a big, long, hard, but victorious season.

Famous Harpist

first harpist with the Budapest Philharmonic.

As a soloist he toured the world, visiting such places as Austria, Poland, Romania, Bulgaria, as well as the Soviet Union. He is widely known for encouraging modern composers to enrich the concert repertoire with the harp. He is also engaged in helping the education of talented youth.

Mr. von Wurtzler included three of his compositions on the program: "Prayer," "Capriccio," and "Concert Improvization." Some of his compositions, and his arrangements of Bartok compositions, are being published.

RICHARD TODD

Richard Todd, Senior Physical Education major, has gotten the basketball team off to a nice start with his skillful shooting. If his sharp shooting continues, Coach Vaughan and his Vikings hope to earn a slot in the CIAA Tournament this season. Already he has mounted sixty-eight points in his scoring column in our first three official opening games of the season.

Todd has been an outstanding player on the hardwood all of his career. His selection by the judges proves that he still has much to show to the sports world. Last year Todd maintained a good scoring record and made the All-Tournament team in the Sixth Annual Holiday Festival Cage Tournament at Norfolk State College. He also made the all-CIAA team for '65.

Basketballers End Perfect Exhibition Season

In preparation for the regular basketball season, the Fighting Vikings turned in a perfect exhibition season. If this is any indication as to what will happen during the regular season, then Coach Vaughan can look forward to a wonderful series. The team is made up mostly of Seniors and they should finally come into their own.

This is the way the exhibition season went.
Vikings 69 Substant 68 (Norfolk, Va.)
Vikings 88 Gators 74 (Norfolk, Va.)
Vikings 102 Atlantic Christians 95
Vikings 80 Gators 73
Vikings 94 Flyers 77 (Little Creek, Va.)
Vikings 105 East Carolina College 89.

Christmas Parade Held

By Rosa Riddick

Amid one of the largest and most excited crowds that this city has ever encountered, the Elizabeth City Christmas Parade, on Tuesday, December 1, 1965, marked the beginning of the Christmas season for this area.

With bright-colored marching bands, flashy floats, and dazzling displays of decorated automobiles, the spirit of the holiday season was ushered in. As each float, band, automobile and majorette proceeded along, the excitement of the crowd seemed to flow, like that of a tide.

Numerous college students attending the parade added excitement and joy to the beginning season with their waves and ear to ear grin, at their fellow classmates.

There was Miss Elizabeth City, (Miss Beverly White) who added to the atmosphere of joyous excitement, and all civic groups of this area.

All of the schools had bands and some even had floats. The most impressive of all was that of P. W. Moore High, of Elizabeth City, N. C.

The Parade climaxed with that jolly old man himself, "Santa Claus" in his sleigh, waving to all the children.
