

The News Argus.

VOL. VI, NO. 6

WINSTON-SALEM STATE COLLEGE, WINSTON-SALEM, N. C.

APRIL, 1968

DEDICATION IS HELD FOR COLTRANE HALL

Dr. Kenneth R. Williams, Mr. D. S. Coltrane, and Mr. Charles Dunn pause in front of Coltrane Hall following dedication services.

"Mr. David S. Coltrane has been an instrument in establishing a climate for the advancement of human dignity and opportunity," Charles Dunn told the audience at the dedication of Coltrane Hall, Sunday, March 17. Mr. Dunn, an assistant to Governor Dan K. Moore, was guest speaker. The building was named in honor of Mr. Coltrane, Chairman of the North Carolina Good Neighbor Council.

President Kenneth R. Williams introduced the speaker and presented Mr. Coltrane, who spoke briefly.

Mr. Coltrane has been a servant of the public for many years. Born in Randolph County, N. C., he received his early education in Randolph County and later met the requirements for the baccalaureate and graduate degrees at Guilford College and North Carolina State University. He has held many offices. He has been Commissioner of the North Carolina Department of Agriculture, Assistant Director of the Budget for the State Budget Bureau, Officer for the Department of Administration, and Consultant on Economy and Efficiency for the Governor's Office. He has held the office of Chairman of the North Carolina Good Neighbor Council since 1963. He has also served as President of the National Association of State Budget Officers and as President of the American Fertilizer Control Officials.

Mr. Coltrane is an active religious and civic leader in Raleigh, where he resides. He has been awarded many honors for his educational, civic and agricultural accomplishments.

Accompanying Mr. Coltrane at the dedication service were members of his family and many friends.

Mr. Dunn, a graduate of the University of North Carolina and a former newspaper reporter, praised Mr. Coltrane's accomplishments and then turned his discussion to human rights and poverty. "The tendency to forget too quickly and easily is a danger we face in solving the problems of the poor," he said. "The current steps being taken for the improvement of human relationships and the solving of the problems that exist are encouraging and uplifting to the concerned citizens," he added. He expressed his desire and prayer that the new building be representative of a new faith in education as Mr. Coltrane would wish it.

Coltrane Hall has been in use since September, 1967 as the classroom building for education and psychology courses, as well as other classes. It houses a modern reading laboratory with twenty-five carrels and a collection of self-teaching reading materials, skill-texts, films and paperbacks designed to develop perception, to expand and enrich vocabulary, and to develop listening, comprehension, and study skills. It also houses a conference room and 31 offices.

The keys to the three floor brick and masonry building were presented by Mr. Michael Newman, an architect of Lashmit, Brown, and Pollock. Mr. Winfield Blackwell, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of Winston-Salem State College, accepted the keys. Rev. Henry S. Lewis, Jr. gave the invocation and led the Litany of Dedication. The college choir sang three selections, "Lord Hosanna" from Advent Motet by Gustav Schreck; "Lobet Den Herrn alle Heiden" by Johann S. Bach, and "I'm Gonna Sing" arranged by Fred Fox. The college band played the processional, Triumphant March from "Aida" by Verdi.

A guided tour of Coltrane Hall followed the dedication ceremony.

—Wilma F. Peoples

MR. LUIX V. OVERBEA RESIGNS

Mr. Luix Overbea, popular newsman and faculty member, recently resigned to accept a position as editor of the St. Louis Sentinel.

A member of the English Department, Mr. Overbea taught Journalism and was advisor to the News Argus. He joined the Winston-Salem State College faculty in 1962 and was instrumental in establishing the school newspaper in 1963. In addition to his duties as advisor, Mr. Overbea assisted with publicity releases for the college.

A native of Chicago, Illinois, Mr. Overbea attended the public schools there. He received the Ph.B. degree and the M.S. degree in Journalism from Northwestern University.

Prior to coming to Winston-Salem, Mr. Overbea was associated with several newspapers, including one in Tulsa, Oklahoma. He has also done extensive work in related areas including the Syndicated Negro News, Southern School News, CIAA publicity and publicity for the national fraternity Kappa Alpha Psi.

Mr. Overbea is married to the former Miss Elexie Culp, also a native of Chicago. They have one daughter, Dorothy, and a niece, Donna, who is a freshman here at Winston-Salem State.

MR. OVERBEA

HUNDREDS THROG CAMPUS FOR ANNUAL PARENTS' DAY

Over seven hundred parents, relatives and friends were guests of the college family on Sunday, March 31.

The occasion was the Sixth Annual Parents' Day observance. Parents' Day was established in order to give parents and guardians an opportunity to gain a better insight into college life. It is on this day, too, that parents are able to meet the administrative officers and confer with faculty members about the progress of their sons and daughters.

The scheduled activities began with registration in Coltrane Hall at 8:00 a.m. followed by the Parents' Day Convocation at 10 a.m. in Fries Auditorium. Lewis Turner, president of the student body, and Barbara Tuck, Miss Winston-Salem State College, extended greetings to the parents. Mrs. James N. Wright responded on behalf of the parents. Remarks were made by President Kenneth R. Williams, who also introduced the speaker.

Dr. Isaac Miller, president of Bennett College, was the guest speaker. Dr. Miller pointed out that protest by college students is nothing new. "What is new about the present protests is the ugly destructive manner which many of them are taking," he said.

"It is understandable that students want to be where the action is, but too many students are acting without conviction and are just conforming to the non-conformers," he said.

Dr. Miller stressed the importance of achieving academic excellence and personal integrity and urged sustained involvement after college on the part of students in solving our problems and making the world a better place in which to live.

Other program participants were Lucille Evans and Ernest Clemons. The college band, conducted by Mr. Robert E. Shepherd, provided the music.

After the Convocation, parents dined with their sons and daughters in Kennedy Dining Hall. A period of relaxation and visitation with students followed dinner. Then from 2:00 until 4:00 p.m., parents visited with faculty members in Coltrane Hall, met the administrative officers in the administration building and toured O'Kelly Library. Concluding the day's planned activities was a reception from 4:00 until 5:00 in Coltrane Hall.

—Dorothy Pearson

BOARD OF TRUSTEES ANNOUNCE FEE INCREASE

The Board of Trustees of the College announced an increase of student fees for the 1968-69 academic term following the January 30th meeting of the Board.

During the 1967 Session of the North Carolina General Assembly, State Legislators voted to increase the tuition fees for all out-of-state students. Tuition fees are established by the General Assembly. The out-of-state tuition for students of Winston-Salem State College was increased by two hundred dollars. Tuition for North Carolina students was not increased. The North Carolina student's tuition for 1968-69 will continue to be one hundred dollars.

The Trustees voted to combine a number of the fees paid previously by students into one fee under the heading academic fees. This is not an increase of $23.00 as has been interpreted by some. The fees will be used for the same purposes to provide necessary services and equipment for students. The activity fee remains the same but students voted to increase the Student Council fee from one dollar to two dollars. Students will pay $630.00 for room, board and laundry.

With these increases a North Carolina boarding student will pay $1,134.00 per year. A North Carolina day student will pay $304.00 a year and an out-of-state day student will pay $704.00. The increases will amount to $62.00 for the North Carolina boarding student and $262.00 for the out-of-state student. The fee for North Carolina day students will increase $1.00 and $200.00 for the out-of-state day student. Special fees such as practice teaching, graduation, swimming, bowling, late registration, breakage and key deposits are not included in the above fees.

A student may pay on a monthly basis. Payments are due September 13, October 9, November 4, and December 2. The only payment due in January will be second semester fees and tuition. During the second semester payments are due January 27, March 3, April 1, and May 1.

Honor Roll Addition

The following names were omitted from the Honor Roll in the last issue of the News Argus:

Juniors: From Winston-Salem, Dorothy Pearson.

Seniors: From Winston-Salem, Frances Crosby, Willieta Cunningham, Betty Manning, James McMillian, Kathleen B. Shipp, Vera Simms Stepp, Terry Spann, Cecilia C. Wilson, Nancy D. Wright, Norma A. Wright. From Greensboro, Susie Siler.

Parents Day program participants are (left to right) Mrs. James N. Wright, parent representative, Lewis Turner, student body president, Miss Barbara Tuck, Miss WSSC, President Kenneth R. Williams, and Dr. Isaac Miller, speaker.