Effect of reorganization on Black Schools

discussed

The effect of propos-als for 'reorganization' of higher education in of higher education in North Carolina on Black schools was the subject of a recent meeting in Raleigh between various Black student leaders and Rep. Henry Frye of Guil-ford county and Rep. George Johnson of Roberson county.

In session with the two Black state legislators were Jerry Walker, President of the Student Government Association (SGA) at North Carolina Central University in Durham: Earl Hart, SGA president at Winston Salem State University; Eddie Davis, SGA president of Elizabeth City State University, S, Gall State University, Sis, Gall State University, Sis, Gall In session with the two

State University, Sis. Gail

Thomas, SGA vice-president at North Carolina A&T State University in Greensboro and vice-president Drew Sebas-tian from the SGA at Shaw University in Raleigh.

Nelson Johnson, national chairman of the Student Organization for Black Unity (SOBU) and Franklin D. Williams, SOBU's North Carolina field secretary, also attended the meeting.

Representatives Frye and George Johnson gave the group background in-formation on the events leading up to the cur-rent proposals for major rent proposals for major re-organization. Much of the background was con-cerned with the conflict between Fast Carolina University and the Uni-versity of North Caro-

Representatives Frye and Johnson pointed out that a study commission had been appointed to pre-sent specific proposals. The legislators stated that there were three general proposals under discussion. The proposa-als being discussed are a large 'super' board (one hundred or more people), a small 'super' board (with fifteen to twenty people) or three re-gional boards. In either case, the super board or regional boards in either case, the super board or regional boards would inregional boards would in-tegrate the governing procedures and would have the responsibility of making budgeting and other money-related de-cisions for each school. The discussion with the legislators centered a-round the probable effect of the various plans on the maintenance and welfare of Black schools in Carolina. legislators stated that they would work with all Black people in North Carolina to help prevent any actions which would be detrimental to Black students. Rep. Frye, who is also a member of the committee on higher educommittee on higher edu-cation in the House, stat-ed that it is possible that some specific proposal could be put before the legislature during the spring of 1971.

The student governments of all five Black state-assisted institutions have banned together to compile and share information and to Share information and to initiate action on a unified basis. N.C.C.U.'s SGA president, Jerry Walker serves as chairman of this group.

The SGA president from Fayetteville, James Nesby, called to explain that he could not be present at the Raleigh meet-sent at the Raleigh meeting because of a crisis on the campus at Fay-etteville State. He assured the group, however, of his whole-hearted sup-port and cooperation. port and

Money Maker For Students

(New York) (New York) -- Selling popcorn seems to be an unusual way to make the money for a college education, but it is working very well for a group of students in New York

Some fifty of them have Some fifty of them have been working the last few weeks for a newfirm call-ed Pop-A-Doodle, which furnishes them with small carts, uniforms and the ingredients for making popcorn and pays them a 20% commission on their sales.

20% commissions have reach-commissions have reach-ed $40 to $50 a day. Week day sales, while not that big, have been

They go wherever peo-ple congregate, shopping centers, parks, athletic events, school areas, and just busy street corners. The demand for popcorn - at a quarter for a large bag - is phenomenal, and lots of New Yorkers have been buying a bag as a cheap and healthy substitute and healthy substitute for lunch. One big advantage of the Pop-A-Doodle job for students is that they can work on their own times, days, evenings or weekends. Another is that no training or experience is required.

The company is opening distributorships in all parts of the U.S. and it will soonhave many jobs available for students, both men and wo-Anyone interested plying for one of men. in applying for one of these positions is asked to write to Pop-A-Dood-le, Inc., 60 East 56th Street, New York City.

Are you creative?

Sure you are, anyone can be in his own parti-cular way. You don't need an above average either! Just put individual alertness in you to work and become a more interest-ing and original person. A creative person has to be free. In other words, be joyous with new and experiences in Furope enabled her to serve during various periods as a Leader-Specialist in the Cultural Exchange Program under the auspices of the United States Department of State, in Germany, Austria, Den-mark, France, Norwav and Sweden in 1955 and 1957. She lectured extensively in these countries before universities, professional, civic, and labor groups. Dr. Fd-monds speaks German fluently and in Germany and Austria delivered her lectures in German. her lectured President Fisenhower designated her as his re-presentative at the 1957 Martin of the New dedication of the New Capitol Building in Mon-rovia, Liberia. She not only addressed the assembled Liberian Gov-ernment during the ceremonies, but appeared be-fore six educational in-stitutions and the Monrostitutions and the Monrovia YWCA. She served as a Delegate to the Fighth National Conference of the United States Commission on UNESCO in 1961, at which time the deliberations centered on: Africa and the United States - Images and on: Africa and the United States - Images and Realities. She is anactive member of the Durham, N.C. United Nations Association and served as Assistant Chairman of that city's Committee for the Celebration of United Nations Week in October 1961.

(Continued on page 8)

(Continued from page 1)

In activities relating to higher education, Dean Edmonds serves on the to his to his following boards following Boards following Boards fees, Yoorhees College's Visitors, The College Preparatory Center Project (Educational Imment Program, Southern Association of Colleges and Schools); and Southern Fellowships Funds, Inc. She served as a Panel Member of Funds, Inc. She served as a Panel Member of the Deans of Graduate Schools which examined "Graduate Education in the Humanities" (1969) under the auspices of the Council of Graduate Schools of the United States; Member of the Executive Committee of Dute University - North Duke University - North Carolina Central University Inter-Institutional Cooperation; Member of the Committee of Exam-iners (CLEP) of the Princeton Educational Testing Service (1969); and holds professional memberships in the As-sociation of Social Science Teachers, Council of Graduate Schools in of Graduate Schools in the United States, Nation-al Association of College Deans and Registrars, National Education Asso-ciation, North Carolina Association of Academic Deans, American His-torical Association, Organization of American Historians, Southern His-torical Association, and the Virginia Society for Research. National advisory boards which currently claim her service are the U.S. Peace Corps Advisroy Council and the As-sociation for the Study of Negro Life and History. In North Carolina, she serves on the State's Re-gional Medical Advisory Council, a branch of the U. S. - NIH Advisory Council on Regional Med-ical Council's (where she formerly served), and the Durham United Fund.

In women's activities, Dr. Edmonds is the Na-tional President of National Links, Inc., an organization of women in volunteer services comprised of 116 chapters located in 34 states and the District of Columbia, which is engaged in services to the National Government, and providing vices to the National Government, and providing meaningful experiences for the educationally disadvantaged and the culturally deprived. She is also a member of the Delta Sigma Theta, a publication with the control of the political prices with the control of the lic service national so-rority for scholarship and the professional advance-ment of Negro women; and of the Life Member-ship Guild of the Nation-al Council of Negro Women -- an organization founded by Dr. Mary Mc-Leod Bethune.

Many distinct honors and awards have come to Dr. Fdmonds. Among those which she considthose which she considers to be particularly meaningful are: An Honorary Degree from her alma mater, Morgan State College, in 1957; "Woman of the Year" Awards for civic and edwards for civic and educational activities from the Bachelors- Benedict Club, Norfolk, Virginia, in 1958, and from the Southern Area of Links in 1966; and the opportunity to serve as President of such a distinguished public service organization as National Links. Dr. Edmonds is the first and only Negro woman Dean of a Graduate School of Arts and Sciences, a position she has held at North Carolina Central University since 1964.

Oniversity since 1904.
Dr. Edmonds resides in Durham, North Carolina, and is a well-known lecturer throughout the United States. She is a member of St. Titus Fpiscopal Church in Durham.

Rep. Henry Frye (R.), one of two Black North Carolina legislators, met with representatives of Black Colleges in North Carolina and the Student Organization for Black Unity (SOBU) recently in Raleigh to discuss reorganization of higher education in the state and how it might affect Black schools. Shown with Rep. Frye åre (L. - R.) SOBU national chairman Nelson Johnson, Winston-Salem state university student body president Farl Hart and Brenda Wagner, SGA secretary at North Carolina Central University in Durham. In addition to Rep. George Johnson of Roberson County, SGA members from Shaw University and Flizabeth City and North Carolina A&T State Universities also took part. (SOBU photo by Hubert Canfield).