Documentation, please...

You stayed out late last night, and you feel you just can't get to class. Well, take my advice and go. Not only should you attend, but punctually as well.

According to the University's Class Attendance Policy, effective August, 1983, a student's maximum number of unexcused absences should not exceed the number of times the course meets per week. The policy also states that students who receive unexcused absences on the day before or after a holiday will receive double cuts.

Don't go into the office of the Assistant Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs - Administration with an unverified excuse because it won't work. Just the other day, I went for an excuse and explained that I was having car trouble and my brother had to fix it. The secretary responded, "I know we sometimes fix our own cars, but do you have a receipt or something showing that you purchased something for it?"

If not, then I can't give you an excuse because it has to be verified. I'm sorry."

So if you are officially enrolled in class, please attend, because after you have exceeded the maximum number of permitted unexcused absences you'll find yourself withdrawn with a grade of "FA."

Another bit of advice is to please be on time and not six minutes after class has started. You should also be aware that if you're tardy three times this will count as one unexcused absence.

At times, do you feel like you just want to get away from the campus and go someplace enjoyable and drink a couple of beers? If so, there is The University Pub which is located across from the University, next to Roebuck Stadium.

It is open everyday from 4 pm to 2 am. Students can use the Pub free-of-charge for parties, weddings receptions, etc.

Alcoholic beverages are served only to people over 19 and identification is required.

The Pub will soon have discounts for ECSU students.

The purpose of the Pub is to give University students a separate place from campus to go to relax, socialize, party, and feel like they are at home. In the near future, the Pub will be open 24 hours a day.

The Pub first opened on September 23, 1982 under the management of Mrs. Bea Herrell. Mrs. Herrell stated, "The invitation is open to all University students and others to come by anytime to visit or throw a party, and I will be happy to take any suggestions on making The Pub a better place."

The Pub also has a variety of video games, snacks, drinks, etc. It is not only open to students, but to the entire community. Most people believe that it is part of the University because of the name, but it is a separate business. Its name was designed with the idea of making you feel at home.
