In Europe

View of suspended train in Kaiserslautern, West Germany.

We arrived in Essen, for dinner and our evening concert. The concert was given at A Teachers College. The concert was very well performed, the audience loved us. Miss Johnson seemed very well pleased and after the concert Mr. Bonn, president of the college brought all of us beers. The Germans were very warm and cordial. The reception was held at the Stern Bier Export Club. The German beer was delicious!! We took pictures of the people at the reception, they appeared to be very warm - hearted and friendly. After the reception we left and they came outside in the cool to wave goodbye. They were truly beautiful people, I will never forget them.

Mrs. Morgan and choir members dine before the concert in Hotel International, Luxembourg.

After spending the night at Hotel Salm, we arose early the next day to take a drive of the Rhine River. During the drive we passed through the city of Bonn, the home of Beethoven, to learn that the city had been destroyed three times by the Franks, Romans and World War II. It was during the Rhine River Drive that we saw the many castles located on the German hills (American mountains).

The next day - Heidelberg, O'Heidelberg, after hearing so much about Heidelberg, I was very excited to see the Heidelberg castle. Heidelberg is a small city with a population of 140,000 people. The University of Heidelberg, the oldest in Germany, was built in 1436. This city was considered the heart of Romanticism. The castle was built in 13th century.

It was destroyed in 1618 and 1764. We visited the Kings' hall, the chapel, the terrace overlooking the city of Heidelberg and the kings' bedroom - the marble was beautiful.
