

Greekarner

During the last four or five weeks on WSSC's campus, there has been a new burst of Greek Spirit. This enthusiasm has been due mainly to the new crop of energetic Pledges and the re-birth of a sorority, Sigma Gamma Rho. It is hoped that this spirit of participation in constructive areas will continue.

Alpha's Aid In Voter Registration

A voter registration drive was launched March 3 by the Pi Lambda and Beta Iota Chapters of Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity. A door to door survey was made in certain areas of Winston-Salem in order to find eligible voters who had not registered. The Alphas gained an entirely new awareness of the problem when they learned that many people did not know that they are eligible to vote. The Alphas are asking all able persons to assist them in making citizens aware of the grave situations that exist in the world today. It is the responsibility of all college students to make people aware of the power of the vote.

(Editor's Note: How many of you are 21 or over and haven't registered yet?)

Sphinxmen on the Move

Members of the Sphinx Club of Alpha Phi Alpha are following right behind their big brothers in fulfilling their civic duty.

This organization has not only found time to work in civic functions off campus but has also launched a clean-up project on campus.

The Sphinxmen who hope to cross the burning sands to Greekdom are: Leon Sturdivant, Jimmy Murphy, Harry Cohen, and Frederick Terry. The new Sphinxmen are: Julius Heston, Harold Terry, Jimmy Hart, and James Myers. Larry Butler is reporter for the group.

AKA Holds Rush Party

The Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority held its spring Rush Party March 3. More than fifty non-Greek young ladies shared "An Enchanted Evening" with the Sorors and pledges in the Day Students' Lounge.

They were given a brief history of the sorority and saw a display of projects, sweaters and hats.

The young ladies participated in games, musical entertainment, fun and refreshments with the women of The Pink and Green. Ruby Jones is the AKA reporter.

Ivies In Action

The Ivy Leaf Club of the Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority is very active. Members participated in the Heart Fund Drive and are presently working with Voter Registration here in the city. As a community project, they visited the Bethlehem Day Care Center and presented favors to seventy children.

CLC Has Dance

On Saturday, March 23, at 8:00 p.m. in the Day Students' Lounge, the Citizenship — Leadership — and Character organization sponsored its first all-campus event. The affair was a casual dance. It was enjoyed by all who attended.

This is only the beginning of WSSC's Citizenship — Leadership — and Character displays. The group is inviting all young ladies to join.

Dorothy Coleman is president of the CLC; Olga Davis is Secretary; and Mary C. DeBerry is reporter.

They are diligently striving for Alpha Kappa Alpha with unselfish devotion and looking forward to becoming excellent Alpha women.

The Ivies are Laquines Goodwin of Charleston, S. C.; Betty Glenn and Ernestine Walker, Charlotte; Delores Hall and Linda Goodson, Raleigh; Frances Nixon, Kinston; Katie Dilahunt, Mayesville; Frances Riddick, Ahsokie; Victoria Williams, Durham; Susie Siler, Greensboro; Audrey Taylor, New Jersey; Bessie Dove, Richmond, Va.; Carolyn White, Oxford; Carol Williams, Enfield; Sara Horne, Wadesboro; and Susie Frink of Fayetteville. Sara Horne is the reporter for the Ivies.

Auroras Shine

Sigma Gamma Rho Sorority's spring line consists of one pledge, Miss Diane Fogg, a sophomore from Franklinton, N. C. Miss Fogg is a member of the Phi Beta Lambda Club, Baptist Student Union and the Sunday School.

Officers of the Auroras, Gwendolyn White, Rosia Hodges, Minnie Pearson and Barbara Shipmon intend to brighten the campus with their blue and gold. They will be assisted by Eldora Ewing, Lois Harris, Peggy McDowell, Charlena Sneed, and Brenda Talbert.

Winston-Salem has many members of Sigma Gamma Rho who must be proud of the Auroras who have made themselves known on campus by their unique uniforms and emblem. In the near future State College is expected to hear and see more about the Aurora Club of the Sigma Gamma Rho Sorority. Barbara Shipmon is the Aurora's reporter.

Omeegas Achieve Honors

The universal theme of Omega is First is a traditional concern of Omega men. Having this theme in mind, the Omeegas here on campus have meritoriously gained several achievements.

William Crews was nominated to the Alpha Kappa Mu Honor Society.

Biffy Watt was elected to Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges.

Ernest Clemons will take office this month as state President of the Student National Education Association.

The Omeegas also thank the student body for their support of the "Womanless Wedding" held March 27. Ernest Clemons is reporter for the Omeegas.

New Fraternity Organizes

Alpha Phi Omega, an international fraternal organization, is being sponsored on Winston-Salem State College's campus by the chapters at Wake Forest and N. C. Agricultural and Technical Universities.

Samuel Strickland, a spokesman for the newly organized interest group, said that a meeting of various chapters of Alpha Phi Omega from North Carolina, South Carolina, and Virginia was held on Saturday, February 24 at Davidson College in Davidson, N. C. James Brown, Samuel Strickland, and Charles Shannon attended the meeting, although they were not officially affiliated with the organization.

Brown, acting president of the interest group, addressed the members of the meeting and made an appeal for a chapter to be established here. The chapter was granted. Strickland met with the national director of the fraternity to discuss procedures for receiving a charter.

The requirements of Alpha Phi Omega include social adjustment, academic proficiency, and high moral standings. Its main purpose is to render services to the community and the campus.

Social activities for the interest group are being planned by the WFU chapter. A community project is also being planned.

There are currently twenty young men in the interest group here.

The acting officers of the group are as follows:

President — James Brown
Secretary — Samuel Smith
Financial Secretary — George Smitherman

Other members of the club are: Gary Burnett, Ronald Bushnell, Thomas Childs, Richard Covington, Cleovus Duncan, Henry Foote, James Hairston, Lawrence Izzard, Donald Jones, Harold Kay, Steve McLendon, Johnny Poole, Charles Shannon, Samuel Strickland, Benjamin Washington, George Welbourne, and Larry Young.

Advisors for the group are Dr. Haque, and Mr. Mohammed Zamon.

fraternity were not officially installed until February, the society has been in operation since the early part of the 1967-68 fall term.

Phi Beta Lambda differs from most college fraternity organizations in that a student is not admitted to membership on the basis of scholarship alone. Any student who is pursuing college-level courses and in his academic "load" is pursuing as an elective — one business subject — is eligible for membership.

Xi Gamma Chapter, the Winston-Salem State College unit of Phi Beta Lambda, under the able leadership of Miss Carolyn Page, a junior business education major, anticipates a full schedule of activities for the remainder of the school year as follows:

The treasury of Phi Beta Lambda will be supplemented by the sale of hamburgers to students in the respective dormitories at the College.

Phi Beta Lambda members will be involved in the First Annual Business Conference which will be held on the WSSC campus on Friday, April 19, 1968. This conference will serve in-service business education teachers throughout the state of North Carolina, and will be an annual affair. Dr. Orus Sutton, chairman of the Department of Business at Appalachian State University, Boone, N. C., will act as consultant.

Plans are in the making for members of the organization to purchase insignia-designed Phi Beta Lambda sweaters.

Malediction

Disenchanted by thoughts of hate,
Man is the hunter who is captured by his Fate.
Tossed about and thrown into the sea,
Never to live again, never to be.

Ridden to shame by his own disgrace,
Man is the enemy who can never show his face.
Tossed about and thrown into the sea,
Never to live again, never to be.

Forsaken by all because he is a man
No one wishes to be like him . . . no one can.
No one is your next of kin.
No one knows him, he has no name.
Tossed about and thrown into the sea,
Never to live again, never to be.

Never to live, never to be,
Never to rise again, never to be,
Man is his own clock, he determines his destiny.
Never to live again . . . never to be.
