NC Legislature Outlines Fees

Student Fees Announced

The North Carolina State Legislature recently passed the fees for state-supported institutions for the 1972-73 school year. These fees show a slight increase for out-of-state students. This increase, according to WSSU President, Dr. Kenneth R. Williams, is due to the fact that the state does not appropriate funds for auxiliary services (health services, dining hall, student union, laundry, and dormitories) at any of its institutions. As a result, money for the support of these services must come from student fees. Dr. Williams further stated that wages, medicine, and the like have gone up and this further necessitates an increase in student fees.

Plans will be drawn this summer for air-conditioning and enlarging the work areas in the dining hall. It is hoped that this construction can be completed next summer. Student waste and destruction of property were also listed as factors causing the increase. Many day students and non-students eat in the dining hall without paying for their meals, and this cost must be collected in student fees. Students also take glasses and other items from the dining hall making it necessary to buy additional utensils. "Students must co-operate," said Dr. Williams, "to cut down on fees."

Below is a list of the total charges for students for the 1972-73 term:

Boarding Students:
N. C. — $1,274.00
Out-of-state: $2,674.00
Day Students:
N. C. — $472.00
Out-of-state: $1,872.00

These figures mark a $48.00 increase for N. C. boarding students, a $12.00 increase for N. C. day students, a $448.00 increase for out-of-state boarding students, and a $412.00 increase for out-of-state day students. Because of the large increase in out-of-state fees, the trustees of the institution plan to petition the next legislature through the Board of Governors to make a reduction.

Make Your Summer A Meaningful Experience

Winston-Salem State University held its annual Honors Day Program Wednesday, May 10 at 10 a.m. in the Whitaker Gymnasium on the university campus. Speaker for the occasion was Maynard H. Jackson, vice mayor of the city of Atlanta. Jackson, in a prepared speech to an audience of several hundred, stated that one must determine whether achievement is significant for one's self and his children. He pointed out that we are faced with many forms of hypocrisy in our society and that we must be aware of this. Jackson stated that while racism is a problem in this country it is not the ultimate problem. He went on to say that the ultimate problem is the difference that lies between the "haves" and the "have-nots" in this society. Along this vein Jackson stated that while the concept of Black Capitalism is good, Black Capitalism per se is not a panacea if this is the only means envisioned. Jackson said he sees politics and the use of the ballot as powerful means to accomplish many goals as well as establishing coalitions with low income whites whose goals are similar to those of Blacks.

In closing, Jackson congratulated the students for their academic achievements and told them that academic excellence is also a form of power they can use throughout life. Following Jackson's presentation Winston-Salem mayor pro tem, Carl H. Russell presented Jackson with a key to the city.

The highlight of the Honors Day Program was the presentation of plaques to students having the highest cumulative average by classes and departments. University President Kenneth R. Williams presented plaques to students having the highest cumulative average by departments. Recipients of these awards were Brenda Taylor of Chatham, Va. in art; Bertha Clark, Mocksville in business administration, Ozella Pruitt of Cooleemee in business education, John

WSSU President Receives Danforth Award

DR. WILLIAMS

Winston-Salem State University President, Dr. Kenneth R. Williams, was among 20 college and university administrators recently selected to receive a short-term leave grant from the Danforth Foundation. The grant enables each recipient to take a leave from his institution of two to four months in length. The Foundation provides up to $5,000 for the expenses incurred during the leave for the recipient and spouse. The recipient's institution is expected to continue his salary for the period of the leave. President and Mrs. Williams have decided to travel around the world.

News Argus Contributes To Development Fund

The News Argus recently contributed $100.00 to the WSSU Development Fund in support of the 1972 Annual Fund Campaign. This contribution entitled The News Argus to a wooden 16" x 20" plaque with a Ram in red plush and WSSU across the plaque. The newspaper's name will be inscribed on a small gold plate to be sealed to the bottom of the plaque.

The 1972 Annual Fund Campaign was officially launched on Unity Day in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania on March 25, 1972. The Board of Directors of the Winston-Salem State University Foundation, Inc. at its January, 1972 meeting decided to boost the campaign by awarding plaques to contributors. According to the Development Fund Director, Dr. W. Archie Blount, the plaques are being presented to contributors who pledge and pay at least $100.00 during 1972. This is a special project designed in an effort to achieve the one hundred thousand dollar goal.

"The purpose of the grants," according to the director of the short-term leave grant program, William C. Nelson, "is to provide opportunities for college and university administrators to enlarge their perspectives of current and future educational issues and to reinforce the administrators leadership capabilities in higher education." Nelson further stated that, "Through this program, the Danforth Foundation hopes to assist a number of individuals who, while having past accomplishments, hold promise for continued significant leadership for higher education."

The grants are intended for presidents and principal academic officers of junior colleges, four-year colleges and universities. In selection, preference is given to individuals who have served at least five years in their present position, or in a similar position but who are not yet within five years of retirement. Selection is by invitation rather than application.

The Danforth Foundation, created by the late Mr. and Mrs. William H. Danforth in 1927, is a philanthropy concerned primarily with people and values. Presently the foundation focuses its activities in two major areas, education and the city. In these areas, the foundation administers programs and makes grants to schools, colleges, universities, and other public and private agencies.
