

Congratulations, Dude!

Mr. John X. Miller receives Man of the Year award from John Michael.

RAMS STOMP FALCONS

The Winston-Salem State Rams pulled off an 81-65 win over St. Augustine College Feb. 3 in a CIAA contest fought on State's home territory.

Turning the trick were Don Williams' long shots over the top of the Falcons' zone defense and the typically high scoring of Bill English.

English dropped in 11 field goals and 3 free throws for a total of 25, and Williams, with 6 free throws, totaled 22. Vaughn Kimbrough added 13 points in spite of a bad knee that limited his play.

The win put the Rams 9-4 in CIAA standings and 11-8 overall. State had knocked over Johnson C. Smith University, 123-107, on Feb. 1, after being beaten by undefeated Elizabeth City State, 102-90, on Jan. 27.

The St. Augustine contest was slow throughout the first half, with the score teetering around the tie mark. The Falcons held a slight edge for most of the first period, but at half-time the Rams led 39-38.

Action was fast in the first minutes of the second half with McManus and Williams making four points apiece for a 9-point State lead after three minutes.

With a little over 11 minutes to go the Falcons cut the lead to three (55-52), but the Rams pulled off a scoring spree that, with 8 minutes to go, put them in front 65-54.

After that it was downhill all the way.

The Rams did well on rebounds and free throws, pulling down 60 rebounds to the Falcons' 35 and hitting on 13 of 19 free throw attempts to the Falcons' five for 14.

Norfolk Upsets Rams

Natural disasters often leave those present in a state of shock. The ending of the last Ram-Spartan game had the same effect. The score was tied at 88 and the Rams were trying for one last shot. But with eight seconds left, Vaughn Kimbrough lost a pass from Allen McManus under the Norfolk basket and Norfolk intercepted. A long pass was fired to Bonaparte who was fouled just before the buzzer by Williams. He made his first and the game ended 89-88.

The question that remains on the mind of Coach Gaines is how much time was left on the clock. When the foul occurred, there were three seconds. What happened to them? Did the buzzer go off too soon? There are many questions about the ending of that game. Good show Rams and our day will come because we are young.

—Marvin Lattimore

Omegas' "Talent '69"

The Mu Epsilon Chapter of Omega Psi Phi Fraternity in conjunction with the graduate chapter held its "Talent '69" contest January 25 and 26 in Fries Auditorium. "Talent '69" was divided into three contests: popular music, classical music, and art.

Saturday was popular music night and the Motown Sounds were well represented. The audience was thrilled with such local high school groups as the Diablos, Atkins High School Jazz Band, the Soul Meditation and Imperial Temps. The Diablos, with a style very similar to that of the Temptations, won first prize. They sang "I'm Losing You" and "You're My Everything."

The talented Q-Tones, Galvin Crisp, Emory Jones, John Thomas, Robert Anderson, and Paul Foster sang "Omega Soul" and the ever popular, "Ole Man River."

Robbin Kirkland was the master of ceremony.

At 3 p.m., Sunday the curtains opened to an evening of fine classical music. The program consisted of piano, clarinet, vocal, and guitar solos. Jane Valentine of Heideman Studio won first prize. Her piano solo was "Sonetto 104 De Petrarca." Mr. Lemuel L. Johnson, a member of the graduate chapter, was the master of ceremony.

Art exhibits painted by members of the House of Commons were on display in the auditorium lobby.

Many thanks to those who contributed to the success of our program.

—Ernest M. Clemons

Chosen to reign as Miss Zeta Phi Beta for 1968-69 is Miss Joy Atkinson. Joy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Atkinson of Wilson, North Carolina.

After graduating from Speight High School, Miss Atkinson decided to come to WSSC because she thought it would be a challenge.

Basically a very warm hearted person, Joy is a history minor and an elementary education major. After graduation this June, she would like to attend graduate school.

—William L. Richardson

COLLEGE ISSUES . . .

(Continued from Page One)

the accused is exonerated or if there is no appeal. In other cases appeal may be taken to the President. Such appeal shall be solely on the records of the proceedings before the Investigating Committee. All appeals must be made within two weeks of the date of the original hearing. Arguments on appeal shall be submitted in writing, but the President may in addition require oral argument.

It is the aim of the college to work with students for their total welfare and development. This is done neither through fear nor distrust. Therefore, unrest should be defined and brought into the open honestly, and a feasible solution should be sought.

To clarify the use of terms, the following definitions shall be established:

Demonstration — a public display of feelings toward a person or a cause.

Protest — a complaint, objection, or display of antagonism toward an idea or course of action.

Picketing — the posting of individuals for a demonstration or protest.

Interference — the act of hampering, obstructing, interposing, or blocking the normal operations of the college.

Disruptive — inducing the breach of the peace or public order of the campus, either physically, orally, or through threats, insults or intimidation.

Destructive — random display of violent disorder characterized by inflicting physical injury to persons, misusing, damaging, mutilating, or destroying property.

Unauthorized occupancy — unwarranted, unsanctioned, illegal entry and holdings of college property.

CORRECTION

We incorrectly reported last issue that the new Enrichment Center was administratively related to the college guidance department. There is no direct relationship between these offices.

Beauty Personified

Phyllis Scales admires the work of a sculptor.

Fellowships Available

Ten fellowships for black students who want to begin or continue graduate study leading to a Ph.D. at Washington University (St. Louis) have been announced by the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences at the University.

Stipends ranging from $2,000 to $2,500 for a regular academic year plus tuition support up to $2,100 will be offered to each student awarded a fellowship. The awards are available for students seeking to study in the 36 departments of the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences including those in the sciences, social sciences, humanities, and the life sciences.

Preference will be given to candidates eligible to begin graduate study next September, but the Graduate School is encouraging prospective candidates, including Peace Corps volunteers and returning military veterans who might be available at other times in the academic year to apply. Suitable arrangements can be made for fellowship applicants who are unable to meet the September entrance deadline.

Interested applicants are asked to send a brief sketch of their educational history and graduate study interests to Dean Ralph E. Morrow, Graduate School of Arts and Sciences, Box 1187, Washington University, St. Louis, Mo. 63130.

Clark Judges Science Fair

Archie T. Clark, associate professor of chemistry, acted as a judge in the regional high school science fair held Saturday, March 22, at Wake Forest University.

This was the first time Mr. Clark served as a science fair judge, although he was involved in several regional and state science fairs and one international fair when he taught at E. E. Smith high school in Fayetteville.

Students under his sponsorship won several first places in regional science fairs, one first place in the North Carolina state science fair and one recognition at the 1967 international fair.

You have to look for the "W" because it's silent

How to Wrecognize a Wreal Wrangler.

Most Wrangler® jeans have the "W" stitched on in plain sight, but other kinds of Wranglers are a little more modest. They're made just as well and they fit just as well, but the "W" is tucked away on a tag or label. You'll find it's worth looking for.

These sportback slacks, $7.00. And the jeans $5.50. Both permanently pressed and creased. All in carefree Fortrel polyester and cotton. Shirts from $4.00 to $5.00.

Wrangler® Jeans and Sportswear in Celanese Fortrel.

Jeromes — Winston-Salem
Paul R. Rose — Winston-Salem
Millers Variety Store — Winston-Salem
Belk-Steven — Winston-Salem