The Student Government Association hopes for a new "era" in the idea of student "self-government." In welcoming you back to Elizabeth City State University, we would like to make known the important changes occurring for the coming school year.

ECSU is now, as of July 1, 1972, a functioning part of the University of North Carolina system of Higher Education. This new system is headed by a Board of Governors, comprised of a 32 member board of chancellors from each institution. The good points of this new structure is that it will aid Elizabeth City State University in its production of well-learned students.

Through the efforts of Women's Government Association the S. G. A. will strive to meet most of the demand of the students. With the establishment of dorm councils, student committee assignments, active class officers, and involved students, the 1972-73 Student Government Association will be what you want it to be!

Who's Who

Each year Junior and Senior students elected to Who's Who are first nominated by fellow students, faculty and staff members at the University. Nomination blanks are made available through the Student Council. The Student Council usually makes these blanks available in dormitories as well as in the Student Council Office early in the school year.

When the nomination blanks have been collected, they are submitted to the Who's Who Committee made up of students and faculty. This committee verifies the information and makes an evaluation according to a point system on activities, academic standing (2.5 and over), citizenship, service to the college, and future promise.

The list of students are then sent to the Office of Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges who at a later date notifies the University about the students selected.

Elizabeth City State University students should start early in their consideration for nominations of students to Who's Who for 1972-73 and be ready to make nominations soon.

Spotlight Preview

Members of the University Players plan a program for the academic year which reverses the old rhythm which suggests "something old, something new." Innovation is the watchword for this season of Bernard L. Peterson, Jr., Director.

Something new will be presented on October 10 and 12 in the Little Theater. JOURNEY TO THE DAY, a stirring, sometimes humorous statement on the lives of six mental patients will be the first student production of the Players. Tommy Brown will direct this three-act play.

Also new this year will be a variety show, "The University Players' Talent Showcase." Campus talent will be spotlighted in an unusual program on November 6 and 7. Mr. Peterson assures us that a few pleasantly surprising activities will be included.

The old is a Shakespearean play, TITUS ANDRONICUS, to be presented during the Fine Arts Festival as the Players' contribution to this annual University event. The play is the bloodiest one written by Shakespeare and features Aaron, his most villainous black character.

The University community is invited to join the group or to assist the Players in their productions.

Choir News

Miss Evelyn Johnson reports that the choir is looking forward to a very prosperous and enjoyable year. The choir enrollment has increased, though there is still a need for more tenor voices.

The new leaders for the year '72-73 are: President, Patresia Holley; Vice Pres., Sheila Cartwright; Secretary, Alma F. Jenkins; Asst. Sec., Gwendolyn Johnson; Treasurer, Joseph Ward.

The choir began the year with a recruitment dance, which proved to be very successful. At the dance, the Evelyn A. Johnson Swingers performed two numbers, and films of the European tour were viewed. There was an exhibit in the foyer of the University Center concerning the European tour.

An invitation is extended to all Vikings...an invitation to travel and enjoy the excitement; so come on, show some Viking spirit and speak the universal language..
MUSIC.

Marching Vikings

The Marching Vikings have started the season in fine fashion. Stepping high to the strains of Chicago, they brought a Greensboro crowd to their feet with precision drills and marching excellence, leaving no doubt as to the supremacy of North Carolina Bands. This, their premier performance was merely a stepping stone to a much higher objective.

The E.C.S.U. Marching 100 Band is under the direction of Floyd L. Robinson and a former student and President of the Marching 100, now assistant Director, G. L. Richardson. The Drum Major for 1972-1973 is Ernest Brooks and President 1972-1973 is Eddie Henderson.

The Vikings anticipate playing at all home games and making four of the away games. The Marching 100 hopes that everyone will support them in all of their endeavors.

Ending what is hoped to be a successful year, will be a performance on National Television in New York City, for the New York Jets of the N. F. L. Everyone's support of the Marching 100 will be appreciated.

Power to the Marching 100
