

‘Unheralded Workers’ Special Photo Essay

Like any other college campus, Elizabeth State University has its “unheralded workers,” those whose work around the University make it go. Some mop and scrub and clean up, others lift packages and drive cars and take care of the grounds. The length of their days varies, like their smiles, but they are seemingly always around. Some, it seems never leave “the yard”.

In his photo essay, Compass photographer J’amie Powell has captured some of their faces.

Mr. Herman Johnson, Maintenance Supervisor

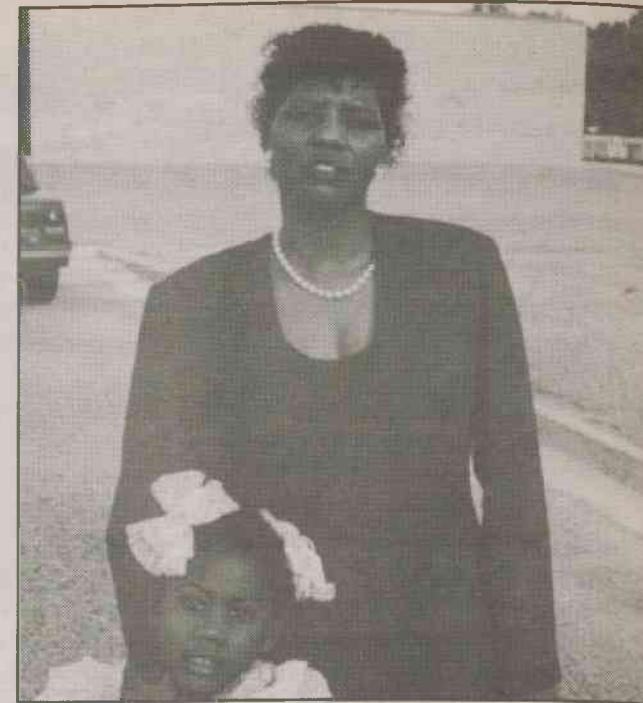

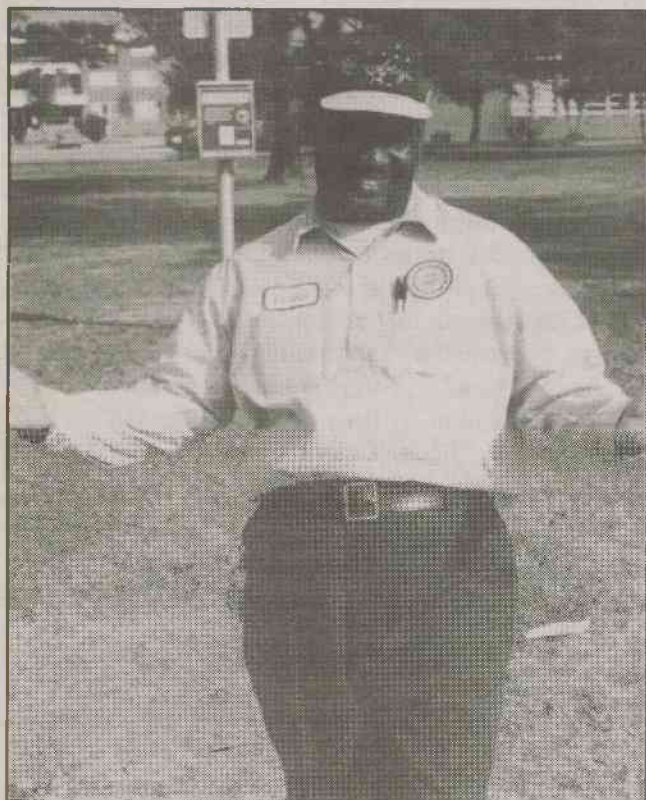

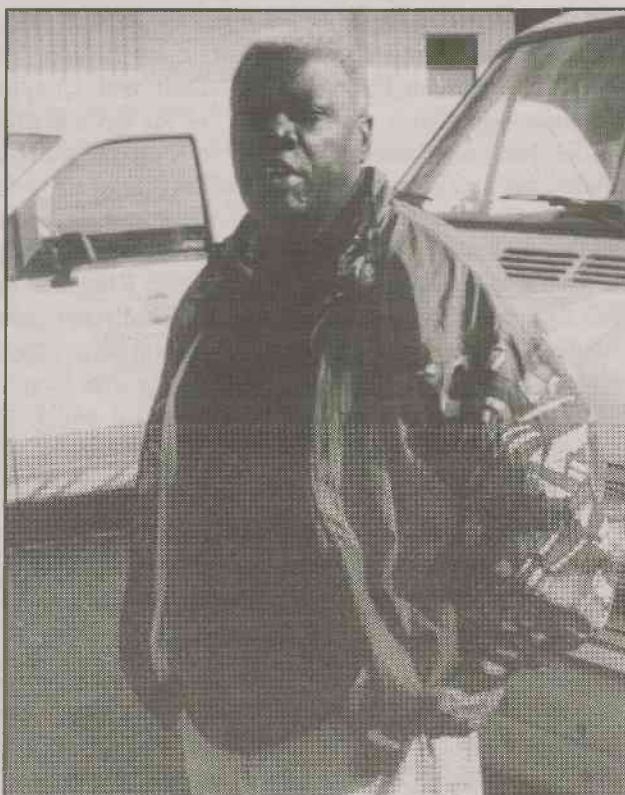

photo by Mr. Micheal LeBarron

Ms. Juanita LeBarron, who is well-known for keeping Johnson Hall spotless, and her daughter, LaShonda Carter.

Mr. Edward Williams, Vaughan Center Custodial Director

Mr. Jimmy Turner, Housekeeping Supervisor

Ms. Chiu, Senior Citizen Volunteer

The Compass staff extends holiday greetings to the students, faculty, staff and administration of Elizabeth City State University and the ECSU community.

Best Wishes and Good Luck to our graduates!