

Guest Speaker at Lighthouse Leadership Kick-off Supper

Mr. Clarence Biggs, graduate of the class of 1962, first president of the Lighthouse College Center, speaker at the Lighthouse Leadership Kick-Off Supper, Friday, October 6, is greeted by Miss Shirley Blount, co-chairman of the Social Dance Committee, following his address. In an inspiring address on the value of leadership training, Mr. Biggs urged the students to join one of the five student committees as a way to develop themselves fully while on campus.

Mr. Biggs teaches Chemistry, Physics and Science at the E. J. Hayes High School, Williamston, N. C., and is chairman of its Science Department. He is an active member of the Martin County Unit of the Department of Classroom Teachers, and a member of its Executive Committee. He is also chairman of the Resolutions Committee of the Northeastern District of the N. C. Teachers Association and is a responsible citizen in his community.

"Lighthouse Events"

The Lighthouse College Center is proud to let you know what has been going on from the many events scheduled for this year's activities.

On October 15, the President, Celestine Ashe and the Secretary Dorothy McWilliams of the Lighthouse were happy attendants at the Association of College Union International Region V Conference. The conference was held at the University of Tennessee from October 15-17.

Be sure to watch for other exciting events from your Lighthouse College Center.

Seniors Exhibit Art

Two promising seniors, Bernard Dickens and Rudolph Brown, who are art majors featured some of their works in the Lighthouse College Center.

Bernard Dickens is a native of Rocky Mount. He has received many awards and medals for his artistic achievements. Bernard was interested in art at a very early age.

During his attendance at ECSC, Bernard participated in numerous exhibitions throughout various parts of North Carolina.

After graduation, Bernard plans to teach and to attend graduate school.

Rudolph Brown is a native of Williamston. At a very early age, he showed an interest in art. His particular interest is working with wire paper and strings.

While at ECSC Rudolph exhibited in various high schools of North Carolina some of his works which were included in the ECSC Art Department's Art Loan Student Exhibition.

After graduation from college, Rudolph plans to teach art and further his education by going to graduate school.

The art exhibit is found in the Lighthouse College Center and will remain there until November 1, 1967. The Exhibition is sponsored by the Art Department of Elizabeth City State College.

Rena Says: Bias Hall "Get On The Ball!"

The Freshmen this year are finding it hard getting adjusted to college life. The mere fact is we don't have our time budgeted right with our homework and outside requirements.

One of the main things is that they have a feeling that they are looked down upon and they don't have the feeling of equality.

We have't elected any officers nor have we planned any parties within the dorm for ourselves.

So to show the upperclassmen that we have the spirit my parting words are "Get On The Ball!"
