

New Library Hours

Mrs. Lucy H. Bradshaw, librarian at the C. G. O'Kelly Library made the following report concerning the library.

The library is opened 70 hours per week — 7:45 a.m. to 9:00 p.m., Monday through Thursday; 7:45 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Friday; noon to 5:00 p.m. on Saturdays. Library hours are subject to change for all college sponsored events. Such changes are posted in advance on campus bulletin boards. The loan desks close their out-going records 30 minutes before the closing hours of the building. All library materials (room use) are called in 15 minutes before the closing hour of the library.

Each student is asked to secure a stack permit card at the main circulation desk when he wishes to go to the general book collection area located on the lower level of the building. The student is asked to sign his name and to indicate the subject area he wishes to find in the stacks.

Only a limited number of persons requesting stack permits will be permitted into the stack area at any given time. Granting of the stack permit will be followed with the exception of the following hours:

Monday-Thursday	8:00-9:00 a.m. 12:00-1:00 p.m. 8:30-9:00 p.m.
Friday	8:00-9:00 a.m. 12:00-1:00 p.m. 4:30-5:00 p.m.
Saturday	12:00-1:00 p.m. 4:30-5:00 p.m.
Sunday	4:30-5:00 p.m.

Persons granted stack permits will be asked by the adult staff member on duty to register his or her request by signing his full name, the general area of search, the time and the date.

GALLOWAY ATTENDS CONFERENCE

Mr. James Galloway, instructor of Negro history, traveled to New York, October 2, to attend a conference of The Association for the Study of Negro Life. This was the 53rd annual convention of this association, and many scholars, diplomats, and teachers attended. Mr. Galloway said colleges and universities in the New York area were well-represented by students.

The theme of the convention was "Creating a New African-American Image." The session opened with a memorial to Dr. Martin Luther King by one of his former instructors at Boston Theological Seminary. Another commemoration was made by Lawrence D. Reddick, who accompanied Dr. King to India during King's earlier life and introduced King to the famous Richard Wright.

Herbert Aptheker of Brooklyn, New York, read a paper on Negro student protest between 1920 and 1930. The theme was that the protest of 1960 had as its counterpart the protest of the 1920's and 1930's, only the latter was in more difficult times. Another topic discussed at this convention was the late Negro sociologist E. Franklin Frazier, author of Black Bourgeoisie and The Negro Family. Displays were shown which dealt with Negro life and culture.

FACULTY OUTLOOK

A new addition to the faculty this semester is Mrs. Ann M. Weigl in the biology department. Mrs. Weigl is a native of Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, and a graduate of Gettysburg College, Gettysburg, Pennsylvania. Before coming to Winston-Salem State College, Mrs. Weigl matriculated for a M.S. degree in zoology at Duke University and worked for two years as a research assistant.

"A lack of personal contact", is the reason Mrs. Weigl gives for leaving research to enter teaching. With the objective of producing better teachers and skilled biologists, Mrs. Weigl hopes to gain the personal contact she has missed in her former vocational exploits. Mrs. Weigl sees the wide variation of students as evidence of improving "black" education in all parts of our country.

While teaching at Winston-Salem State College, Miss Weigl hopes "to teach science and ethics of a useful nature" to each of her students.

Happening SNEA

The Student National Education Association has embarked upon another year of activities and is seeking fresh participation. Any person attending a college or university and who is planning to teach, may join. It provides a good opportunity for such persons to become acquainted with the background of the when, where, what, and how of Student National Education Association.

To date, the organization has scheduled discussions on how to take the National Teachers Examination, coping with classroom problems, and the importance of sex education in elementary school. Should any of these discussions be of interest to you, an invitation is extended.

Meetings are held on the second and fourth Thursdays of each month at 7:00 p.m.

Amanda Ambrose At WSSC

A crowd of 300 heard Amanda Ambrose in concert Tuesday night on the Winston-Salem State College Campus.

Miss Ambrose treated the audience to 90 minutes of ballads, blues, rock, jazz and gospel. They returned a standing ovation.

Her numbers included "Homeward Bound," "Irish Lullabye," "Meantime," "This Door Swings Both Ways," "There Goes My Love," "Please Send Me Someone to Love," and a humorous snipe at debutantism, "The Debutante's Ball."

Because the range of her material is so broad, her style defies classification. She likes it that way: "What do I do? I sing and play the piano. I don't like labels. I'm in my bag and it's big enough for me."

THE ALPHA SCOPE

For the school year 1968-69, the men of Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity have shown an array of versatility — socially, politically and athletically.

Alphas began the '68-'69 school year in swinging fashion, sponsoring week-end social activities with invitations extended campus-wide. The word from Alpha Phi Alpha is:

"The Year has just begun!"

Politically, Alphas' names have appeared in the spotlight. Larry Butler is serving in the capacity as head of judicial affairs. Fred Terry has been elected vice-president of the student body. Charles Darity is vice-president of the senior class and Benjamin Penn has been elected treasurer. Fred Mizzell is active as treasurer of the junior class.

In the line of sports, the name and face of Jerry Willis has appeared in the newspapers as well as on television. After two games, Jerry is among the top punt returners in the CIAA.

Five Sphinxmen are standing at the Alpha judgement awaiting to be tried. They are James Myers, Hilliard Dozier, Errol Ellis, Eugene Sturdivant, and Harold Terry. Their cry is: "I WANT TO BE AN ALPHA IN MY HEART."

FRATERNITY OFFICERS

Joe Lightsey, president; Benjamin Penn, vice president; Harry Cohen, secretary; Melvin Eaton, treasurer; Leon Sturdivant, chaplain; Jimmy Murphy, parliamentarian; Charles Darity, dean of pledgees; Fred Terry, assistant dean of pledgees, and reporters, Benjamin Penn and Harry Cohen.

WELCOME FROM DELTA SIGMA THETA SORORITY

The Gamma Phi chapter of Delta Sigma Theta sorority extends a hearty welcome to everyone and wishes you a very successful school year. Strive to make this your best year yet.

A full year of activity has already begun with sorors assisting in the E.S.R. Project as a volunteer service to the public.

We are proud to announce that Mrs. S. Daniels is the new advisor for the chapter. We are also honored to have two new sorors on campus. They are Sandra Roberts and Linda Holiday, transfer students from Knoxville College. Sandra is an elementary education major from Charlotte, N. C. Linda is a History major from Winston-Salem.

OMEGA PSI PHI FRATERNITY

With the four cardinal principles of manhood, scholarship, perseverance, and uplift, the brothers of mighty MU Epsilon chapter of Omega Psi Phi Fraternity have begun a successful year.

The Omegas have instituted a new emphasis committee dealing with the involvement of the first project aiding residents in urban renewal areas — keeping them better informed. The brothers of Omega distributed a very informative newsletter to the residents.

Omega Psi Phi Fraternity sponsored the first social of the school year. Brothers from A & T State University were introduced. The seven brothers on campus are: Ernest Clemons, William Crews, Frankie Lucas, Robert Massey, Howard Mebane, Roger Shackelford, and Robbin Kirkland.

The brothers have chosen Sandra Roberts as Miss Omega Psi Phi for 1968-69. Miss Roberts is a transfer student from Knoxville College.

The Lamps Club of Mu Epsilon Chapter of Omega Psi Phi fraternity is back on campus, 16 strong and as always, active in many phases of campus life. Striving to enter that "Greek paradise" of Omega Psi Phi are: Michael Hargrove, Randolph Mills, John Thomas, Albert Newton, Frank Foster, Paul Foster, Calvin Crisp, Carl Caison, Emory Jones, Charles Williams, John Young, John Pulliam, Andrew Gaither, Jimmy Roberts, Robert Anderson and David Spells.

Evidence of the group's active participation can readily be seen in the number of offices held by some of the lamps in Student Government. Randolph Mills is president of the sophomore class; Robert Anderson is president of the senior class; Frank Foster serves on the SGA as Director of Social Affairs and Charles Williams as sophomore representative to the Student Government Association.

The lamps would like to extend greetings to each Greek organization and its pledge club in hopes that "Greek influence" will again be beneficial to the development of campus life here at WSSC for the 1968-69 school year.

WHO'S WHO IN ZETA PHI BETA

The officers of Zeta Phi Beta Sorority for the 1968-69 school term are: president, Patricia Atkinson; dean of pledgees, Joy Atkinson; secretary, Jackie Parter; corresponding secretary, Minnie Brewington, and treasurer, Carolyn Page. Pledgees are: Linda Donaldson, Gwendolyn Jones, Jeanette McKinney, Carolyn Brown, Joniece Anderson, Betty Watlington, Joyce Foushee, and Maxine Stokes. The advisor is Mrs. Vivienne B. Conley.

We extend wishes to everyone for a successful year. We plan to sponsor activities that will be enjoyable to all. Remember that: "For all your days prepare And meet them ever alike, When you are the anvil bear When you are the hammer strike." —Edward Markham

Fort Marion, St. Augustine, Florida's oldest Spanish landmark, was built chiefly by Negroes brought from Cuba.

PAN-HELLENIC COUNCIL

The Pan-Hellenic Council held its first organizational meeting to discuss information concerning the sororities and fraternities on campus. The officers for this year's council are:

President, L. Kay Pulliam; Vice-President, Joseph Lightsey; Secretary, Lillian Hoggard; Asst. Secretary, Joy Atkinson; Treasurer, Frederick Edwards; Sgt.-at-Arms, Diane Fogg; Parliamentarian, Donald Cordell; Reporters, Ernest Clemons and Howard Mebane.

AKA'S BEGIN ACTIVE YEAR

The Gamma Lambda chapter of Alpha Kappa Alpha began the 1968-69 school year by welcoming freshmen and new students to the campus. This merely ignited the long list of activities that the fall semester holds in store for the sorority. The attention at the moment is directed toward a dynamic group of Ivies, who are striving to make Alpha Kappa Alpha. They are:

Wanda Adams, Indian Trail, N. C.; Carrie Alston, Pittsboro, N. C.; Amy Anthony, Washington, D. C.; Alice Canady, Kinston, N. C.; Jacqueline Craig, Roanoke, Va.; Fannie Davis, Lincolnton, N. C.; Velma Dickerson, Reidsville, N. C.; Betty Floyd, Charlotte, N. C.; Burmadeane George, Durham, N. C.; Mary Hagwood, Leaksville, N. C.; Cassie Hillard, Enfield, N. C.; Faye Houpe, Statesville, N. C.; Yvonne Hunt, Danville, Va.; Susan Jenkins, Winston-Salem, N. C.; Loretta Jones, Long Island, N. Y.; Josephine Langston, Philadelphia, Pa.; Lillian Long, Salisbury, N. C.; Luevora Nicholson, Rockingham, N. C.; Sarah Rutherford, Morganton, N. C.; Cheyanne Smith, Kinston, N. C.; Margaret Sweat, Charlotte, N. C.; Felicidad Thomas, Winston-Salem, N. C.; Irma Thompson, Mt. Vernon, N. Y.; Delores Wadsworth, Washington, D. C.; Veronica Washington, High Point, N. C.; Laverne Whitted, Manhattan, N. Y., and Patricia Wray, Greensboro, N. C.

The Alpha Kappa Alpha sorority was well represented by this group of Ivies who attended the first football game of the season in their traditional colors of salmon pink and apple green.

The sorority is looking forward to a very busy and prosperous year. They have already begun helping in voter registration in the city.

PHI BETA SIGMA, INC.

The Delta Alpha chapter of the Phi Beta Sigma fraternity began the 1968-69 academic year with election of officers. They are: president, Donald A. Cordell; vice president, Melvin Washington, secretary-treasurer, Wilbert McKinney.

One of the fraternity's projects for the year is with the Board of World Missions. This includes the paying of full tuition for a student who wishes to enter school. This project is already in progress.

The members of the Phi Beta Sigma fraternity invite each member of the faculty, staff and student body to share with them in making this year one of the best years at Winston-Salem State College.
