

ECSU and the Elizabeth City Parks and Recreation Department pulled off the first successful race in the Elizabeth City area on National Jogging Day, Oct. 13.

Past efforts for local runners simply didn't hit the starting line, but this race drew 46 runners for the 7.5-mile course and a consensus of opinion for "the best race ever" and a demand for an early re-run.

"It was a well directed race, a quiet course--no bicycles, houses set back from the street, and no rough stuff--no elbowing and crowding out of runners," the winner said. Ron Brown, ECSU race director promises a major spring run.
