CLARENCE JONES

C. Jones to Deliver Commencement Address

Clarence Jones who is presently the president of the Winston-Salem State University Alumni Association and in the mayor's office of Human Rights in Boston, Massachusetts, will deliver the commencement address at the annual commencement exercises at Winston-Salem State University. The exercises will be held Sunday, May 12, at three o'clock p.m. in the Memorial Coliseum.

Jones earned the bachelor of science degree in 1955 from WSSU and holds the master of arts degree in counseling from Northeastern University.

Mr. Jones' previous work experience includes his serving as executive director of the Youth Opportunities Program of Boston and also as the executive director of the Youth Activities Commission of Boston and a former leader in the Boston public school system, and probation officer for the Boston Juvenile Court.

He has been involved in many activities relating to his community. For example he has membership on the executive board of directors of Roxbury's Boys' Club, chairman of the Roxbury Scholarship Fund. He is currently a member of the advisory board of Justice Administration.

Senior activities were scheduled for the week beginning May 6 and ending May 11. The seniors will have a splash party, picnic and a special game room night.

May 10 marked the WSSU Alumni Association induction of the seniors into the alumni chapter and they were the guests of the alumni at a dance following the ceremony in the ballroom of the student union.

Saturday, May 11, seniors will be guests of the alumni at an Alumni Day luncheon which will be held at 1 p.m. in Kennedy on campus. The seniors had a buffet dinner-dance at the Hilton Inn.

Sunday, May 12, Chancellor and Mrs. Kenneth Williams will give a luncheon for seniors and their guests. The senior activities will culminate with commencement exercises.

University Honors Several Retirees

This university in a previous ceremony paid tribute to four retiring employees of the university at a banquet. The banquet was held in Hauser Student Union. The theme for the event was entitled "Golden threads of Memory." Honorees for the event were Mrs. Frances Coble, registrar, Thomas R. Conrad, associate professor of health and physical education, Mrs. Clara B. Lawrence, associate professor of nursing and Archie Love of the maintenance department.

Mrs. Coble received her formal education in the public schools in Denver. She earned her B.A. and M.A. Degrees from the University of Northern Colorado. She has been employed in the services of this university for 38 years. She began her formal years of service under Dr. Francis Atkins, a former president of the university, who was then registrar. She became the university registrar in 1938 and holds this position presently.

Mrs. Coble is active in many professional and community activities. Some of the organizations of which she is a member are the North Carolina Association of Collegiate Registrars and Admissions Registrars, and Admissions Officers and membership on the board of the Winston-Salem Symphony.

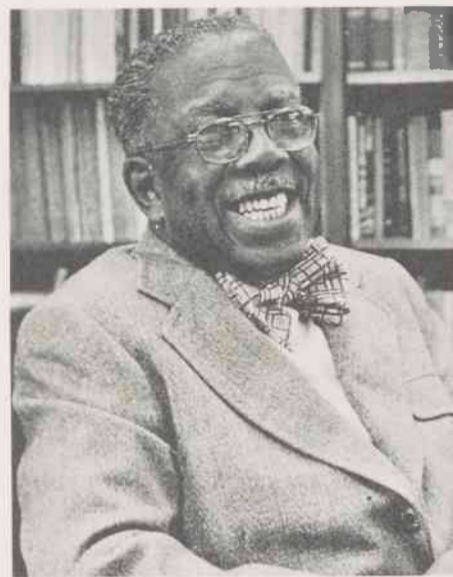

Mr. Conrad has been employed at the university for 35 years. He earned his M.S. degree from New York University. He has served as head coach of the athletic department and coach at Delaware State College in Dover. In August 1949 he came to Winston-Salem and joined the WSSU faculty of the university as associate professor of health education. Later he became assistant coach, baseball and golf coach. Upon retirement Conrad and his wife plan to return to Roselle Park, New Jersey.

Williams Discusses Expansion Plan

CHANCELLOR K. WILLIAMS

We have successfully ended another academic year. I have stated on previous occasions that our new auditorium should be ready for occupancy by December of this year. Thus far we have not experienced any delays which would cause us to be behind in this effort. However, if any unforeseen problems develop in this area you will be informed.

We have concluded our housing management education course which we offered as a result of the increased demand for and interest in training managers of public housing programs. Some of you took the course and received a brief background of what housing management entails during the eight week period the course was offered. We are discussing plans with the department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) to establish a housing management institute on the university campus. If the Institute is approved it is anticipated that it will serve the entire southeastern region in the training of housing managers. We will know by the fall if our ideas have been accepted by HUD.

Beginning this fall three new majors will be added to the university curriculum, Urban Affairs, Medical Technology, and Applied Science. Other majors may be added to our curriculum during the spring. With respect to campus expansion we are presently in the preliminary planning stages of designing our additions to the gymnasium. As we make more progress in this effort please be assured that you will be informed.

September 1 of this year Winston-Salem State University along with the other 15 constituent institutions of the University of North Carolina will submit a five year long range plan to the General Administration of the University of North Carolina in Chapel Hill.

It is my intention to submit a fifteen year plan with detail planning for the first five years and general plans for the next ten years. We are presently finalizing our efforts in this area.

To the graduates I again extend my congratulations and join with the faculty in wishing you success in your chosen career. As Alumni the university will look to you for support and loyalty in all our efforts.

If the university family can assist you in any way do not hesitate to call on us.

We plan to keep you informed of all our plans which will include an enlarged physical plant, curriculum expansion, and an increase in student body enrollment. As Alumni we want you to be aware of our growth and our goals.

To all of you I wish a restful and enjoyable summer. To those of you who will be returning in the fall we anticipate having another successful year with you.
