

The Year That 1988 Was 89

New communication system debuts in Jan.

The ECSU tuba section, along with the rest of the marching band, marched to the beat of a different drummer this year. Mr. R.J. Johnson, the new band director, lead the "high steppers" in game winning performances.

EU-Zapp concert leaves SGA broke

Miss ECSU 1988-89, Angella Nelson, glowed radiantly Coronation night, when she received her crown from Miss ECSU 1987-88, Atleacla Stokes.

Tornado rips ECSU campus

Vikings capture Tip-off

The men's basketball team's CIAA performance could've been set to pop singer Whitney Houston's song "Didn't We Almost Have It All." ECSU went to Virginia Union 108-80.

Board okays new major for art dept.

New system to ease textbook shortages

'Just say no' to sex

Campus braves 48-hour water outage

New science complex to open Fall '89

ECSU's parking dilemma:

Nobody wants to walk'

ECSU freshmen seek a drug-free society

The frustrations of this season's Viking track squad seem to be illustrated in the face of sprinter Ernest Caldwell. The Viking runners didn't compete as often as they had been scheduled to compete in 1989.

Between innings, softballer Helen Norwood figures she'll try out her sun glasses. The softball team finished this year's record with 5 wins and 4 losses.

Vikings go to Final Four

Was that fish or what?

Convocation honors academic performers

By Robin Sawyer

Academic accomplishments of ECSU students were recognized at the annual Honors Day Convocation Program April 20 in Moore Hall Auditorium. Students, faculty, alumni and guests were on hand for the presentation of awards and to hear guest speaker, Virginia State Senator Robert C. Scott.

"Today we celebrate success," said Scott, a member of Virginia's General Assembly since 1978. Scott told the honorees they should be proud of their accomplishments, and added, "No one will ever be able to take these honors away from you."

Following Scott's address awards were presented to students by Dr. Anne Henderson, Chairperson of the Honors Council and Dr. Carol C. Jones, Director of the Honors Program. Honors Program junior Karen Blanchard assisted with the presentation.

Recipients of awards during the Honors Day Convocation follow. Honors Program Certificates of Merit were given to Faria Alam, Louis M. Anderson III, Michelle A. Anderson, Cheryl R. Bailey, Karen B. Blanchard, Zebrena N. Blount, Pamela L. Brite, Shelia M. Collins, Thomas F. Eichler, Janet I. Garner, Laurie G. Garrison, Kim M. Halsey, James J. Hargett, Jr., Theresa L. Harrell, Elaine C. Harris, Monica F. Holmes, Herbert L. Johnson III, Sarnya D. Johnson, Christopher L. Lynch, Margaret L. McKoy, Anissa M. McNeill, Patricia A. Miles, Kimberly J. Millard, Juanita M. Moody, Dennis S. Perry, Johnny G. Reid, Gerald A. Riddick, Terrell C. Rivers, Alisa L. Robinson, Joy C. Scott, Andrea L. Simmons, Darius T. Smith, Jamette A. Smith, Natalie L. Weeks, and Sherrie A. Young.

Honors Program Darin L. Cole Awards were given to Michelle A. Anderson, Karen B. Blanchard, Elaine C. Harris, and Sherrie A. Young.

The Alpha Kappa Mu Award went to the Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority. The Kappa Delta Pi Honor Society Award was presented to Alisa Lynette Robinson.

The Department of Biology honorees were as follows:

The Clarence E. Biggs Award was given to Lynn R. Stallings; the Evans/Patterson Award went to Melinda W. White; the Richard E. Smith Award was given to David G. Perry; the Departmental Altruism Awards went to Bonnie V. Cuffie and Johnny G. Reid; and Departmental Achievement Awards were presented to Anita L. Gregory and Frederick L. Joyner II.

The Department of Business and Economics awards were as follows:

The Excellence-in-Accounting

Senior Award went to Shelia M. Perry; the Excellence-in-Business Education (basic) Award went to Connie Carraway; the Excellence-in-Business Education (comprehensive) Award went to Dalphine Williams; the Excellence-in-Economics/Finance Senior Certificate was given to Faria Alam; the Excellence-in-General Business Administration Award was given to Janice Collier; the Excellence-in-Management Award went to Lorri Frank; and the Excellence-in-Marketing Award was given to Anthony Coprew.

The American Institute of Certified Public Accountants Scholarship Awards went to Shelia M. Perry and Andrea Simmons. The North Carolina Society of Public Accountants Scholarship Award went to Shelia M. Perry. The Wachovia Fund for Excellence Scholarship Awards went to Debora Jacobs and Juanita Moody.

The Academic Excellence-Ranking Transfer Student Award was presented to Shannon Newbern. The Departmental Service Award was given to Tyra Gore. The Business Briefs-Editor Award went to Debora Jacobs. The Graduating Student-of-the-Year Award was given to Faria Alam. Leadership Excellence Stock Market Game Awards were given to Shelia Perry, Edmond Hoskins, and Ivan Gallop.

Student-of-the-Year Junior Award was presented to Juanita Moody. The Students in Free Enterprise Leadership and Service Award went to Shelia

Perry. The Wall Street Journal Achievement Award was given to Andrea Simmons.

The Division of Education and Psychology presented the following awards:

The Early Childhood Education Awards were given to Mildred Deltroro and Debbie Whitfield. The Psychology Awards went to Beverly Carter and Margaret L. McKoy. The Sessoms-Crawford Award was presented to Lisa Robyn Lowry.

The Division of General Studies Award was presented to Ursula Y. McMillon.

The Department of Industrial Arts and Technology presented the following awards:

The Industrial Arts/Technology Education Senior Award went to Tony C. Taylor. The Industrial Technology-Electronics Senior Award was given to David A. Carroll, Jr. The Industrial Technology-Mechanical Awards went to Rhonda L. James, senior, and David R. Stroberg, junior. The Industrial Technology-Electronics Award was given to Michelle R. Mercer. The Industrial Technology Award went to Crystal C. Gibbs.

The Department of Language, Literature, and Communication presented the following awards:

The E.M. Spellman award was given to Robin C. Sawyer. The Senior Award went to Margaret Lynn Chapman. The Junior Award was presented to Sherrie Young.

The Department of Mathematics and Computer Science presented the following awards:

Honors Program in Mathematics Certificates went to Valerie Allen, Louis Anderson III, Cheryl Bailey, Karen Blanchard, Dawn Brumsey, Willistine Dewitt, Sarnya Johnson, Charles Jones, Wayne Mayo, Betty Jo Raby, Lasalle Ruffin, Joy Scott, and Nancy Sewell.

The Freshman Mathematics and Computer Science Awards went to Jovita A. Harrell and Nelson D. Brockway. The Sophomore Mathematics and Computer Science Awards went to Curtis A. Poole, Louis M. Anderson III, and Ritchie W. Walker. The Junior Mathematics and Computer Science Awards went to Charles D. Twiddy, Fatina F. Little, and Regina McCoy. The Senior Mathematics and Computer Science Awards went to Mary M. Lane, Valeria Allen, and Nancy Ann Sewell.

The Department of Music presented the Florence Fowlkes Lassiter Scholarship to Carolina S. Phelps.

The Department of Physical Education and Health presented its Senior Award to Angelia Nelson.

The Department of Physical Sciences presented the following awards:

Certificates of Merit were given to Vanessa K. Barner, Eric D. Felton, Anissa M. McNeill, Russell Matthews, Alicia Palmer, Jamette A. Smith, Stuart M. Squires, Fred F. Smith, and Richard A. Todt.

The CRC Freshman Award was given to Alicia Palmer. The 1989

American Institute of Chemists Student Award was presented to Melinda White. White was also given a plaque of recognition by the department.

The Department of Social Sciences presented the following awards:

The N.C. Sheriff's Association Scholarship Awards went to Beverly Connelly and Glenda Eubanks. The Political Science Award was given to Elaine Harris. The Social Sciences Senior Award went to Peggy F. Freeman and the Junior Award went to Glenda R. Eubanks.

The Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority-Zeta Kappa Omega Chapter Award was given to Laurie Garrison.

The Class of '67 Award went to Sherrie A. Young.

The Davis Cup award went to Bias Hall.

The Delta Sigma Theta Award went to Beverly D. Connelly.

The Dorothy M. Walker Award from the Delta Sigma Theta Elizabeth City Chapter was given to Elaine C. Harris.

The Henrietta B. Ridley Award for Excellence in Leadership was given to Beverly A. Carter.

The Phi Beta Lambda Club Award was given to Gail Hall.

The Senior Matrons Social Literary and Art Club Award was presented to Miracle Perry.

The Charles A. Bryant Memorial Scholarship was presented to Margaret McKoy.

The Mary E. Tillery Memorial Scholarship was given to Barbie Ferrell.